Chairman Reed Congratulated

Chairman Daniel Reed (R.-N.Y.), left, of the House Ways and Means Committee, receives the congratulations of Rep. Charles Halleck (R.-Ind.), right, after House passage of a bill trimming 912 million dollars a year from wide range of excise taxes. With them is Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins (R.-Ohio). The bill, largely written in Reed's commitee, calls for the first general excise tax cut in more than 20 years. It now goes to the Senate. (AP Wirephoto).

Excise Tax Bill to Get Senate OK

House Gives Approval By Big Vote; Some Are to Be Extended for 1955

Washington, March 11 (AP)—A bill to slash about 25 federal excise taxes by 912 million dollars has won overwhelming House passage and today appeared likely to get swift Senate approval, too.

The House sent the measure to the Senate yesterday by a 411-3 vote despite opposition from the Eisenhower administration.

The cuts, represented the first major downward revision of the excises or sales taxes in 20 years, would add almost a billion dollars to a deficit already forecast by the President at $2,900,000,000 for the year starting July 1.

The bill also includes something the administration wants and had figured into its budget for fiscal 1955—extensions of some steeper excises voted after the Korean War began. The treasury would lose another $1,070,000,000 in revenue if these were to expire April 1 as scheduled.

Passage Minus Changes

Sen. George (D.-Ga.), senior Democrat on the tax-writing Finance Committee, said in an interview he expects the Senate to pass the House bill with little or no change.

Several Republicans on the committee said they would go along with the excise reductions.

Chairman Milliken (R.-Colo.) of the Finance Committee declined to disclose his position. But he said he would call his group together promptly, perhaps tomorrow, to start work on the bill, against the approaching expiration date.

There were indications today that the administration, which had hoped at least to scale down the excise reductions in the Senate, might instead wind up trying to head off further revenue losses.

George said in the interview that he would not try to attach to the excise bill his proposal for a drastic cut in personal income taxes by raising exemptions of each taxpayer and his dependent.

Would Save for Revision

He said he would save this for the 875-page general tax revision measure which the House starts to debate next Wednesday.

But other Democratic senators who want the exemptions boosted said privately they may offer an amendment to accomplish this when the excise bill gets to the floor.

They said also that they may seek to cut more excises, such as those on television and radio sets.

President Eisenhower announced yesterday that he would make a nationwide telecast and broadcast next Monday to tell the country about the administration's position on taxes. No time was announced.

This was interpreted at the Capitol as an effort to head off any increase in personal income tax exemptions rather than to block the cuts in the 25 excises.

The first major test on the income tax exemptions is expected to come next Thursday in the House. There the Democrats plan to try to revise the tax revision to boost exemptions to $700 which would reduce revenue about $2,400,000,000 a year.

Bill Wins Approval

Albany, March 11 (AP)—A bill to let cities take more time in repaying bonds financing parking facilities won final legislative approval in the Assembly today. The measure would permit cities that construct parking facilities to issue bonds covering land, buildings and meters on a 15-year basis. The present limit is five years.

Three State Aides Had Stock Interests But Not Improper

Bromley Says No Discredit Is Reflected; One Is Dewey Appointee Schoenfeld

New York, March 11 (AP)—State harness race probers reported today that three state employes—one an appointee of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey—had track stock interests but that the commission found nothing improper in their stockholdings.

Chairman Bruce Bromley of the Moreland Act Commission investigating the state's huge trotting track industry said the commission did not wish to "cast the slightest reflection or discredit" on the three persons.

He identified them as:

John L. Schoenfeld of New York city, a member of the Commission of Correction. Bromley told reporters that this commission "must not be confused with the Department of Correction."

A. C. Silverman of Syracuse, a clinical professor at the Syracuse Medical School, a state institution.

George D. Thomas of 230 Atlantic avenue, Lynbrook, Long Island, an inspector of the Alcohol Beverage Control Board in Nassau county.

Cites Big Job

Bromley said that some weeks ago, Gov. Dewey asked the commission to advise him if any member of the governor's administration, or other state employe, had any stock interest in the state's eight harness tracks.

Bromley added that it was "a task of very considerable proportions, as anyone can see," to check on more than 80,000 connected with the state government.

Discussing the three individuals found to have track interests, Bromley said the Dewey appointee, Schoenfeld, was one of six or seven members of the Commission of Correction.

Bromley said the function of the commission is to visit and inspect state prisons. The compensation, he added, is $11.50 a day for meetings and inspections "and cannot exceed $1,150 a year under the law."

Bromley said Schoenfeld owns 500 shares of the non-voting stock of the Algam Corp., which owns the Yonkers Raceway.

These 500 shares, Bromley added, are among a "total of 527,000 shares outstanding of non-voting Algam stock."

"So Mr. Schoenfeld's interest is very small," said the Racing Commission chairman.

Named to Commission

Schoenfeld was appointed to the Commission of Correction by former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman in 1934 and "subsequently was reappointed by Gov. Dewey."

"The commission unanimously finds his ownership not improper and he cannot be criticized in the slightest respect," said Bromley.

Thomas was found to have been the owner of 210 shares of old Country Trotting Assn. stock, but sold it on March 8, Bromley reported. Old Country owns Roosevelt Raceway at Westbury, Long Island.

As for Silverman, Bromley said, he owns 1,000 stock shares and $30,000 worth of bonds of the Mid-State Racing Assn., which conducts racing meets at Vernon Downs, Vernon, N. Y.

Senator Will Talk Tonight; Will Touch on Charges

Washington, March 11 (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), nailing down the chance to make tonight the first broadcast reply to Adlai E. Stevenson, got the jump on an administration drive to lure the spotlight away from him.

The senator, still insisting he is entitled to free television and radio time over the networks which carried Stevenson's party speech last Saturday, announced he will make a "partial" reply tonight (7 p. m.) on the Mutual Radio network.

That will be two days before the official GOP reply by Vice President Nixon.

McCarthy will appear on the 15-minute show of commentator Fulton Lewis, Jr. McCarthy said it would be a "question and answer—mostly answer" affair. He said it would touch on criticism of him by both Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate in 1952, and by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.)

Granted Free Time

NBC and CBS, which carried Stevenson's speech from Miami, Fla., have granted free time to the Republican National Committee for reply. The committee, which beat McCarthy to the draw in requesting it, chose Nixon as the GOP speaker.

President Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday he regarded the networks' decision as a fair arrangement. He said he heartily concurred in selection of Nixon. High GOP sources earlier had said the President handpicked Nixon.

Eisenhower also said, in commenting on Flanders' Senate criticism of McCarthy, that there is danger in "magnifying certain items of procedure and right and personal aggrandizement . . . to the point where we are endangering the program of action that all the leadership is agreed upon . . ."

The White House later granted permission to quote the President directly. News conference remarks normally may not be so quoted.

C. S. Thomas Is Nominated for Post

Washington, March 11 (AP)—Charles Sparks Thomas of Los Angeles, now an assistant secretary of defense, was nominated by President Eisenhower today to be secretary of the navy.

Thomas would succeed Robert B. Anderson, of Texas, who has been nominated to be deputy secretary of defense in place of Roger Kyes who is leaving the Pentagon May 1 to return to private business.

No successor to Thomas in his present job has yet been chosen. He is the assistant secretary of defense for supply and logistics.

Vessels Are Used To Spot Aircraft Off Atlantic Coast

Two-Month Test Held for Link With U. S. Ground Observer Forces

Roslyn, March 11 (AP)—Details of the first organized effort to use as aircraft spotters the hundreds of large and small vessels sailing off the Atlantic coast were announced today.

The air force, with cooperation from the coast guard, has successfully completed a 60-day test of a plan linking selected Atlantic coastal vessels by radio-telephone with the ground observer corps.

The test was announced by Brig. Gen. James W. McCauley, commander of the 26th Air Division (defense), which has headquarters in this Long Island community.

He said that by next summer an estimated 1,000 coastal vessels will extend the eyes and ears of the aircraft warning network more than 250 miles to sea along the entire east coast.

McCauley's Division is responsible for the air defense of nine eastern states. The preliminary test, which was held during December and January, involved 250 vessels including pleasure craft and commercial fishermen and—in a limited area—coastal freighters.

Cooperates in Test

Council Is Summoned To Session

Aldermen Will Consider Proposal Tuesday on Call of Mayor; Cash Saving Seen

Acceptance by the city of the New York State Building Code has been recommended by the City Planning Board, and Mayor Frederick H. Stang today called a special meeting of the Common Council for Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. to consider the proposal.

The planning board adopted a resolution at its Tuesday meeting after a discussion with two associates of the New York State Building Code Commission.

The board's statement issued today said: "A substantial saving of taxpayers money would result from the adoption of this code in that monies would not have to be spent in preparing a building code, and in amending of such code, and, what is more important it gives them what authorities acclaim as the best code ever prepared."

Hopes for Early Action

Mayor Stang, who said notices of the special meeting "are going out today," added, "It is hoped that early action will be taken, if the proposed building code meets with the approval of the Common Council." He said he felt that adoption of the code would be "a step in the right direction to standardize building operations."

In view of what is planned for the city's future, he said, adoption of the code, should be timely and helpful and should fill a long-needed want. He felt that the sooner action is taken the better it will be for the city.

The planning board's statement noted that "A simple resolution is all that is required for acceptance of the code, thus affording all advantages of the State Code Commission's services without cost to the community. After one year of accepted applicability of the code, a community may withdraw from application of the code."

Met With Group

The statement said the board met Tuesday with the mayor, Judge Hamilton Hicks, counsel, and Capt. Arthur J. Benline, technical director of the State Building Code Commission.

The meeting was held, it said, "after a study of several local building codes; the Building Officials Conference of America Code, National Board of Fire Underwriters, National Underwriters, and the State Building Code as drafted by the commission with which Judge Hicks and Capt. Benline are associated. It is the consensus of the planning board that the state building code is the one most suited to Kingston."

Judge Hicks, explaining the commission, said the state legislature had authorized it in 1949 to draft a performance code, which may be accepted or rejected as a municipality sees fit. Appeals to the commission would be heard in the locality where such appeal arises, the commission sending in an official to adjudicate the case.

Capt. Benline, president of the Building Officials Conference of America, former New York city building inspector, and former U. S. Navy captain, said that 107 communities in New York state are now using the state code, the only code which provides a handbook, making it easier for officials to interpret and enforce.

The statement noted that the State Building Code Commission provides municipalities with an up-to-date building code, a unique illustrated handbook, known as a code manual. It shows ways of comforming with the code. The book, the only one of its kind in existence, makes it easy for local building officials to interpret and enforce the code, and for architects, engineers and builders to design and build under the code.

Board May Get $400 Proposal

Minimum Teacher Salary Suggested of $3,200, Maximum at $5,200

At a special meeting of the board of education this evening it is expected a new salary schedule for teachers will be presented and recommended for adoption by the board.

From a reliable source today it was reported the committee would recommend to the board an increase of $400 per year on the minimum salary schedule, bringing the minimum from the present $2,800 to $3,200 with a maximum of $5,200. It is believed also that there will be a recommendation for a change in the present step advancement to bring about a quicker increase in the salary schedule.

$2.73 Tax Indicated

No announcement has been made to the public or to the teacher groups indicating the extent of the proposed salary schedule but from a source which in the past has been reliable, it was indicated the increase in the tax rate, should the proposed salary schedule be adopted, would be approximately $2.73 for $1,000 of assessed valuation. This increase in the school tax rate indicates the reported scale of from $3,200 to $5,200 is approximately correct.

April 20 Is Date For Opening Bids

The New York State Bridge Authority yesterday adopted a resolution authorizing the advertising for bids on the substructure of the Kingston-Rhinebeck bridge.

As announced by James F. Loughran earlier this week, the advertisements are not to appear until next Monday. The bids will be opened at 2 p. m., April 20 in the authority's office on Ferry street.

Senate to Vote Statehood Status

Alaska Will Find Out Whether Hopes to Go With Hawaii

Washington, March 11 (AP)—Alaska finds out today whether its statehood hopes are to be coupled with those of Hawaii.

The Senate scheduled a vote on a Democratic move to tie Alaska to the pending bill, passed by the House last year, to admit Hawaii to the union.

Observers predicted the outcome would be close. The amendment, offered by Sen. Anderson (D.-N.M.), is backed almost solidly by Democrats. Republicans, with few exceptions, are expected to oppose it.

Chairman Hugh Butler (R.-Neb.) of the Senate interior committee, yesterday called Anderson's move a "political trick" to defeat Hawaii statehood.

Given Assurances

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, has given assurances that the Alaska bill will be given Senate consideration soon, possibly this month, but Democrats say that isn't enough.

At his news conference yesterday, President Eisenhower urged consideration of statehood for the two territories individually on their merits.

But Sen. Jackson (D.-Wash.) reiterated Democratic arguments that a single bill to provide admission of Alaska will be brought to the floor of the House. An Alaska statehood bill, approved by the House interior committee last summer, rests in the rules committee there.

Mele Is Acquitted

New York, March 11 (AP)—Petro Francesco Mele, Italian movie director, was acquitted today on a charge of assaulting a policeman in the Park avenue apartment of Mrs. Brenda Frazier Kelly, former glamor debutante. A three-man court split 2 to 1 in finding him innocent of kicking Patrolman Duncan Christie Nov. 10. Testimony yesterday was that Mele wanted a "good night" drink, but that the pretty brunette said "no," whereupon an argument developed and police were called.

Schwable Testifies After Court Voices Warning to Him

Colonel Told of Being Suspected of Aiding Enemy While Prisoner

Washington, March 11 (AP)—Col. Frank H. Schwable took the witness stand today after being warned by the marine court of inquiry that he was suspected of aiding or attempting to aid the enemy, disobeying navy regulations and conduct tending to bring discredit on the naval service.

The slim marine airman answered in a firm, clear voice that he took the stand voluntarily, after the president of the court voiced the warning.

Schwable is before the court of inquiry, now in its fourth week, in a proceeding to determine whether formal charges should be brought against him because of his confession, while a prisoner of the Communists in Korea, that the United States engaged in germ warfare. He repudiated the confession when he was freed.

Anxious to Testify

Schwable's counsel, Col. Paul D. Sherman, said Schwable was anxious to testify in his own behalf because he is the "one person in a civilized country who is able to give the facts" about his 14-month confinement and the calculated Communist methods which produced the false confession.

Before Schwable took the stand the court read into the records the efforts made by the marine corps and the navy to obtain five air force witnesses, all of whom were captured in Korea.

The record showed the marine corps had offered to hear the air force men in secret session, but that the air force had finally ruled that they could not testify in any fashion until after completion of a secret investigation the air force is now making into the cases of some 60 officers and men who either confessed to germ warfare or might be implicated in other prohibited actions while prisoners of the enemy.

Schwable testified that upon his return to the United States late in September of last year he did not know about what he described as the "harsh attitude" that his superiors might take against him.

Gets More Surgery

Washington, March 11 (AP)—Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich.), seriously wounded when Puerto Rican fanatics shot up the House March 1, underwent surgery again last night. The emergency operation, performed about 10 p. m., was to close a wound in the abdominal wall that had come apart, the congressman's aide, Elwood Brake, said today. Brake quoted Dr. Joseph Young, Casualty Hospital chief of staff, as saying that Bentley's condition suffered a "slight setback" as a result of the operation. Bentley, 35, has been in a serious condition since the shooting. His liver was shattered by a bullet which also pierced a lung and his stomach. He underwent extensive surgery in the first 24 hours after the shooting.

Accident That Hospitalized Thruway Worker

The condition of Frank B. Homans, 49, Saugerties, was reported as "good" today at Kingston Hospital, where he is being treated for injuries and burns suffered Wednesday morning when this huge steam-driven pile driver capsized on Thruway construction in Tillson, crashing through two 4,000-volt high tension wires and three telephone wires, which service the Rifton area. Homans was thrown out the back end of the cab, it was reported. (Freeman photo)

Secret Committee Declares Dock Strike Will Continue

New York, March 11 (AP)—One hundred and twenty-five longshoremen defied a crowd of hooting pickets and marched to work on a freighter pier in Lower Manhattan today for the first break in a seven-day-old wildcat strike that has hamstrung port activities.

Yells and catcalls by 100 pickets greeted the group, but a dozen foot patrolmen, two mounted and two motorcycle policemen stood by at the head of Pier 3 and there was no violence. A newly arrived United Fruit ship was moored alongside to be unloaded.

The longshoremen who went to work were said to be members of the AFL International Longshoremen's Assn. The waterfront tieup has been caused by defiant members of the rival Independent Longshoremen's Association, ignoring a court order and the plea of leaders to return to work.

The Pier 3 pickets carried handprinted signs which read: "No Contract, No Work. ILA Rank and File Independents."

Elsewhere on the Manhattan waterfront the labor lockup continued.

The general shutdown also finally spread to Brooklyn, where many piers have been in operation previously. Today there was only scattered activity, with most dock operations at a standstill.

Although regular union officials called for end of the wildcat walkout several days ago, they have been obeyed only on the Brooklyn waterfront, where operations were reported normal.

Yesterday a secret rank-and-file committee of 70 members of the Independent ILA announced it was sponsoring the strike and declared the walkout would continue until their union is certified as bargaining agent for the port's 24,000 dock workers.

Report Is Made

New York, March 11 (AP) — A secret rank-and-file committee says the outlaw waterfront strike here will continue until the International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) is certified as bargaining agent for the port's 24,000 longshoremen.

The committee of 70 ILA members has announced itself as sponsor of the strike, now in its seventh day.

Seven members of the committee held an interview yesterday under conditions of extreme secrecy. Members of the committee refused to identify themselves to newsmen, saying they feared the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission would

Gruenther Discounts War, Says U.S. Can Make Decision

Philadelphia, March 11 (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, supreme allied commander in Europe, expressed confidence last night that there will be no Third World War because he now feels "we have it in our power to make that decision."

Gen. Gruenther told the final session of the Eighth Annual Philadelphia Bulletin Forum that the North Atlantic Treaty organization countries have attained what he termed "a substantial posture of strength" in Europe. He said it is sufficient to provide a shield against "any hotheaded act."

Gruenther said the U. S. and allied powers are not now in a position in Europe "to meet an all-out Russian attack if they should make a determined effort." But he added "we do have a force in being now which is probably more than the Russians can handle with the forces that they have in occupied Europe."

"The statement I made last year that I feel World War 3 is not going to take place," Gruenther said, "I reiterate again with even more confidence because I feel that we have it in our power to make that decision."

Council Is Summoned To Session

Aldermen Will Consider Proposal Tuesday on Call of Mayor; Cash Saving Seen

Acceptance by the city of the New York State Building Code has been recommended by the City Planning Board, and Mayor Frederick H. Stang today called a special meeting of the Common Council for Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. to consider the proposal.

The planning board adopted a resolution at its Tuesday meeting after a discussion with two associates of the New York State Building Code Commission.

The board's statement issued today said: "A substantial saving of taxpayers money would result from the adoption of this code in that monies would not have to be spent in preparing a building code, and in amending of such code, and, what is more important it gives them what authorities acclaim as the best code ever prepared."

Hopes for Early Action

Mayor Stang, who said notices of the special meeting "are going out today," added, "It is hoped that early action will be taken, if the proposed building code meets with the approval of the Common Council." He said he felt that adoption of the code would be "a step in the right direction to standardize building operations."

In view of what is planned for the city's future, he said, adoption of the code, should be timely and helpful and should fill a long-needed want. He felt that the sooner action is taken the better it will be for the city.

The planning board's statement noted that "A simple resolution is all that is required for acceptance of the code, thus affording all advantages of the State Code Commission's services without cost to the community. After one year of accepted applicability of the code, a community may withdraw from application of the code."

Met With Group

The statement said the board met Tuesday with the mayor, Judge Hamilton Hicks, counsel, and Capt. Arthur J. Benline, technical director of the State Building Code Commission.

The meeting was held, it said, "after a study of several local building codes; the Building Officials Conference of America Code, National Board of Fire Underwriters, National Underwriters, and the State Building Code as drafted by the commission with which Judge Hicks and Capt. Benline are associated. It is the consensus of the planning board that the state building code is the one most suited to Kingston."

Judge Hicks, explaining the commission, said the state legislature had authorized it in 1949 to draft a performance code, which may be accepted or rejected as a municipality sees fit. Appeals to the commission would be heard in the locality where such appeal arises, the commission sending in an official to adjudicate the case.

Capt. Benline, president of the Building Officials Conference of America, former New York city building inspector, and former U. S. Navy captain, said that 107 communities in New York state are now using the state code, the only code which provides a handbook, making it easier for officials to interpret and enforce.

The statement noted that the State Building Code Commission provides municipalities with an up-to-date building code, a unique illustrated handbook, known as a code manual. It shows ways of comforming with the code. The book, the only one of its kind in existence, makes it easy for local building officials to interpret and enforce the code, and for architects, engineers and builders to design and build under the code.

Board May Get $400 Proposal

Minimum Teacher Salary Suggested of $3,200, Maximum at $5,200

At a special meeting of the board of education this evening it is expected a new salary schedule for teachers will be presented and recommended for adoption by the board.

From a reliable source today it was reported the committee would recommend to the board an increase of $400 per year on the minimum salary schedule, bringing the minimum from the present $2,800 to $3,200 with a maximum of $5,200. It is believed also that there will be a recommendation for a change in the present step advancement to bring about a quicker increase in the salary schedule.

$2.73 Tax Indicated

No announcement has been made to the public or to the teacher groups indicating the extent of the proposed salary schedule but from a source which in the past has been reliable, it was indicated the increase in the tax rate, should the proposed salary schedule be adopted, would be approximately $2.73 for $1,000 of assessed valuation. This increase in the school tax rate indicates the reported scale of from $3,200 to $5,200 is approximately correct.

April 20 Is Date For Opening Bids

The New York State Bridge Authority yesterday adopted a resolution authorizing the advertising for bids on the substructure of the Kingston-Rhinebeck bridge.

As announced by James F. Loughran earlier this week, the advertisements are not to appear until next Monday. The bids will be opened at 2 p. m., April 20 in the authority's office on Ferry street.

Gets More Surgery

Washington, March 11 (AP)—Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich.), seriously wounded when Puerto Rican fanatics shot up the House March 1, underwent surgery again last night. The emergency operation, performed about 10 p. m., was to close a wound in the abdominal wall that had come apart, the congressman's aide, Elwood Brake, said today. Brake quoted Dr. Joseph Young, Casualty Hospital chief of staff, as saying that Bentley's condition suffered a "slight setback" as a result of the operation. Bentley, 35, has been in a serious condition since the shooting. His liver was shattered by a bullet which also pierced a lung and his stomach. He underwent extensive surgery in the first 24 hours after the shooting.

Colonel Told of Being Suspected of Aiding Enemy While Prisoner

Washington, March 11 (AP)—Col. Frank H. Schwable took the witness stand today after being warned by the marine court of inquiry that he was suspected of aiding or attempting to aid the enemy, disobeying navy regulations and conduct tending to bring discredit on the naval service.

The slim marine airman answered in a firm, clear voice that he took the stand voluntarily, after the president of the court voiced the warning.

Schwable is before the court of inquiry, now in its fourth week, in a proceeding to determine whether formal charges should be brought against him because of his confession, while a prisoner of the Communists in Korea, that the United States engaged in germ warfare. He repudiated the confession when he was freed.

Anxious to Testify

Schwable's counsel, Col. Paul D. Sherman, said Schwable was anxious to testify in his own behalf because he is the "one person in a civilized country who is able to give the facts" about his 14-month confinement and the calculated Communist methods which produced the false confession.

Before Schwable took the stand the court read into the records the efforts made by the marine corps and the navy to obtain five air force witnesses, all of whom were captured in Korea.

The record showed the marine corps had offered to hear the air force men in secret session, but that the air force had finally ruled that they could not testify in any fashion until after completion of a secret investigation the air force is now making into the cases of some 60 officers and men who either confessed to germ warfare or might be implicated in other prohibited actions while prisoners of the enemy.

Schwable testified that upon his return to the United States late in September of last year he did not know about what he described as the "harsh attitude" that his superiors might take against him.

Senate to Vote Statehood Status

Alaska Will Find Out Whether Hopes to Go With Hawaii

Washington, March 11 (AP)—Alaska finds out today whether its statehood hopes are to be coupled with those of Hawaii.

The Senate scheduled a vote on a Democratic move to tie Alaska to the pending bill, passed by the House last year, to admit Hawaii to the union.

Observers predicted the outcome would be close. The amendment, offered by Sen. Anderson (D.-N.M.), is backed almost solidly by Democrats. Republicans, with few exceptions, are expected to oppose it.

Chairman Hugh Butler (R.-Neb.) of the Senate interior committee, yesterday called Anderson's move a "political trick" to defeat Hawaii statehood.

Given Assurances

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, has given assurances that the Alaska bill will be given Senate consideration soon, possibly this month, but Democrats say that isn't enough.

At his news conference yesterday, President Eisenhower urged consideration of statehood for the two territories individually on their merits.

But Sen. Jackson (D.-Wash.) reiterated Democratic arguments that a single bill to provide admission of Alaska will be brought to the floor of the House. An Alaska statehood bill, approved by the House interior committee last summer, rests in the rules committee there.

Mele Is Acquitted

New York, March 11 (AP)—Petro Francesco Mele, Italian movie director, was acquitted today on a charge of assaulting a policeman in the Park avenue apartment of Mrs. Brenda Frazier Kelly, former glamor debutante. A three-man court split 2 to 1 in finding him innocent of kicking Patrolman Duncan Christie Nov. 10. Testimony yesterday was that Mele wanted a "good night" drink, but that the pretty brunette said "no," whereupon an argument developed and police were called.

Accident That Hospitalized Thruway Worker

The condition of Frank B. Homans, 49, Saugerties, was reported as "good" today at Kingston Hospital, where he is being treated for injuries and burns suffered Wednesday morning when this huge steam-driven pile driver capsized on Thruway construction in Tillson, crashing through two 4,000-volt high tension wires and three telephone wires, which service the Rifton area. Homans was thrown out the back end of the cab, it was reported. (Freeman photo)

Secret Committee Declares Dock Strike Will Continue

New York, March 11 (AP)—One hundred and twenty-five longshoremen defied a crowd of hooting pickets and marched to work on a freighter pier in Lower Manhattan today for the first break in a seven-day-old wildcat strike that has hamstrung port activities.

Yells and catcalls by 100 pickets greeted the group, but a dozen foot patrolmen, two mounted and two motorcycle policemen stood by at the head of Pier 3 and there was no violence. A newly arrived United Fruit ship was moored alongside to be unloaded.

The longshoremen who went to work were said to be members of the AFL International Longshoremen's Assn. The waterfront tieup has been caused by defiant members of the rival Independent Longshoremen's Association, ignoring a court order and the plea of leaders to return to work.

The Pier 3 pickets carried handprinted signs which read: "No Contract, No Work. ILA Rank and File Independents."

Elsewhere on the Manhattan waterfront the labor lockup continued.

The general shutdown also finally spread to Brooklyn, where many piers have been in operation previously. Today there was only scattered activity, with most dock operations at a standstill.

Although regular union officials called for end of the wildcat walkout several days ago, they have been obeyed only on the Brooklyn waterfront, where operations were reported normal.

Yesterday a secret rank-and-file committee of 70 members of the Independent ILA announced it was sponsoring the strike and declared the walkout would continue until their union is certified as bargaining agent for the port's 24,000 dock workers.

Report Is Made

New York, March 11 (AP) — A secret rank-and-file committee says the outlaw waterfront strike here will continue until the International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) is certified as bargaining agent for the port's 24,000 longshoremen.

The committee of 70 ILA members has announced itself as sponsor of the strike, now in its seventh day.

Seven members of the committee held an interview yesterday under conditions of extreme secrecy. Members of the committee refused to identify themselves to newsmen, saying they feared the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission would

Philadelphia, March 11 (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, supreme allied commander in Europe, expressed confidence last night that there will be no Third World War because he now feels "we have it in our power to make that decision."

Gen. Gruenther told the final session of the Eighth Annual Philadelphia Bulletin Forum that the North Atlantic Treaty organization countries have attained what he termed "a substantial posture of strength" in Europe. He said it is sufficient to provide a shield against "any hotheaded act."

Gruenther said the U. S. and allied powers are not now in a position in Europe "to meet an all-out Russian attack if they should make a determined effort." But he added "we do have a force in being now which is probably more than the Russians can handle with the forces that they have in occupied Europe."

"The statement I made last year that I feel World War 3 is not going to take place," Gruenther said, "I reiterate again with even more confidence because I feel that we have it in our power to make that decision."

Rent Commission Guarantees Boost

Albany, March 11 (AP)—The temporary state commission on rents moved today to guarantee landlords of business and commercial properties in New York city a full 15 per cent increase over rents in effect on Jan. 1, 1947.

The commission headed by Republican Assemblyman Joseph F. Carlino of Nassau county introduced, through the Assembly Rules Committee, legislation designed to insure the full increase.

The commission also recommended:

1. Extension of the business and commercial rent laws, which apply only to New York city, for another year—until July 1, 1955.

2. Authorizing eviction of parking lot operators whose tenancy stands in the way of "substantial new building."

The 16-member commission said no further suggestions for law changes would be ready for the 1954 Legislature. The commission said its technical staff still was working on a statewide survey of rental conditions.

No changes were proposed for the residential rent control law, which expires June 30, 1955. The law applies to New York city, its suburban counties and some heavily populated counties upstate.

Program Is Planned

Albany, March 11 (AP)—New York Air National Guard plans a $1,500,000 building program—to be financed with federal funds—on a 40-acre tract north of the Niagara Falls Municipal Airport, Maj. Gen. Karl F. Hausauer, commanding general, said yesterday.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

The Ruminator, as you know, has been consistently contrary to the no-more-inflation idea.

It would be difficult to think of any economic prediction which it would be safer to venture than "more inflation lies ahead."

The economic philosophy of both the Congress and the President seems definitely to remain New Dealish (Keynesian). Lip service is paid to the conservative desirability of balancing budgets, making "the dollar sound," and placing the government debt in the hands of private borrowers. The President likes to repeat that he is liberal in his attitude toward human beings but conservative in his economics. No doubt he is, at heart, but there are few conservatives among the politically minded gentry in Washington.

Unfortunately, as we are now situated, politics and inflation go hand in hand.

Consider a few figures. As estimated, the budget—looking ahead a year—will run at a deficit of nearly three billions dollars. (The figure used is $2.9 billion.)

That assumes no radical changes in taxes beyond those already allowed to lapse. But, supposing the ideas of several Senators of both parties (including the conservative Senator George of Georgia) become law? If personal exemptions are increased only $200 (which we would all enjoy, naturally) this is estimated to add some $4.6 billion to the deficit!

President Eisenhower has implied that he would favor some relief to taxpayers if the "recession" continues beyond March or April. (However, I wouldn't put too much faith in these "dates" which are bruited about. I think the talk about a given month is mere political ammunition to let the public feel that the Administration is on the ball and watching things carefully. When March and April are well along the Administration can report that conditions appear fairly encouraging, so they will "look on" for another month or two. They can keep postponing decisions until either (1) nothing need be done to stimulate a recovery, or (2) until it is too late to stop the recession from spiraling down.)

The point in all this is that an inflationary shot-in-the-arm is still the most popular "cure" for any threatened downturn in our prosperity.

True, Treasury Secretary Humphrey is dead set against easing taxes. He believes in holding firm. But his wishes and recommendations are not likely to have much influence in the Congress if prominent senators of both parties decide to play footsie with taxpayers in an election year. You will have to admit that a hike in exemptions and a good boost to business would both be popular during the months just ahead. In November, you know, there are very important congressional elections. Very important indeed, because the Republicans could lose control of both House and Senate.

When you look at various markets where speculators back their guesses with real money you get an idea that "something" must be helping the rise along.

The stock market continues to forge ahead into "new highs" (measured by the popular Dow-Jones industrial stock index) although countless people think, and have thought, that prices are too high. In the commodity markets, too, prices have been climbing steadily. The Dow-Jones index of "commodity futures" has run up better than 12 points in the short space of three months (Dec., Jan., and Feb.) Naturally, such a rise is not wholly due to the increase in coffee prices. A year ago this index stood at about 165. Today it is above 175.

This is not to say that all prices have been rising. They haven't. Some industrial raw materials have been weak. But even in these prices there has been a tendency toward firmness of late. The Ruminator "guessed" some weeks ago that the comprehensive wholesale price index would tend to work higher again this year. This is in sharp contrariness to many forecasters; but it still looks like a good guess to me.

In sum, it seems to me that it is unrealistic to expect the American economy to run along smoothly on a "stabilized basis." Economic affairs simply do not stand still. They go up or down. And in order to prevent a downturn of serious proportions the simplest remedy to try first is always inflation—regardless of the fact that in the long run inflation is more likely to be a "killer" than a "healer" of a nation's economy. It is like a drug, history demonstrates.

Emergency Road Was Built in 1777

Tuxedo Park, March 11 (AP)—The mud bottom of a drained lake has disclosed a half-mile stretch of an emergency military highway which George Washington had his engineers build 176 years ago.

The "corduroy" road of split hardwood logs was sighted yesterday after drainage of Lake Wee Wah was completed in this Orange county community.

According to historians, Washington had a 4½-mile road built through thickets and marshes to guarantee communication between West Point and northern New Jersey in case the main turnpike was cut off south of here by the British.

In 1777, Washington's headquarters was in Morristown, N. J., 25 miles to the southwest.

About a century ago, the Ramapo mountain woodlands closed in on the road. Then, in the 1880's, the spring-fed marsh in the area was dammed to create Lake Wee Wah.

The lake was drained to provide more acreage for the Tuxedo Park Golf Club, which lost 14 holes of its course because of land taken over for construction of the New York super-highway—the thruway—now under construction.

The remnant of the log road isn't in good condition, being brittle and partly rotted from some 70 years under water. But it's there for everyone to see.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

The Ruminator, as you know, has been consistently contrary to the no-more-inflation idea.

It would be difficult to think of any economic prediction which it would be safer to venture than "more inflation lies ahead."

The economic philosophy of both the Congress and the President seems definitely to remain New Dealish (Keynesian). Lip service is paid to the conservative desirability of balancing budgets, making "the dollar sound," and placing the government debt in the hands of private borrowers. The President likes to repeat that he is liberal in his attitude toward human beings but conservative in his economics. No doubt he is, at heart, but there are few conservatives among the politically minded gentry in Washington.

Unfortunately, as we are now situated, politics and inflation go hand in hand.

Consider a few figures. As estimated, the budget—looking ahead a year—will run at a deficit of nearly three billions dollars. (The figure used is $2.9 billion.)

That assumes no radical changes in taxes beyond those already allowed to lapse. But, supposing the ideas of several Senators of both parties (including the conservative Senator George of Georgia) become law? If personal exemptions are increased only $200 (which we would all enjoy, naturally) this is estimated to add some $4.6 billion to the deficit!

President Eisenhower has implied that he would favor some relief to taxpayers if the "recession" continues beyond March or April. (However, I wouldn't put too much faith in these "dates" which are bruited about. I think the talk about a given month is mere political ammunition to let the public feel that the Administration is on the ball and watching things carefully. When March and April are well along the Administration can report that conditions appear fairly encouraging, so they will "look on" for another month or two. They can keep postponing decisions until either (1) nothing need be done to stimulate a recovery, or (2) until it is too late to stop the recession from spiraling down.)

The point in all this is that an inflationary shot-in-the-arm is still the most popular "cure" for any threatened downturn in our prosperity.

True, Treasury Secretary Humphrey is dead set against easing taxes. He believes in holding firm. But his wishes and recommendations are not likely to have much influence in the Congress if prominent senators of both parties decide to play footsie with taxpayers in an election year. You will have to admit that a hike in exemptions and a good boost to business would both be popular during the months just ahead. In November, you know, there are very important congressional elections. Very important indeed, because the Republicans could lose control of both House and Senate.

When you look at various markets where speculators back their guesses with real money you get an idea that "something" must be helping the rise along.

The stock market continues to forge ahead into "new highs" (measured by the popular Dow-Jones industrial stock index) although countless people think, and have thought, that prices are too high. In the commodity markets, too, prices have been climbing steadily. The Dow-Jones index of "commodity futures" has run up better than 12 points in the short space of three months (Dec., Jan., and Feb.) Naturally, such a rise is not wholly due to the increase in coffee prices. A year ago this index stood at about 165. Today it is above 175.

This is not to say that all prices have been rising. They haven't. Some industrial raw materials have been weak. But even in these prices there has been a tendency toward firmness of late. The Ruminator "guessed" some weeks ago that the comprehensive wholesale price index would tend to work higher again this year. This is in sharp contrariness to many forecasters; but it still looks like a good guess to me.

In sum, it seems to me that it is unrealistic to expect the American economy to run along smoothly on a "stabilized basis." Economic affairs simply do not stand still. They go up or down. And in order to prevent a downturn of serious proportions the simplest remedy to try first is always inflation—regardless of the fact that in the long run inflation is more likely to be a "killer" than a "heeler" of a nation's economy. It is like a drug, history demonstrates.

Emergency Road Was Built in 1777

Tuxedo Park, March 11 (AP)—The mud bottom of a drained lake has disclosed a half-mile stretch of an emergency military highway which George Washington had his engineers build 176 years ago.

The "corduroy" road of split hardwood logs was sighted yesterday after drainage of Lake Wee Wah was completed in this Orange county community.

According to historians, Washington had a 4½-mile road built through thickets and marshes to guarantee communication between West Point and northern New Jersey in case the main turnpike was cut off south of here by the British.

In 1777, Washington's headquarters was in Morristown, N. J., 25 miles to the southwest.

About a century ago, the Ramapo mountain woodlands closed in on the road. Then, in the 1880's, the spring-fed marsh in the area was dammed to create Lake Wee Wah.

The lake was drained to provide more acreage for the Tuxedo Park Golf Club, which lost 14 holes of its course because of land taken over for construction of the New York super-highway—the thruway—now under construction.

The remnant of the log road isn't in good condition, being brittle and partly rotted from some 70 years under water. But it's there for everyone to see.

THAT AWFUL WEATHER

In an area used to fairly hard winters, with cold winds and snow lasting several days at a time, the last two winters have been mild. People have been getting about much as they do in summer. So when a heavy snowfall occurred recently, disrupting pleasant habits, the gripes were loud and bitter. Grandma remarked:

"I can take a lot of tales about how hard it was to dig the car out, how late the bus, how cold on the corner. What I am tired of is that people talk as if the weather were malevolent—'this horrible weather.' Have they forgotten the drouth of summer? Don't they want food and wool next year?"

Grandma remembered well the farm drouths of her youth. She knew the horse car, unheated, with straw on the floor to keep the feet from freezing.

Weather may be heavy, hard to face. Every climate has bad times of some sort. One reason why her region has become so prosperous and progressive is that the climate is hard. Weather changes from month to month, from hour to hour. Settlers had to adjust themselves or leave or die. Here were no softening influences. Hard days strengthen the muscles of body and soul. They breed courage and endurance.

A little griping does no harm—it's humorous, takes discomfort with the light touch. A flick of fear is natural and useful. It makes man conscious of his need for strength, for prayer, that reaching out for union with divine power.

The man who sails a ship in stormy seas must work with wind and wave or lose life and ship. So must fail every man who tries to fight God and Nature. But he who produces and saves food, fuel, clothing provided by his earth to keep warm and sheltered when the winds blow will save life and reason.

Then when the thaw begins, snow water flows down to moisten and nourish the soil and man sees that without it there is no help for another winter, he becomes conscious of the balance of nature. As ever-recurring spring begins to glow he finds that it strengthens his faith. God and the universe are good to those who use them for good.

A weekly magazine pictures a wedding held under water. Probably the first time a pair of young people ever had their heads in the clouds and under water at the same time.

WORLD FANATICS AND SECURITY

There is a popular notion that if we just take the right measures we can protect ourselves perfectly against Communist, spies, terrorists, and the like. Unhappily, no system of vigilance is perfect.

You may point to the Soviet Union and say that no terrorist plots have succeeded there. That is true. But we do not really know how many may have been tried. Furthermore, in many instances such plots are hatched only when the product of success would be a significant change in a country's course of governing.

So far as we know today, the spirit of revolt necessary to bring about that change does not exist in Russia.

The story in Nazi Germany was different. A plot carried out in a country at war could produce a government that would sue for peace and change the picture mightily. So the incentive was great.

Germany was a police state like Russia. Government agents were everywhere. Their domestic spy network was organized on a neighborhood basis, and it led through the whole government structure itself. You could imagine no less likely place for a successful plot to overthrow the government.

Yet on July 20, 1944, a German general walked into Hitler's eastern headquarters carrying a bomb in a brief case. He planted it beneath a long, heavy table where Hitler was standing with other officers. When it exploded it did severe damage to the room, and wounded Hitler and other officers. Hitler escaped death only because the heavy table took the worst shock of the bomb.

If that can happen in so severely policed a country as Nazi Germany, one would be foolish to say it could not occur in America. The recent Puerto Rican shooting is a reminder that we must take better precautions than we do.

But we must not think that the multiplication of policemen and FBI agents will give us ironclad security against the fanatic and the plotter.

The average value of a parking space these days is at least twenty thousand dollars, it has been figured on the basis of revenue produced. With the space worth more than the car itself, no wonder it is so hard to find a place to park.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

HARASSMENT

I was thumbing through an issue of "Life" magazine to look at the pictures and there big as a skyscraper was a picture of David Schine, filling most of the page, all stiff and stern like a Coldstream Guard on parade.

Schine is a plain G.I. without frills, learning to be a military cop, doing a 16-week period of basic training, his nose rubbed in the muck just to show him that all men are equal in the Army, except those who are coddled, and he is not being coddled. At Fort Dix, he was made into a celebrity by the Army cooperating with Left-Wing journalists; at Camp Gordon, at any rate, he is in a proper military atmosphere.

But does he have to be a model for a picture magazine too? What part of the military training is that? David Schine, I am sure, did not want to be a model for Harry Luce. Who in Washington ordered the command at Camp Gordon to require a soldier to be a Luce model? Schine is a pawn in a political game, in a fight among politicians. Who in the Army can require a soldier to pose like a bathing beauty for a private magazine that makes money out of pictures?

David Schine was conscripted into the Army at the age of 26. He is a Harvard graduate, an executive of a large hotel and movie house corporation. He had served a year overseas in the Army Transport Service. He has had a long experience as Chief Consultant for the McCarthy Committee without salary. He initiated and carried through the successful Voice of America Investigation and he started the Fort Monmouth Investigation. His career on the record makes him definite officer material.

Because of his connection with the McCarthy Committee, and only for that reason as I know, he was not given a chance that has been given to thousands of similarly placed young men to be an officer. So he went in as a G.I. Does he have to be selected out of millions of troops for press conferences and photographs and modelling? There is a pointed harassment in all this that seems unfair. What does one have to do to be protected these days, join the Communist Party?

Schine was yanked into the Army while he was actively engaged in an investigation of the Army. Schine was not given time to complete his work. An investigation might be made to find out how many young men at this particular time were given delays for one reason or another. The Senate committee made arrangements with the Army for a member of its staff to visit Schine off hours to go over matters which Schine was handling and he was given some weekends to complete the job.

The Left-Wing press made a hullabaloo about all this. Their reporters were creeping all over Fort Dix, interviewing everyone from generals to privates to uncover any special privileges for Schine. Then they found that he was wearing his own boots and that was bandied about as though it had never happened before. When he was sent to Camp Gordon in Georgia, it was assumed that Schine would be free from the taint of having served his country against the Communists. Perhaps he would be permitted to clean latrines in peace. Maybe his next operation will be to sit for a portrait of the best-dressed M.P. Or maybe, he might serve on a Judo team in a vaudeville house!

Had Schine not worked on the McCarthy Committee, had he stayed quietly in the hotel business, the likelihood is that nobody would have yanked him into the Army at this time when there is no war and foot-soldiers are mostly an expense. Be that as it may, the reason that he has become a subject for notoriety is that the Left-Wing press reporters in Washington, devoting themselves to splitting the Republican Party, scare the wits out of Army officials. The impression even goes the rounds that Schine was a hostage to keep McCarthy in line.

McCarthy did not respond to that and Schine got a rought deal with no privileges, no exceptions, not even an acknowledgment of his education, experience and undoubted abilities.

This is written to keep the record straight, although there is more to tell.

CORRECTING SPEECH DEFECTS

I have spoken before about a schoolmate whom we spoke of as tongue-tied because of a severe impediment in his speech. Despite his disability he was not ridiculed, because he had a great reputation as a fighter if anyone tried to mimic him. I was told that his tongue was tied so far back in his mouth that this caused his defective speech and I wondered why his parents did not have his tongue cut loose. Today, no youngster has to go through the misery of being ridiculed in the schoolyard as we have speech correction experts who can help the great majority of these cases. The defects are treated as early as possible so that the youngster will not develop an inferiority complex.

In Postgraduate Medicine, Dr. Harlon Bloomer discusses the responsibility of child specialists to children with speech defects. "Advice concerning the care of children whose speech is defective should be generally available to parents, through their child specialist or family physician. Unfortunately family physician and child specialist alike have been prone to rely on the comforting but often mistaken prediction "Let him go; he'll outgrow it."

As a matter of fact, children do not outgrow their speech defects and, by the time they have been brought to the speech therapist, precious years have been lost and irreparable damage may have been done. The informed physician can render invaluable assistance to these children in the prevention or treatment of their individual speech problems.

Dr. Bloomer points out that one of the distressing things about speech defects—severe or mild—is that the child, his parents, his teachers and playmates cannot help but evaluate the abnormal speech. This evaluation is usually to the child's discredit and he has to live with these playmates and their discredit because of his speech defect. "He is more than likely to develop a low estimate of his personal worth sometimes to the extent that his initiative, such as taking part in games or other school activities is prevented. He is handicapped because of his lack of normal speech. His educational achievements are likely to be hampered by his feelings of inferiority and his difficulty in class recitations." Thus I have spoken before of the difficulties of a classmate who stuttered although he was the brightest student in the classroom.

"Ooh La La!"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington, (NEA) — Harold Russell, former president of AMVETS, was one of the featured speakers for Washington's Brotherhood Week, observances sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews. He was late leaving New York for LaGuardia Field, and as he jumped into a taxi, he urged the driver to hurry so that he wouldn't miss his plane.

Russell is perhaps best known as the Academy Award winning star of "The Best Years of Our Lives." The taxi driver didn't recognize him as such, but did notice the two hooks which Russell has had to use as the result of losing both hands in the war.

The driver asked Russell if he would mind a personal question. Russell said of course not. Well, the driver wanted to know, did he have any trouble using those hooks?

"None at all," said Russell. "My only trouble right now is getting to the airport in time to catch that plane."

The taxi increased speed to 40 miles an hour.

"All of us have something wrong with ourselves one way or another," philosophized the driver as he pushed his car up to 50. "Now take me, for instance. I don't see very well."

Overpowering Speech

Pentagon sources are quietly trying to debunk the recent speech of Rep. W. Sterling Cole of New York, chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, in which he described the fantastic power of the hydrogen bomb.

"They made the same kind of statements about the power of atomic bombs," says one Pentagoner, "but when we got to really testing it carefully, we found it wasn't nearly the tremendous thing they claimed it was. We think the H-bomb will turn out the same way."

New Red Props

Air force intelligence officers rushed to the offices of Aviation Week magazine the other day when that publication printed two photographs of brand-new turbo-prop Russian bombers. The turbo-prop is a combination of jet and propeller power which both the U. S. Air Force and Navy are trying hard to perfect.

The pictures showed a six-engine plane called the TU-200 and a four-engine bomber called the IL-38. They are supposed to be the latest in Soviet bombers, but Air Force intelligence apparently had no comparable information on them. The magazine gladly gave out copies of the photos, but would not reveal how it got the originals.

The most disturbing thing about the pictures to the Air Force was that they showed a big blister under the nose of the planes. What that indicated was that the Russians might have something similar to the U. S. Air Force's very efficient and supersecret radar bombing system.

Part-Time Farmer

The number of farmers who don't work at farming full time and depend on other jobs for part of their income is rapidly increasing, according to Department of Agriculture surveys. Thirty years ago only one farmer in 10 was a "part-timer." Now the ration is one in four.

Anyone who works at a non-farm job for 100 days a year or more is considered a part-time farmer. The total number is now over 1,600,000. Most of them are found near towns, where other jobs are available, or near coal-mining areas which don't provide a full year's work.

Bunch of Softies

Lt.-Gen. Leslie R. Groves, first head of the U. S. atomic bomb production program during the war, now a Remington-Rand veep, says Americans have grown too soft to take an atomic bomb attack.

"We all, with few exceptions, lead too comfortable lives," General Groves told the Delaware Engineering Society. "This means that in time of war there will be even a greater percentage of our people who will not have the will to keep fighting and struggling when the going gets tough."

Farm Surplus Plan

Paul McIlvaine, assistant chief of the Graphic section in Veterans Administration, has come up with still another idea for getting rid of U. S. farm surpluses. The McIlvaine plan is to issue food stamps to people now drawing Social Security benefits, to make the surplus foods available to them at 33 cents on the dollar. McIlvaine says his plan would reduce the food surpluses, cut the government's cash outlay for Social Security, increase the income of pensioners, and people on relief.

Eisenhower and GOP Will Deserve Great Credit if Tax Measure Passes

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 11—Fair play for the American taxpayer is in sight. For more than 40 years, since the federal income-tax law was passed, the courts have at times narrowly construed the words of the tax statutes contrary to the intent of Congress. But never until this week has a bill finally been presented to Congress to correct these inequities and injustices.

The average citizen isn't familiar with the many benefits that are to come to him when the bill is passed and probably never will be till he comes squarely up against the contingencies that it is designed to meet. But the provisions of the general revision of the interal revenue code cover 900 printed pages and comprise a multitude of points—everything from partnerships to estates and trusts, as well as the deductions or tax allowances permitted to corporations and individuals on a wide variety of subjects.

The Eisenhower administration and the Republican party will deserve great credit if the measure goes through both houses because, while Democratic administrations in the past have recognized the need for the revision, they have always allowed it to be dropped at the last moment in favor of legislation centering on tax rates. Much constructive work has been done by the experts in the Treasury Department and by the joint Internal Revenue Committee of Congress in past years, but time and again it has all been for naught as the measure has gotten entangled in a drive for changes in specific rates. It became customary to postpone action till the next session, so that in the end nothing was done, though both Democrats and Republicans always said they favored it.

This time the Eisenhower administration is concentrating not on rates but on correcting mistakes and clarifying all sorts of decisions, including some that have been contradictory inside the Internal Revnue Service. The importance of this revision of the code to businessmen and tax lawyers generally can hardly be overestimated. It will be of tremendous value, too, to the staffs of the collectors of internal revenue, who have been obliged to follow rulings in some instances which they themselves recognized as inequitable but which they could do nothing to change, being bound by previous interpretation.

None of this would probably be necessary if Congress could write clearly into law phrases that cover every possible contingency. But too often the Bureau of Internal Revenue, in writing "regulations" designed to carry out the meaning of the law, has made some farfetched interpretations which have been unfavorable to the taxpayer. The philosophy that the government is always right and the taxpayer is always wrong has governed too much of the bureau's thinking in the past.

Not many of the disputed points, relatively speaking, have been carried to the courts on appeal, but many that have been overruled have never been clarified so that a regulation would in itself be overturned. What the proposed law does is to take into account the court decisions and the existing code. By a set of new interpretations, the true meaning of the law now is stated.

All this may sound technical to the citizen, who naturally isn't familiar with the fine points of tax law, but it can mean hundreds of millions of dollars in benefits to the taxpayer annually—both individuals and businesses.

There is included in the same general tax bill a number of new provisions, such as correction of the inequity in double taxation of dividends, and there are also some new rules on depreciation allowances on machinery and plants. Some of these will face a legislative fight, and there is certain to be an effort by the Democrats to tack on an increase in personal exemptions from $600 to $700. This is opposed by the administration, because it is a phony move. It can hardly produce any substantial benefit to the economy and, compared with the opportunity to stimulate capital investment in business, such exemptions can never be as effective on the job-creating side as the depreciation allowances, for example. The adoption of many sound and constructive items will go by the boards if demagoguery prevails.

It is a curious thing that the Democratic party, which has always had a conservative wing, should be lining up on the side which would propose an unsound amendment, such as the tax-exemption plan. This would cost the treasury $2,500,000,000. If the national economy could be stimulated by such a provision, it would be unobjectionable, but the obvious purpose of the proponents of the exemption scheme is to kill the relief for double taxation of dividends. The private-capital system cannot function effectively unless investment is stimulated by a fair return to the investor.

When risk capital is available, employment increases far beyond anything the tax-exemption plan can accomplish. The Communist and Socialist philosophies are conceded to be antagonistic to the private-capital system, but it is strange to note how often the Democrats in Congress take the anti-capitalistic side of the argument and how many times the Republicans appear as the stanch defenders of the system of free enterprise. Maybe the voters some day will learn to ask candidates for Congress where they stand on such basic issues.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, March 10—I never worked on a New England paper, but I have clattered through so many of those pretty mill-towns with slim, white steeples presiding over village greens that I know the region as well as almost any Yankee does. They sent down many fine reporters and/or writers to the New York papers and, of course, Boston journalism is practically all down east.

A notable exception that I think of is Bill Cunningham, who belted a hundred pianos to kindling in bistros and YMCA's behind the lines in the First One, went to Dartmouth, made Walter Camp's All America, married Doris and went native. Bill writes as long as a hack-driver's dream and that comment, coming from Pegler, will give you an idea that here is a fellow who really has trouble getting his flaps down. Bill comes from a wide-spot in a side road in Texas, but I have always suspected carpet-baggery in his ancestry because he speaks with the accent of a Bowdoin Don.

New England journalism on the whole was so dreary for so long that there is little lore in this gaunt and bloodless breed outside Boston, New Haven, Providence and Bridgeport.

This is a way of sidling up to an episode of Yankee journalism comparable to the normal ribaldries of the wild scamps of Denver from the time of Gene Field down to the day that Damon Runyon left town.

John T. Flynn, a professional Angry Man of high renown, was city editor of the New Haven Register, an afternoon paper, about the time of World War 1 and one of the gentry of the trade. For John Day Jackson, the proprietor, a business man as distinguished from a consecrated journalist, seems to have had an eye for a promising colt and gave him $25 a week.

There was a bitterly comic legend in Vermont and New Hampshire that the hours were from eight to four and the wages from four to eight. However, a reporter was expected to line up a clientele of candidates for the city council, the legislature and the county offices and keep their names pleasantly in print for honoraria of $2 to $5 a week. This traffic would hoist the income of a not-too-bashful scribe up to $20 and nobody thought any the less of anyone. In Minneapolis, reporters and desk-men got cases of beer, suits and groceries by a similar process and thousands of miles of railroad passes or "mileage" which had a discount value with the scalpers down near the stations.

Mr. Flynn also recalls that a society editor got $12 in New Haven but only at the cost of salacious gossip. Lean and hungry waifs from Rutland and Manchester were always sifting into town to connect with that lush New Haven pay scale. His relations with Mr. Jackson conformed to the norm of the Class Struggle and, in recalling the accident which finally and permanently endeared this Captain of Industry to a perpetually frantic rebel, he speaks with a condescending respect.

Mr. Jackson was always fussing around the composing room, always trying to rush the paper to press so as to beat the two other evening papers to the carrier routes and the corners. That was normal competition, to be sure, but the aesthetes of the trade always tried to restrain such sordidness if it meant sending a paper down incomplete. They had two editions on the Register. The one called the Wall Street edition was a distillation of the Wall Street Journal which was cut up into little smitches and passed across the desk to rewrite on the end of John's long shears, to be disguised in new verbiage.

"There was a rich friend of the management who lived in Southern Pines in the winter," Mr. Flynn says, "who always insisted that we mail down to him the remainder of our office copy of the Wall Street Journal. He said it made no sense to waste a nickel on another whole copy, and the postage was only 2 cents. It usually looked like one of those old-fashioned, screen-door fly-swatters by the time we got through with it, but he was content so the arrangement was not unpleasant."

One afternoon Mr. Jackson was unusually impatient because Mr. Flynn, presiding over page one in the composing room, insisted on waiting for a bulletin of an important war development.

"He would grab at the table to rush it over to the elevator and I would pull it back and yell, 'no, no; is isn't finished.' Finally, he determined not to lose one more street sale by this senseless delay. So over my cries he rushed it over to a little elevator which he used to carry the forms down to the cellar where they made the mats and castings. I yelled that the form wasn't even locked, but he gave the table a final shove through the opening. I put my hands over my eyes. Reason tottered. There was a hell of a crash below. The elevator wasn't there."

"Were you fired?"

"No," Mr. Flynn said. "Mr. Jackson gave me one awful, stricken look. Then he ran to his office, put on his hat and disappeared. I didn't see him again for two weeks."

THAT AWFUL WEATHER

In an area used to fairly hard winters, with cold winds and snow lasting several days at a time, the last two winters have been mild. People have been getting about much as they do in summer. So when a heavy snowfall occurred recently, disrupting pleasant habits, the gripes were loud and bitter. Grandma remarked:

"I can take a lot of tales about how hard it was to dig the car out, how late the bus, how cold on the corner. What I am tired of is that people talk as if the weather were malevolent—'this horrible weather.' Have they forgotten the drouth of summer? Don't they want food and wool next year?"

Grandma remembered well the farm drouths of her youth. She knew the horse car, unheated, with straw on the floor to keep the feet from freezing.

Weather may be heavy, hard to face. Every climate has bad times of some sort. One reason why her region has become so prosperous and progressive is that the climate is hard. Weather changes from month to month, from hour to hour. Settlers had to adjust themselves or leave or die. Here were no softening influences. Hard days strengthen the muscles of body and soul. They breed courage and endurance.

A little griping does no harm—it's humorous, takes discomfort with the light touch. A flick of fear is natural and useful. It makes man conscious of his need for strength, for prayer, that reaching out for union with divine power.

The man who sails a ship in stormy seas must work with wind and wave or lose life and ship. So must fail every man who tries to fight God and Nature. But he who produces and saves food, fuel, clothing provided by his earth to keep warm and sheltered when the winds blow will save life and reason.

Then when the thaw begins, snow water flows down to moisten and nourish the soil and man sees that without it there is no help for another winter, he becomes conscious of the balance of nature. As ever-recurring spring begins to glow he finds that it strengthens his faith. God and the universe are good to those who use them for good.

A weekly magazine pictures a wedding held under water. Probably the first time a pair of young people ever had their heads in the clouds and under water at the same time.

WORLD FANATICS AND SECURITY

There is a popular notion that if we just take the right measures we can protect ourselves perfectly against Communist, spies, terrorists, and the like. Unhappily, no system of vigilance is perfect.

You may point to the Soviet Union and say that no terrorist plots have succeeded there. That is true. But we do not really know how many may have been tried. Furthermore, in many instances such plots are hatched only when the product of success would be a significant change in a country's course of governing.

So far as we know today, the spirit of revolt necessary to bring about that change does not exist in Russia.

The story in Nazi Germany was different. A plot carried out in a country at war could produce a government that would sue for peace and change the picture mightily. So the incentive was great.

Germany was a police state like Russia. Government agents were everywhere. Their domestic spy network was organized on a neighborhood basis, and it led through the whole government structure itself. You could imagine no less likely place for a successful plot to overthrow the government.

Yet on July 20, 1944, a German general walked into Hitler's eastern headquarters carrying a bomb in a brief case. He planted it beneath a long, heavy table where Hitler was standing with other officers. When it exploded it did severe damage to the room, and wounded Hitler and other officers. Hitler escaped death only because the heavy table took the worst shock of the bomb.

If that can happen in so severely policed a country as Nazi Germany, one would be foolish to say it could not occur in America. The recent Puerto Rican shooting is a reminder that we must take better precautions than we do.

But we must not think that the multiplication of policemen and FBI agents will give us ironclad security against the fanatic and the plotter.

The average value of a parking space these days is at least twenty thousand dollars, it has been figured on the basis of revenue produced. With the space worth more than the car itself, no wonder it is so hard to find a place to park.

'These Days'

HARASSMENT

I was thumbing through an issue of "Life" magazine to look at the pictures and there big as a skyscraper was a picture of David Schine, filling most of the page, all stiff and stern like a Coldstream Guard on parade.

Schine is a plain G.I. without frills, learning to be a military cop, doing a 16-week period of basic training, his nose rubbed in the muck just to show him that all men are equal in the Army, except those who are coddled, and he is not being coddled. At Fort Dix, he was made into a celebrity by the Army cooperating with Left-Wing journalists; at Camp Gordon, at any rate, he is in a proper military atmosphere.

But does he have to be a model for a picture magazine too? What part of the military training is that? David Schine, I am sure, did not want to be a model for Harry Luce. Who in Washington ordered the command at Camp Gordon to require a soldier to be a Luce model? Schine is a pawn in a political game, in a fight among politicians. Who in the Army can require a soldier to pose like a bathing beauty for a private magazine that makes money out of pictures?

David Schine was conscripted into the Army at the age of 26. He is a Harvard graduate, an executive of a large hotel and movie house corporation. He had served a year overseas in the Army Transport Service. He has had a long experience as Chief Consultant for the McCarthy Committee without salary. He initiated and carried through the successful Voice of America Investigation and he started the Fort Monmouth Investigation. His career on the record makes him definite officer material.

Because of his connection with the McCarthy Committee, and only for that reason as I know, he was not given a chance that has been given to thousands of similarly placed young men to be an officer. So he went in as a G.I. Does he have to be selected out of millions of troops for press conferences and photographs and modelling? There is a pointed harassment in all this that seems unfair. What does one have to do to be protected these days, join the Communist Party?

Schine was yanked into the Army while he was actively engaged in an investigation of the Army. Schine was not given time to complete his work. An investigation might be made to find out how many young men at this particular time were given delays for one reason or another. The Senate committee made arrangements with the Army for a member of its staff to visit Schine off hours to go over matters which Schine was handling and he was given some weekends to complete the job.

The Left-Wing press made a hullabaloo about all this. Their reporters were creeping all over Fort Dix, interviewing everyone from generals to privates to uncover any special privileges for Schine. Then they found that he was wearing his own boots and that was bandied about as though it had never happened before. When he was sent to Camp Gordon in Georgia, it was assumed that Schine would be free from the taint of having served his country against the Communists. Perhaps he would be permitted to clean latrines in peace. Maybe his next operation will be to sit for a portrait of the best-dressed M.P. Or maybe, he might serve on a Judo team in a vaudeville house!

Had Schine not worked on the McCarthy Committee, had he stayed quietly in the hotel business, the likelihood is that nobody would have yanked him into the Army at this time when there is no war and foot-soldiers are mostly an expense. Be that as it may, the reason that he has become a subject for notoriety is that the Left-Wing press reporters in Washington, devoting themselves to splitting the Republican Party, scare the wits out of Army officials. The impression even goes the rounds that Schine was a hostage to keep McCarthy in line.

McCarthy did not respond to that and Schine got a rought deal with no privileges, no exceptions, not even an acknowledgment of his education, experience and undoubted abilities.

This is written to keep the record straight, although there is more to tell.

Part-Time Farmer

The number of farmers who don't work at farming full time and depend on other jobs for part of their income is rapidly increasing, according to Department of Agriculture surveys. Thirty years ago only one farmer in 10 was a "part-timer." Now the ration is one in four.

Anyone who works at a non-farm job for 100 days a year or more is considered a part-time farmer. The total number is now over 1,600,000. Most of them are found near towns, where other jobs are available, or near coal-mining areas which don't provide a full year's work.

Bunch of Softies

Lt.-Gen. Leslie R. Groves, first head of the U. S. atomic bomb production program during the war, now a Remington-Rand veep, says Americans have grown too soft to take an atomic bomb attack.

"We all, with few exceptions, lead too comfortable lives," General Groves told the Delaware Engineering Society. "This means that in time of war there will be even a greater percentage of our people who will not have the will to keep fighting and struggling when the going gets tough."

Farm Surplus Plan

Paul McIlvaine, assistant chief of the Graphic section in Veterans Administration, has come up with still another idea for getting rid of U. S. farm surpluses. The McIlvaine plan is to issue food stamps to people now drawing Social Security benefits, to make the surplus foods available to them at 33 cents on the dollar. McIlvaine says his plan would reduce the food surpluses, cut the government's cash outlay for Social Security, increase the income of pensioners, and people on relief.

Eisenhower and GOP Will Deserve Great Credit if Tax Measure Passes

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 11—Fair play for the American taxpayer is in sight. For more than 40 years, since the federal income-tax law was passed, the courts have at times narrowly construed the words of the tax statutes contrary to the intent of Congress. But never until this week has a bill finally been presented to Congress to correct these inequities and injustices.

The average citizen isn't familiar with the many benefits that are to come to him when the bill is passed and probably never will be till he comes squarely up against the contingencies that it is designed to meet. But the provisions of the general revision of the interal revenue code cover 900 printed pages and comprise a multitude of points—everything from partnerships to estates and trusts, as well as the deductions or tax allowances permitted to corporations and individuals on a wide variety of subjects.

The Eisenhower administration and the Republican party will deserve great credit if the measure goes through both houses because, while Democratic administrations in the past have recognized the need for the revision, they have always allowed it to be dropped at the last moment in favor of legislation centering on tax rates. Much constructive work has been done by the experts in the Treasury Department and by the joint Internal Revenue Committee of Congress in past years, but time and again it has all been for naught as the measure has gotten entangled in a drive for changes in specific rates. It became customary to postpone action till the next session, so that in the end nothing was done, though both Democrats and Republicans always said they favored it.

This time the Eisenhower administration is concentrating not on rates but on correcting mistakes and clarifying all sorts of decisions, including some that have been contradictory inside the Internal Revnue Service. The importance of this revision of the code to businessmen and tax lawyers generally can hardly be overestimated. It will be of tremendous value, too, to the staffs of the collectors of internal revenue, who have been obliged to follow rulings in some instances which they themselves recognized as inequitable but which they could do nothing to change, being bound by previous interpretation.

None of this would probably be necessary if Congress could write clearly into law phrases that cover every possible contingency. But too often the Bureau of Internal Revenue, in writing "regulations" designed to carry out the meaning of the law, has made some farfetched interpretations which have been unfavorable to the taxpayer. The philosophy that the government is always right and the taxpayer is always wrong has governed too much of the bureau's thinking in the past.

Not many of the disputed points, relatively speaking, have been carried to the courts on appeal, but many that have been overruled have never been clarified so that a regulation would in itself be overturned. What the proposed law does is to take into account the court decisions and the existing code. By a set of new interpretations, the true meaning of the law now is stated.

All this may sound technical to the citizen, who naturally isn't familiar with the fine points of tax law, but it can mean hundreds of millions of dollars in benefits to the taxpayer annually—both individuals and businesses.

There is included in the same general tax bill a number of new provisions, such as correction of the inequity in double taxation of dividends, and there are also some new rules on depreciation allowances on machinery and plants. Some of these will face a legislative fight, and there is certain to be an effort by the Democrats to tack on an increase in personal exemptions from $600 to $700. This is opposed by the administration, because it is a phony move. It can hardly produce any substantial benefit to the economy and, compared with the opportunity to stimulate capital investment in business, such exemptions can never be as effective on the job-creating side as the depreciation allowances, for example. The adoption of many sound and constructive items will go by the boards if demagoguery prevails.

It is a curious thing that the Democratic party, which has always had a conservative wing, should be lining up on the side which would propose an unsound amendment, such as the tax-exemption plan. This would cost the treasury $2,500,000,000. If the national economy could be stimulated by such a provision, it would be unobjectionable, but the obvious purpose of the proponents of the exemption scheme is to kill the relief for double taxation of dividends. The private-capital system cannot function effectively unless investment is stimulated by a fair return to the investor.

When risk capital is available, employment increases far beyond anything the tax-exemption plan can accomplish. The Communist and Socialist philosophies are conceded to be antagonistic to the private-capital system, but it is strange to note how often the Democrats in Congress take the anti-capitalistic side of the argument and how many times the Republicans appear as the stanch defenders of the system of free enterprise. Maybe the voters some day will learn to ask candidates for Congress where they stand on such basic issues.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, March 10—I never worked on a New England paper, but I have clattered through so many of those pretty mill-towns with slim, white steeples presiding over village greens that I know the region as well as almost any Yankee does. They sent down many fine reporters and/or writers to the New York papers and, of course, Boston journalism is practically all down east.

A notable exception that I think of is Bill Cunningham, who belted a hundred pianos to kindling in bistros and YMCA's behind the lines in the First One, went to Dartmouth, made Walter Camp's All America, married Doris and went native. Bill writes as long as a hack-driver's dream and that comment, coming from Pegler, will give you an idea that here is a fellow who really has trouble getting his flaps down. Bill comes from a wide-spot in a side road in Texas, but I have always suspected carpet-baggery in his ancestry because he speaks with the accent of a Bowdoin Don.

New England journalism on the whole was so dreary for so long that there is little lore in this gaunt and bloodless breed outside Boston, New Haven, Providence and Bridgeport.

This is a way of sidling up to an episode of Yankee journalism comparable to the normal ribaldries of the wild scamps of Denver from the time of Gene Field down to the day that Damon Runyon left town.

John T. Flynn, a professional Angry Man of high renown, was city editor of the New Haven Register, an afternoon paper, about the time of World War 1 and one of the gentry of the trade. For John Day Jackson, the proprietor, a business man as distinguished from a consecrated journalist, seems to have had an eye for a promising colt and gave him $25 a week.

There was a bitterly comic legend in Vermont and New Hampshire that the hours were from eight to four and the wages from four to eight. However, a reporter was expected to line up a clientele of candidates for the city council, the legislature and the county offices and keep their names pleasantly in print for honoraria of $2 to $5 a week. This traffic would hoist the income of a not-too-bashful scribe up to $20 and nobody thought any the less of anyone. In Minneapolis, reporters and desk-men got cases of beer, suits and groceries by a similar process and thousands of miles of railroad passes or "mileage" which had a discount value with the scalpers down near the stations.

Mr. Flynn also recalls that a society editor got $12 in New Haven but only at the cost of salacious gossip. Lean and hungry waifs from Rutland and Manchester were always sifting into town to connect with that lush New Haven pay scale. His relations with Mr. Jackson conformed to the norm of the Class Struggle and, in recalling the accident which finally and permanently endeared this Captain of Industry to a perpetually frantic rebel, he speaks with a condescending respect.

Mr. Jackson was always fussing around the composing room, always trying to rush the paper to press so as to beat the two other evening papers to the carrier routes and the corners. That was normal competition, to be sure, but the aesthetes of the trade always tried to restrain such sordidness if it meant sending a paper down incomplete. They had two editions on the Register. The one called the Wall Street edition was a distillation of the Wall Street Journal which was cut up into little smitches and passed across the desk to rewrite on the end of John's long shears, to be disguised in new verbiage.

"There was a rich friend of the management who lived in Southern Pines in the winter," Mr. Flynn says, "who always insisted that we mail down to him the remainder of our office copy of the Wall Street Journal. He said it made no sense to waste a nickel on another whole copy, and the postage was only 2 cents. It usually looked like one of those old-fashioned, screen-door fly-swatters by the time we got through with it, but he was content so the arrangement was not unpleasant."

One afternoon Mr. Jackson was unusually impatient because Mr. Flynn, presiding over page one in the composing room, insisted on waiting for a bulletin of an important war development.

"He would grab at the table to rush it over to the elevator and I would pull it back and yell, 'no, no; is isn't finished.' Finally, he determined not to lose one more street sale by this senseless delay. So over my cries he rushed it over to a little elevator which he used to carry the forms down to the cellar where they made the mats and castings. I yelled that the form wasn't even locked, but he gave the table a final shove through the opening. I put my hands over my eyes. Reason tottered. There was a hell of a crash below. The elevator wasn't there."

"Were you fired?"

"No," Mr. Flynn said. "Mr. Jackson gave me one awful, stricken look. Then he ran to his office, put on his hat and disappeared. I didn't see him again for two weeks."

Local Sponsors Announce Reiter As Israel Bond Head

Sol Reiter of Newburgh, outstanding business and civic leader, has accepted the chairmanship of the Southern New York State Regional Leadership Conference, in behalf of State of Israel Bonds, it was announced today by Arthur B. Ewig, Joseph Honig and Oscar B. London of Kingston, who are sponsors of the conference.

The conference, which will be attended by prominent Jewish personalities from more than 20 communities in southern New York state, will take place at the Hotel Governor Clinton here on Sunday afternoon, March 21.

Among the communities sponsoring the conference are Beacon, Catskill, Ellenville, Haverstraw, Hudson, Hurleyville, Liberty, Kingston, Livingston Manor, Middletown, Monroe, Monticello, Newburgh, Nyack, Poughkeepsie, South Fallsburgh, Spring Valley, Suffern, Walden, Warwick, Woodridge and Wurtsboro.

"I am happy to be able to give my time and service to this conference," Reiter said. "Israel Bonds have played a major role in developing and stabilizing the economy of Israel, that valiant young nation which has brought enlightenment and democracy to the Middle East."

Reiter pointed out that as a result of "our investments thus far in Israel Bonds, the people of Israel have been able to develop an amazing variety of industries."

"In addition to the products of basic industries," Mr. Reiter stated, "the factories of Israel now turn out a vast variety of goods: furniture, textiles, automobiles, refrigerators, pharmaceuticals, canned juices and foodstuffs, clothing and many others for both domestic consumption and export. The expansion of these industries, as well as basic projects, such as the production of fertilizers and chemicals, the exploitation of mineral deposits, and the manufacture of radios and heavy machinery, are directly dependent on further investments in Israel Bonds."

Drive Starts in May

In announcing plans for the conference, Reiter asserted that hundreds of persons will gather at the Hotel Governor Clinton to study the achievements to date of Israel's economic progress, and to develop a maximum effort for the preparation of the opening campaign of the new Israel Development Bond Issue, which will be floated simultaneously in the United States, Canada, Western Europe and Latin America soon after May 9, the date of Israel's sixth anniversary. There will also be discussions, Retier indicated, of the significance of past experiences for future plans to mobilize American participation in Israel's growth.

"The Southern New York State Region Leadership Conference will seek to develop a program for all-out aid to Israel's economic expansion during 1954," Reiter said. "The beginning of the Israel Development Issue, which will seek to raise a total of $350,000,000 during the next few years, must be the occasion for the most intensive effort to date to sell Israel Bonds to the American public."

New Kind of Crouton

Here's a new kind of crouton: Melt a little butter or margarine in a heavy skillet over low heat; add some bite-size shredded rice or wheat biscuits and a sprinkling of salt. Stir the tiny biscuits over low heat for several minutes to toast and coat with butter. Sprinkle over bowls of tomato or split pea soup for something good!

Here's a delicious way to vary chocolate brownies. Omit the walnuts usually called for, and add a third of a cup each of chopped dates and slivered blanched almonds. If you want to be very festive, you may place whole blanched almonds at intervals on top before baking.

Destroyer Is Damaged

Liverpool, England, March 11 (AP)—Deliberate damage to the electrical wiring of the 1,700-ton British destroyer Uranian was disclosed last night. Wiring in several parts of the vessel was cut, apparently with a hacksaw. Security officers were called to investigate. More than 17 sabotage incidents have been reported aboard British naval vessels during the last nine months. The damage has been minor, however, and naval authorities blame it on a "wave of hooliganism" stemming from discontent among crewmen. Authorities insist it does not look like the work of foreign agents.

Cook County Jail Riot Is Smashed

Chicago, March 11 (AP)—Nineteen prisoners in Cook county's overcrowded jail rioted for more than seven hours yesterday before they surrendered after a barrage of tear gas shells and streams of water from high pressure fire hose.

The disheveled prisoners, soaking, shivering and gasping, stumbled out of a cell-block dayroom on the jail's third floor after a final hour of defiance late last night.

Three of the 19 suffered injuries in the stormy battle the inmates had waged with guards, police and firemen. Four guards also were injured, none seriously.

The thwarting of a jail break was blamed by Sheriff John E. Babb for touching off the siege of the prisoners. All were confined to the maximum security section of the jail and were considered dangerous. The ringleaders were described by officials as a condemned murderer and a bank robber.

The prelude to the riot occurred when guards discovered a 2½ by 5-foot panel removed from the ceiling of one prisoner's cell. The 28 inmates in tier G-3 were searched and ordered to their cells. Only seven complied. Two others, at their own request, were removed to other tiers.

The remaining 19 barricaded themselves in the dayroom and refused to come out unless they were guaranteed no punishment and would not be blamed for an attempted jail break.

Warden M. Philip Scanlan told the prisoners there would be "no deals."

There were none and it was more than seven hours later before the seige ended.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Reading in the New York News about juvenile delinquents in New York city schools, I couldn't for instance, imagine such goings on in the Port Ewen School, which I first attended of which Mr. Davis was principal. I once saw him handle a few boys who got out of line. He neither spared the rod nor instructions as to what he expected from them afterwards. One teacher used to handle several grades without trouble and one could not even whisper there, when I went there many years ago.

When I moved to Kingston and entered School 3, Patrick Cullen was principal. We had some rough and rugged youths in the upper grades and I remember Mr. Cullen managed them in the same fashion Mr. Davis did in Port Ewen. Nearly every winter there were terrific snow ball fights with another school and Mr. Cullen had his hands full. I remember Mr. Cullen as a fair, jovial man, yet having his own strict ways. He did not always win all the fistic battles for some of the boys were bigger and taller. Still as I look back, most of his problem boys have become good men and run their own businesses. Perhaps it was partly Mr. Cullen's good influence.

The fights, I remember, often started with some youth not obeying the teacher. She would send him to the principal's office, he would refuse to go. The principal would be called in the room and then the tug of war would start. The boy would sit tight in his seat and wind his feet securely around the iron legs of the lesk. No one gave in easily, including the seat which was anchored to the floor. Of course, it would unnerve all of us, but our respect for our teachers, principals and law grew from such exciting and terrifying battles for the officials always won in the end.

I was glad when I entered Kingston High that I had a choice of teachers and most of my subjects. As far as I was concerned I would have taken all or only drawing. My teachers did their best to teach me enough to pass my exams to graduate for which I am now thankful. Later on, I used to attend night high school in Mr. Mack's woodworking class where I found a friendly atmosphere and pleasant aroma of fresh cut lumber. I also liked Mr. Rice's architectural class, where we not only drew under his capable instruction but also discussed every national and local topic of the day. Perhaps that is what they expect from 'progressive education' instead of what they have brought upon themselves in the present school system.

Most of us, had only one problem in Kingston High School in my time—"Miss Kate Walton of Hall A." The more time you put in for Miss Walton the better you got to know her and also how near you sat to her desk. For instances I heard many an out-of-town farm youth say "I have to milk cows and do other chores right after school" Miss Walton had a way of shutting her eyes, when she was angry and shake her finger at us, "I don't care what you have to do after school. You are going to make up this time starting now etc." As many of these-out-of-town students had to make a bus, it wasn't easy if they took a much later bus. They were not juvenile delinquents. They were early risers, hard-working farm youths, or boys who worked after school and had their obligations. I knew of a large number of students, who left high school because they had a run in with Miss Walton about 'making up time.' Some made out very well in spite of Miss Walton and uncompleted schooling, others perhaps would have done better. Miss Walton's whole life seemed to be centered around gym and athletics although I never personally saw her participate or work up perspiration in any events of physical exertion, although she always seemed to be making speeches to us about 'school spirit.' The present high school students know her only by name. To me and other students of my day, she was a definite personality who touched every one of our lives in various degrees.

Thousands Gasp At Child's Action

Brisbane, Australia, March 11 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II has shared the platform with a raft of kiddies in her world travels, but 4-year-old Narelle Dick is way ahead of the rest.

And Narelle's co-starring was strictly unscheduled.

During the queen's visit to the Brisbane Exhibition ground yesterday, the little girl left her mother in the grandstand and sidled slowly down to the dais where the queen and the Duke of Edinburgh sat.

Smiling serenely and ignoring officials' clutching hands, she crossed the red carpet, climbed into Elizabeth's lap, threw her arms around the royal neck and tried to kiss her.

The startled monarch held the tot for an instant, then gently pushed her away and kept smiling as the crowd of thousands gasped.

Narelle struggled and kicked as Police Inspector T. J. Clark carried her back to her mother.

Townsend Hobby Cited

Robert K. Townsend of 81 Albany avenue has been adjudged one of the winners of this month's Mechanix Illustrated workbench awards in recognition of the midget jeep which he built for his son. The award, a 24-carat gold-plated hammer, was given to Townsend as a workshop hobbyist.

The WAC training center at Camp Lee, Va., has the only all-woman band in the U. S. Army.

Received Clearance

Leo Kantrowitz, of Clifton, N. J., appears March 10 before the Senate Investigations subcommittee. Kantrowitz, a draftsman, refused to say whether he is or ever was a Communist. He swore that he had been given security clearance to work on classified electronics projects for the government but that he does not recall that any of his bosses ever asked whether he was a Communist. Meter Cop Hands Out Eight Tickets In Three Years

Lt. James P. Martin, of the local police, who watches the mail for the pay-off from parking meter violators, picked up (with the fine) what might be considered some advice in one of the envelopes the other day.

It was a newspaper clipping from a Syracuse woman, who had apparently seen better worlds of parking meters and at the top of the clipping she typed: "Kingston will never get this kind of publicity."

The article, date-lined, Pass-A-Grille, Fla., told of Patrolman Edmond E. LaFave, who apparently keeps himself working and toying with this fickle thing called human nature.

LaFave, it seems, has been three years on the job with 400 parking meters, and in that time he has issued only eight tickets to people who have "sassed" him.

The officer has things working so that drivers who go bathing leave change behind for him to feed meters, and when overtime is not covered he leaves a note suggesting they hunt him up later and pay. They do, the article says.

LaFave's program of courtesy, says the article, is part of a growing movement to take the sting out of "nuisance" parking meter fines. It notes that in Edenton, N. C., a driver is fined only a nickel if he pays up in an hour, in Kerrville, Tex., a merchant will drop in a nickel and leave a note suggesting that the driver return it, and in Tucumcari, N. M., they pass out a list of traffic "don'ts" plus a ticket for a cup of coffee at any restaurant.

Plattekill

Plattekill, March 11—Members of the Public Health Nursing Committee of the town of Plattekill and of the service and hospitality committee of the Plattekill Grange arranged a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Bernard Kopaskie at the grange hall on Saturday. The Kopaskie home and entire contents was destroyed by fire recently and the people of the community responded wholeheartedly in the appeal for clothing, furniture, etc. Ernest Waite provided living quarters for the family, they having moved in the large farm house vacated by the Chester Wager family who moved to Clintondale. The Plattekill Fire House was the center where articles were delivered and where donations and contributions are still being received. A large crowd attended the shower on Saturday, when household equipment, dishes etc. were generously given. Mrs. Kopaskie returned from St. Luke's Hospital last week and stayed at the home of her sister Mrs. Nathaniel Dawes until women of the community prepared her home for occupancy.

Local students of Wallkill High School, participating in the presentation of the senior class play, State Fair, at the school recently were Robert Campbell, Joan Feldt, Juliet Spagnoli, Frances Kalisky, Barbara Green, Elvira Garzon, John Hoppenstedt and Robert Murphy. Proceeds were for the annual senior class trip to Washington during Easter week, April 13. The fund now totals $1,710.

Douglas Waite, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Waite recently received his Bachelor of Arts degree in business administration from the University of Mississippi. Waite is a graduate of the Wallkill Central School and the Utica School of Applied Arts and Sciences. He is a resident of Utica at this time.

Owings Is Endorsed

Culver City, Calif., March 11 (AP)—The 26th Congressional District Republican organization last night endorsed Theodore R. Owings as its candidate to oppose Democrat James Roosevelt in the congressional race. Owings, Culver City clerk, told a cheering throng that "I want this to be a nice family contest between myself and Mr. Roosevelt." Owings has a wife and three children. Roosevelt has three children and an estranged wife who is suing him for separate maintenance on charges of adultery.

Local students of Wallkill High School, participating in the presentation of the senior class play, State Fair, at the school recently were Robert Campbell, Joan Feldt, Juliet Spagnoli, Frances Kalisky, Barbara Green, Elvira Garzon, John Hoppenstedt and Robert Murphy. Proceeds were for the annual senior class trip to Washington during Easter week, April 13. The fund now totals $1,710.

Douglas Waite, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Waite recently received his Bachelor of Arts degree in business administration from the University of Mississippi. Waite is a graduate of the Wallkill Central School and the Utica School of Applied Arts and Sciences. He is a resident of Utica at this time.

Owings Is Endorsed

Culver City, Calif., March 11 (AP)—The 26th Congressional District Republican organization last night endorsed Theodore R. Owings as its candidate to oppose Democrat James Roosevelt in the congressional race. Owings, Culver City clerk, told a cheering throng that "I want this to be a nice family contest between myself and Mr. Roosevelt." Owings has a wife and three children. Roosevelt has three children and an estranged wife who is suing him for separate maintenance on charges of adultery.

Divers Are Busy Around Island

New York, March 11 (AP)—Deep sea divers are busy in and around Manhattan.

One diver is fixing the flow-control valves in Central Park reservoir, while a dozen divers reportedly are probing New York bay for 15,000 rounds of fuseless and harmless naval ammunition.

The reservoir under-water worker, Thomas Kavanagh, 43, started yesterday on what will be a three-month job. Kavanagh says the mountain-fed water flowing in from the Croton water system to the city's reservoir is a lot colder than the salt water of New York harbor and the ocean.

Published Reports

The Navy won't officially confirm or deny it, but published reports on the batch of missing three-inch shells say:

A barge loaded with the shells tore loose from its moorings in Brooklyn last Friday night, apparently because of high winds.

Saturday morning navy divers started out across the harbor in a work ship. Each round of ammunition was in a metal cannister with a little air space for buoyancy—meaning the ammunition could be at any level between the surface and the bottom of the big bay.

The search has been going on daily, with one diver agreeing it was the biggest needle-in-the-haystack assignment he had ever seen.

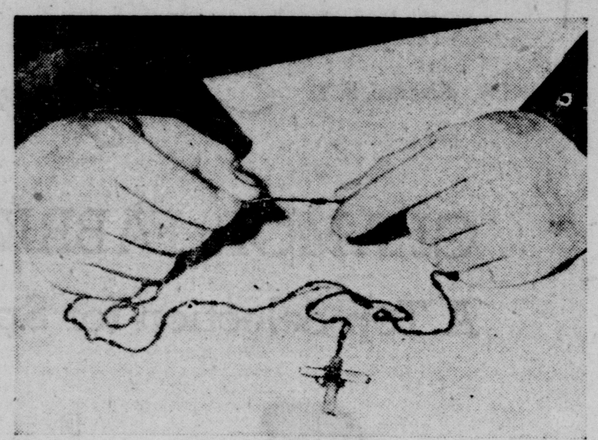
Some observers believe the ammunition may have floated out to sea.

The wrecked barge was found off Rockaway Beach on a breakwater.

A navy spokesman, while officially silent on the lost shells, made it clear that such ammunition is not subject to detonation in its present stripped state.

Finally Fixed

When football first was played, games were played with 25, 20, 15, or 11 men on a side by mutual agreement. Delegates at a football convention in 1880 agreed to a rule calling for 11 players on a side.



IN HANDS OF FAITH—This rosary was made by Rev. Siegfried Schneider, a Franciscan missionary now in Cincinnati. He was held for 29 months in solitary confinement by Chinese Communists. They confiscated most of his personal and religious articles. But Father Schneider took wool ravelings from his socks and splinters from his makeshift bed and made the rosary, which he managed to conceal from his captors until he was freed.

Recipes Suggested For Lenten Season

Here are two recipes to serve and enjoy during Lent:

"Baked Stuffed Fish"

Cleaned and boned white fish. Stuffing: 1 cup finely crumbed potato chips, 1 cup day-old bread freshly crumbed, ¼ cup melted butter or margarine, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/3 cup chopped parsley, 1/3 cup chopped dill pickle, few capers if desired.

Rub inside and outside of cleaned boned fish with salt. Mix ingredients of dressing and stuff the fish. Close the opening with toothpicks laced with cord. Cut three or four gashes in sides of fish to prevent skin curling. Place in baking dish in 550 degree oven for 15 minutes. Reduce temperature to 425 degrees for an additional baking time of 30 minutes. Serve with a cress or parsley garnish.

"Potato Chip Noodle Ring"

One 8-oz. package noodles, ½ cup crumbled potato chips, 1 cup grated sharp cheese, 1½ cup milk, 4 slightly beaten eggs, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup Sherry Wine.

Boil noodles in salted water until tender. Drain. Alternate layers of noodles, potato chips and cheese in greased baking dish. Combine milk, eggs, salt and Sherry Wine and pour over noodles. Place in medium oven and bake 45 minutes. Garnish with tomatoes, olives, pepper rings.

Kripplebush

, Kripplebush, March 10—Kripplebush WSCS will meet March 17 at the home of Mrs. Claude Christiana. Leaders of the worship service will be the Misses Violo Apjoha and Lois Grammer.

Gail Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Christiana was baptized February 28 at the home of her parents by the Rev. Malcolm Shattuck, pastor of Kripplebush Methodist Church. Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Millis were the sponsors.

The Rev. and Mrs. Malcolm Shattuck of Stone Ridge and Mrs. Irvin Barley of Ellenville were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Christiana and family.

P. A. Millis is in Massachusetts on business.

Friends of Mrs. Michael Burke, High Falls, were sorry to learn of the death of her mother, Mrs. Anna Dugan in New York.

WEEKLY FOOD REVIEW

(By The Associated Press)

Pork—at lower prices—will be a feature in many of the country's food stores this weekend. Housewives looking for good buys also will find beef moderately priced.

Center cut pork chops will be selling for four to six cents a pound below regular prices in numerous markets. Pork loins will be a special in some stores while others will offer fresh pork picnics at reductions of four cents a pound.

Beef prices generally will be at the same level as last weekend, but stores here and there will trim prices of sirloin steaks by four cents a pound and of prime ribs by two to six cents a pound. Some markets announced plans to feature pot roast, round steak and chuck roast.

Not Much Change

Lamb and chicken prices won't show much change from a week ago. Not many stores are featuring chickens although prices are low.

Eggs will be down by one or two cents a dozen in some sections of the country. Butter prices will be unchanged in most stores.

Specialists in the wholesale produce markets say the outstanding buys in vegetables will be potatoes, onions, old crop cabbage and radishes. Also worth consideration: sweet potatoes, greens, endives, escarole, iceberg lettuce and peppers.

Asparagus is going to market in increasing volume, but produce men say it's still high-priced. Spinach is a little lower, but still not a bargain. Early greens are arriving in markets over the country.

Grapefruit remains the best buy in fruits, according to wholesale men. California and Florida oranges show little price change. Tangerines are higher.

Prepared Own Meal

The American soldier of Revolutionary days was issued a ration of uncooked food every day and it was up to him to prepare a meal.

New Hurley

New Hurley, March 10—The Catskill Glee Club gave a concert in the church last Monday evening, which was well attended. After the concert the entire audience was invited to the church hall where refreshments were served by the Young Women's Club. The Glee Club entertained with a number of songs.

Last week the regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society was held at the home of Mrs. William Mechelke. Mrs. George Sherwood presided. Nine members responded to the roll call. President Sherwood appointed Mrs. Dagmer Nelson and Mrs. Jacob Kobelt to act as a committee for the Easter offering. At the close of the meeting the hostess Mrs. Mechelke served refreshments. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Myra Dolan on April 7.

The Missionary Society will meet at the parsonage on Thursday at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Wilbur J. VanWyck will show slides of mission work in India. The women of the congregation are cordially invited.

The offering received in the New Hurley Sunday school on February 28 for mission work in India amounted to $29.36.

A meeting of the consistory of the New Hurley Reformed Church was held in the memorial chapel Monday evening.

Next Sunday the union Lenten service will be held in the New Hurley Reformed Church at 8 p. m. The Rev. Richard Hine, minister of the Reformed Church of Clifton, N. J., will be the speaker. He is a former pastor of the Wallkill Reformed Church. The congregations of neighboring churches are invited.

The Central College A Cappella Choir will sing in the New Hurley Church April 14, at 8 p. m. They will sing in the Wallkill Central School in the afternoon from 2:45 to 3:30.

Valentine Garrison has been ill at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Humphrey were recent guests at the home of their niece and nephew in Poughkeepsie.

Nicholas T. Cocks spent a few days last week at the home of his son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. William Grill and daughter, Jacqueline at Tuckahoe.

Ted Wright of Ireland Corners was a caller in this place on Thursday.

Miss Bertha Sutton called at the home of her cousins Mr. and Mrs. A. D. McKinstry in Gardiner on Saturday.

Susanna Denniston, who is a student at Cortland State Teachers College, spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Denniston and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frances Wright and daughter Martha of Cornwall called at the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell on Sunday afternoon.

Mary Lou Schoonmaker, who is attending Syracuse University, spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerow Schoonmaker.

Floyd Jameison of Leptondale called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell on Monday afternoon.

There will be regular preaching services in the New Hurley Church Sunday at 11 a. m. and Sunday school at 10 o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend the services.

Preserved Ginger

Queen Victoria is credited with popularizing preserved ginger, says the National Geographic Society. The pungent candied spice from China was a novelty in her day. According to tradition, she liked it so well that she served it at state banquets.

Whalebone once was worth $10,000 a ton.

When you look at these little blue flowers, you are supposed to think of a king of England. The king was Henry IV, who took the flowers as his emblem with the slogan, "Remember me." From then on, the flowers became known as "Forget Me Nots."

Preserved Ginger

Queen Victoria is credited with popularizing preserved ginger, says the National Geographic Society. The pungent candied spice from China was a novelty in her day. According to tradition, she liked it so well that she served it at state banquets.

Whalebone once was worth $10,000 a ton.

Dewey's Proposal On Car Insurance Due for Showdown

Albany, March 11 (AP)—Gov. Dewey's disputed proposal for compulsory automobile liability insurance seems headed for a showdown vote in the Assembly—with a good chance to pass.

The bill, pigeonholed for weeks, was transferred yesterday from the Assembly Way and Means committee to the powerful Rules committee. That body is expected to report favorably on it.

Once on the Assembly floor, the measure will run into stiff opposition from many Republicans. But most of the Democrats are likely to vote for the bill, and they could provide the margin for passage.

It still appears uncertain whether the bill can be maneuvered through Senate committees and onto the floor for a test in that House.

In other developments yesterday:

1. The Assembly voted, subject to Senate agreement, to end the legislative session at 5 p. m. on March 19. The other House could insist, however, on continuing longer.

2. Legislative leaders of both parties endorsed a proposal to set up a code of ethics for lawmakers and state officials and rules of conduct for public officers and state employes.

Approval On Trial Bill

3. The Assembly gave final legislative approval to a bill that would permit a murder trial to be held either in the county where the slaying occurred or in any county where the body of the victim or any part of it was found.

The bill stemmed from the murder of Mrs. George P. Hetenyi, wife of an Episcopal clergyman, whose body was found in the Genesee river in Monroe county. Counsel for her husband, the Rev. George P. Hetenyi, claimed there was no proof the crime had been committed in that county. Hetenyi was convicted of second-degree murder and is serving a term of 40 years to life. He recently was unfrocked by the church.

Commenting on the proposed code of ethics for persons in public life, Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, majority leader of the Senate, said:

"This is a pioneering project and the people owe a great debt of gratitude to Chairman Charles C. Lockwood for his leadership." Lockwood headed the special Committee on Ethical Standards in Government, which recommended the code.

Francis Mahoney of Manhattan, minority leader of the Senate, said for the Democrats: "We think it is a fair report. It is a progressive step."

Wood, funeral director and furniture store operator for many years in Ellenville, died in 1942. Mrs. Wood is survived by a son, Burton H. Wood. The funeral will be held Friday at 2 p. m. from the Pulling Funeral Home in Ellenville. Burial will be in Fantinekill Cemetery with the Rev. William Irish officiating.

Hearing Is Closed

Los Angeles, March 11 (AP)—The Dick Haymes deportation hearing has been closed and the crooner's counsel given until March 18 to present briefs against the proposal of the Immigration Service to send him back to Argentina, where he was born. Depositions from Haymes and others, submitted yesterday, maintained that he reported for army induction at Ft. Jay, N. Y., in June, 1945, but was released three days later because of high blood pressure. His deportation is based on a charge of draft dodging. The Immigration Service also contends that Haymes subjected himself to deportation by going to Honolulu last June and returning without a re-entry permit. He went to Hawaii to visit Rita Hayworth, whom he subsequently married. Haymes was not present at yesterday's hearing.

Officials Called Back

Washington, March 11 (AP)—Army officials were called back today to tell the Senate Armed Services Committee more about award of an exclusive contract for army M48 tanks to General Motors. Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) has been criticizing the award for months, contending the result was to shut down several other tank plants after they had been granted multi-million dollar defense tax benefits. The committee held a hearing on the contract award Jan. 29.

Malicious Mischief Acts Are Reported

Police were notified of what appears to have been malicious mischief in two areas of the city yesterday.

Officers Thomas Tomshaw and Meyer Levy notified police headquarters at 2:30 p. m., that windows had been broken in Deyo's cider mill, Flatbush avenue, that an apple elevator had been cut with an axe and a fire started in grass near the building.

Officers Elbert Soper and John Crespino, investigating another report at 2:04 p. m., said four panes of glass 11 by 14 inches had been broken in Temple Emanuel on Abeel street. They also reported glassware broken inside the building and some towels damaged.

Goes to Japanese Diet

Tokyo, March 11 (AP)—The U. S.-Japan Mutual Defense Pact went to Japan's Diet today for ratification. Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal party has predicted the pact will be ratified shortly, perhaps before the end of the month, despite opposition from the combined Socialist parties and minor groups. Kyodo News Service said the leftist Socialist party's policy committee decided today to fight the pact in Japan's Supreme Court, contending the pact violates the war renouncing clause in Japan's postwar constitution.

Three Accident Actions Continue In Supreme Court

Continued today in Supreme Court were three actions arising out of an accident at West Park on September 4, 1950. Joseph Avis brings an action against Joseph Bua and wife; Mrs. Max Leventhal brings an action against Avis and Bua for damages for the death of her husband who was a passenger in the Avis car and Mr. and Mrs. Bua bring an action against Avis. It was expected the cases would be submitted to the jury late today. The actions arose when the Avis car and the Bua car collided after the Bua car blew a tire and stopped on the north lane over which the Avis car was being operated.

In anticipation of the conclusion of the three actions now on trial a jury was selected in No. 107, Guy and Lillian Dembo against Joseph Oppenheim. Philip Korn for plaintiff and Cook and Cook for defendants. The action is one in negligence.

Among the cases settled are:

Frank Avery against James B. McAuliffe and others, negligence. Arthur E. Ames for plaintiff and Cook & Cook for defendants.

Benjamin Slutsky against Brunner's Inc., breach of warranty in the sale of personal property. M. G. Levine for plaintiff and Morris A. Schoenfeld for defendant.

Charles Warshaw against Ethel Ziegler and another, negligence. Cashin & Ewig for plaintiff and Richard W. Hannah for defendants.

To Announce Program

Washington, March 11 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today he will announce before April 1 a program for disposing of big government-held supplies of surplus butter and dairy products. He hinted the plan will be good news to housewives. "The taxpayers have their money in it (the farm price support program), and why shouldn't they get something out of it, too," Benson said to reporters. Benson's statement of impending announcement of a disposal program was made to the House Agriculture Committee, and elaborated on later to newsmen.

Benny Eats Cake at Wedding

Ulster Gets Its Share of Receipts

Ulster county's share of $1,929,899.72 in motor vehicle tax receipts to 57 counties outside of New York is $29,735 for three months ending Dec. 31, 1953. State Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern announced today.

The money is returned to counties in compliance with the state highway law providing that 25 per cent of fees collected under the vehicle and traffic law, exclusive of application fees, from residents of a county outside of New York city, must be returned to local government.

The amount distributed for the same quarter in 1952 was $2,101,592.74. The money is deposited in county road funds.

Schwable Testifies

with an instruction from the marine corps commandant to complete a statement about his activities while a prisoner. Schwable said that his statement to Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., the commandant, was essentially complete but lacked many of Schwable's personal feelings and reactions and considerable detail.

At this point Schwable stated that he had not made excuses to the commandant in his Oct. 1 statement and that "I won't make excuses now."

The colonel told the court he did want to "clear his mind" of some "miserable little details" that he still thinks about when he wakes up in the middle of the night.

Schwable said he wanted to make it clear that the Communists did not subject him to physical torture of the direct brutal sort, but that their methods were far more subtle and more difficult to understand and to resist than sheer brutality.

He said the Red methods did produce the effects of physical torture in that his captors created such an environment for him that he suffered physically. These methods he termed "wilful, malicious and knowing."

$500,000 Fire Reported

North Attleboro, Mass., March 11 (AP)—A general alarm $500,000 fire early today levelled the four-story Barber Electric manufacturing Co. building, a private residence and a foundry company annex about 400 yards from the community's business center. The blaze also damaged a line of garages in a coal and oil storage yard and threatened several other buildings as it leaped to and fro across wide Chestnut street. North Attleboro Fire Chief Ralph C. Robertson, who estimated the damage, suffered a possible fractured leg when he fell into a 12-foot pit. He said he suspected arson. The injury forced him to relinquish command at the fire to Fire Chief Hiram R. Packard of neighboring Attleboro.

Spokesman Would Close Academy

Washington, March 11 (AP)—A spokesman for 12 of the 13 unions making up the conference of American maritime unions today urged closing the Kings Point, N. Y., Merchant Marine Academy and four state maritime academies in New York, Maine, Massachusetts and California.

John M. Bishop, Washington representative for the Masters, Mates and Pilots Assn., said he spoke for all the unions—AFL, CIO and the United Mine Workers' District 50—except the Brotherhood of Marine Engineers, AFL. The latter, he said, does not concur in the stand.

In place of the academies, Bishop urged sufficient appropriations to operate marine upgrading training stations at Sheepshead Bay, N. Y., and Alameda, Calif., which have been closed, and a maritime service institute.

Speaking, he said, for approximately 130,000 members of "American non-Communist dominated maritime unions," Bishop told a House Merchant Marine and Fisheries subcommittee that closing Kings Point and the four academies and reopening the upgrading schools would "result in great savings to the government and, at the same time, provide the most practical program of training skilled unlicensed seamen and merchant marine officers."

UN Chapter Increases

The membership of the Dutchess Chapter of the American Association for the United Nations has increased over 100 per cent during the past four months, reported the secretary, Walter B. Ross, at a regular bi-monthly meeting recently in the auditorium of the new Central Hudson Gas and Electric building, 47 Cannon street, Poughkeepsie. This striking increase, said Ross, was due in part to a number of transfers from the national office, but in the main it represented the addition of entirely new members. Dr. Henry Noble MacCracken, president emeritus of Vassar College and chairman of the chapter, expressed satisfaction at the report. It was announced that Dorothy Kenyon will be the guest speaker at the United Nations Forum March 21, in Arlington High School in cooperation with the Arlington Adult Education Program.

Would Vacate Seat

Washington, March 11 (AP)—The Republican majority of a Senate Investigating Committee recommended today that the seat held by Sen. Chavez (D-N.M.) be declared vacant because of "irregularities" in the 1952 election. The report said the election, in which Chavez was opposed by Republican Patrick Hurley, should be voided. Sens. Barrett (R-Wyo.) and Potter (R-Mich.) signed the report. The third member of the committee, Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.), was preparing a minority, dissenting report.

Burial was in Montrepose Cemetery where Dr. Golinick was in charge of the committal service. Bearers, all grandsons of Mrs. Werner, were Robert Werner, Charles Werner, Jr., Warren Werner, John Carle, Louis Carle and Jules Vitarius.

Mabel H. Wood

Mabel H. Wood, 81, died at her home, 59 Center street, Ellenville, on Tuesday. She was born in Napanoch April 6, 1872, the daughter of the late Jacob and Margaret Sahler Hoornbeck. She was a member of the Ellenville Reformed Church and a life member of the Eastern Star. Her husband, Myron C. Wood, funeral director and furniture store operator for many years in Ellenville, died in 1942. Mrs. Wood is survived by a son, Burton H. Wood. The funeral will be held Friday at 2 p. m. from the Pulling Funeral Home in Ellenville. Burial will be in Fantinekill Cemetery with the Rev. William Irish officiating.

Hearing Is Closed

Los Angeles, March 11 (AP)—The Dick Haymes deportation hearing has been closed and the crooner's counsel given until March 18 to present briefs against the proposal of the Immigration Service to send him back to Argentina, where he was born. Depositions from Haymes and others, submitted yesterday, maintained that he reported for army induction at Ft. Jay, N. Y., in June, 1945, but was released three days later because of high blood pressure. His deportation is based on a charge of draft dodging The Immigration Service also contends that Haymes subjected himself to deportation by going to Honolulu last June and returning without a re-entry permit. He went to Hawaii to visit Rita Hayworth, whom he subsequently married. Haymes was not present at yesterday's hearing.

Officials Called Back

Washington, March 11 (AP)—Army officials were called back today to tell the Senate Armed Services Committee more about award of an exclusive contract for army M48 tanks to General Motors. Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) has been criticizing the award for months, contending the result was to shut down several other tank plants after they had been granted multi-million dollar defense tax benefits. The committee held a hearing on the contract award Jan. 29.

Malicious Mischief Acts Are Reported

Police were notified of what appears to have been malicious mischief in two areas of the city yesterday.

Officers Thomas Tomshaw and Meyer Levy notified police headquarters at 2:30 p. m., that windows had been broken in Deyo's cider mill, Flatbush avenue, that an apple elevator had been cut with an axe and a fire started in grass near the building.

Officers Elbert Soper and John Crespino, investigating another report at 2:04 p. m., said four panes of glass 11 by 14 inches had been broken in Temple Emanuel on Abeel street. They also reported glassware broken inside the building and some towels damaged.

Goes to Japanese Diet

Tokyo, March 11 (AP)—The U. S.-Japan Mutual Defense Pact went to Japan's Diet today for ratification. Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal party has predicted the pact will be ratified shortly, perhaps before the end of the month, despite opposition from the combined Socialist parties and minor groups. Kyodo News Service said the leftist Socialist party's policy committee decided today to fight the pact in Japan's Supreme Court, contending the pact violates the war renouncing clause in Japan's postwar constitution.

Three Accident Actions Continue In Supreme Court

Continued today in Supreme Court were three actions arising out of an accident at West Park on September 4, 1950. Joseph Avis brings an action against Joseph Bua and wife; Mrs. Max Leventhal brings an action against Avis and Bua for damages for the death of her husband who was a passenger in the Avis car and Mr. and Mrs. Bua bring an action against Avis. It was expected the cases would be submitted to the jury late today. The actions arose when the Avis car and the Bua car collided after the Bua car blew a tire and stopped on the north lane over which the Avis car was being operated.

In anticipation of the conclusion of the three actions now on trial a jury was selected in No. 107, Guy and Lillian Dembo against Joseph Oppenheim. Philip Korn for plaintiff and Cook and Cook for defendants. The action is one in negligence.

Among the cases settled are:

Frank Avery against James B. McAuliffe and others, negligence. Arthur E. Ames for plaintiff and Cook & Cook for defendants.

Benjamin Slutsky against Brunner's Inc., breach of warranty in the sale of personal property. M. G. Levine for plaintiff and Morris A. Schoenfeld for defendant.

Charles Warshaw against Ethel Ziegler and another, negligence. Cashin & Ewig for plaintiff and Richard W. Hannah for defendants.

To Announce Program

Washington, March 11 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today he will announce before April 1 a program for disposing of big government-held supplies of surplus butter and dairy products. He hinted the plan will be good news to housewives. "The taxpayers have their money in it (the farm price support program), and why shouldn't they get something out of it, too," Benson said to reporters. Benson's statement of impending announcement of a disposal program was made to the House Agriculture Committee, and elaborated on later to newsmen.

Benny Eats Cake at Wedding

Ulster Gets Its Share of Receipts

Ulster county's share of $1,929,899.72 in motor vehicle tax receipts to 57 counties outside of New York is $29,735 for three months ending Dec. 31, 1953. State Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern announced today.

The money is returned to counties in compliance with the state highway law providing that 25 per cent of fees collected under the vehicle and traffic law, exclusive of application fees, from residents of a county outside of New York city, must be returned to local government.

The amount distributed for the same quarter in 1952 was $2,101,592.74. The money is deposited in county road funds.

Schwable Testifies

with an instruction from the marine corps commandant to complete a statement about his activities while a prisoner. Schwable said that his statement to Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., the commandant, was essentially complete but lacked many of Schwable's personal feelings and reactions and considerable detail.

At this point Schwable stated that he had not made excuses to the commandant in his Oct. 1 statement and that "I won't make excuses now."

The colonel told the court he did want to "clear his mind" of some "miserable little details" that he still thinks about when he wakes up in the middle of the night.

Schwable said he wanted to make it clear that the Communists did not subject him to physical torture of the direct brutal sort, but that their methods were far more subtle and more difficult to understand and to resist than sheer brutality.

He said the Red methods did produce the effects of physical torture in that his captors created such an environment for him that he suffered physically. These methods he termed "wilful, malicious and knowing."

$500,000 Fire Reported

North Attleboro, Mass., March 11 (AP)—A general alarm $500,000 fire early today levelled the four-story Barber Electric manufacturing Co. building, a private residence and a foundry company annex about 400 yards from the community's business center. The blaze also damaged a line of garages in a coal and oil storage yard and threatened several other buildings as it leaped to and fro across wide Chestnut street. North Attleboro Fire Chief Ralph C. Robertson, who estimated the damage, suffered a possible fractured leg when he fell into a 12-foot pit. He said he suspected arson. The injury forced him to relinquish command at the fire to Fire Chief Hiram R. Packard of neighboring Attleboro.

Spokesman Would Close Academy

Washington, March 11 (AP)—A spokesman for 12 of the 13 unions making up the conference of American maritime unions today urged closing the Kings Point, N. Y., Merchant Marine Academy and four state maritime academies in New York, Maine, Massachusetts and California.

John M. Bishop, Washington representative for the Masters, Mates and Pilots Assn., said he spoke for all the unions—AFL, CIO and the United Mine Workers' District 50—except the Brotherhood of Marine Engineers, AFL. The latter, he said, does not concur in the stand.

In place of the academies, Bishop urged sufficient appropriations to operate marine upgrading training stations at Sheepshead Bay, N. Y., and Alameda, Calif., which have been closed, and a maritime service institute.

Speaking, he said, for approximately 130,000 members of "American non-Communist dominated maritime unions," Bisop told a House Merchant Marine and Fisheries subcommittee that closing Kings Point and the four academies and reopening the upgrading schools would "result in great savings to the government and, at the same time, provide the most practical program of training skilled unlicensed seamen and merchant marine officers."

UN Chapter Increases

The membership of the Dutchess Chapter of the American Association for the United Nations has increased over 100 per cent during the past four months, reported the secretary, Walter B. Ross, at a regular bi-monthly meeting recently in the auditorium of the new Central Hudson Gas and Electric building, 47 Cannon street, Poughkeepsie. This striking increase, said Ross, was due in part to a number of transfers from the national office, but in the main it represented the addition of entirely new members. Dr. Henry Noble MacCracken, president emeritus of Vassar College and chairman of the chapter, expressed satisfaction at the report. It was announced that Dorothy Kenyon will be the guest speaker at the United Nations Forum March 21, in Arlington High School in cooperation with the Arlington Adult Education Program.

Would Vacate Seat

Washington, March 11 (AP)—The Republican majority of a Senate Investigating Committee recommended today that the seat held by Sen. Chavez (D-N.M.) be declared vacant because of "irregularities" in the 1952 election. The report said the election, in which Chavez was opposed by Republican Patrick Hurley, should be voided. Sens. Barrett (R-Wyo.) and Potter (R-Mich.) signed the report. The third member of the committee, Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.), was preparing a minority, dissenting report.

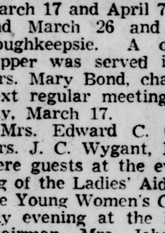
RIVAL DOG FOOD Contains LIVER FOR GREATER NOURISHMENT and FLAVOR

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

President Ben Fairless figures it this-a-way. U. S. Steel has 300,000 employes, including Ben. If each of them bought 67 shares costing about $4,000, they together would own all the common shares of the company.



They could do that with only $10 a week, or a little more than the average half-day's pay, in seven years. Then they'd get all the "bloated profits" you hear so much about at union meetings.

But you don't need to own it all. — 51% gives control. That's 3½ years. Then you could fire all your bosses, including Ben, and put your own men, and you've got some good ones, in the front office. Then the union would be boss. No strikes. Everything sweet.

No labor trouble. Just trouble for labor. For the real boss ain't Ben. Your real boss is the consuming public; and if they don't like your products then your labor boss is out of business.

If your new president doesn't please the real boss, the business sags. Layoffs. No profits. Then what happens? You would surely do some fast leg work to find Ben.

Go see Ben. He came up the hard way and will pitch it straight. He'd tell your new president about the problems of management. He knows what they are.

It's what we hear from Mrs. John Mickert of Brooklyn and women from all over the U. S. Proof enough that they can taste the difference cream makes. Why not make your own taste test, today.

Teachers of those grades are Miss Edna Curry, Mrs. Henry Battenfeldt, Mrs. Fred Boyce for 4th grade; Mrs. Vincent Gaffney, Mrs. Helen Wieland, Miss Luella Ose for 5th grade and George C. Smith and Mrs. Juliann Grandchamp for the 6th.

Toby Helps Out is the title of a play to be given by pupils in the 7th grade for the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association Wednesday evening March 10 in the activity room. Mrs. George Thompson is teacher for that grade.

Mrs. Alfred Lane and Mrs. Ruth Smalley have purchased the home of Miss Daisy Perkins on Tillson avenue. The present home of Mrs. Lane and Mrs. Smalley is in Lloyd.

Those interested in a study of the book of Acts during the weeks of Lent will meet Friday mornings from 10 to 11 o'clock at the Presbyterian manse. Mrs. Andrew W. Lent will be the leader.

Carlton Upright, Bayville, L. I., visited his mother Mrs. W. J. Upright on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edison Dimsey, Carlton Dimsey, Mrs. Robert Anderson and son drove to New York Saturday and saw Mrs. Anderson and son off by air for Bremerton, Wash., where she joins her husband Lt. (j.g.) Robert Anderson. The others returned home that evening.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

President Ben Fairless figures it this-a-way. U. S. Steel has 300,000 employes, including Ben. If each of them bought 67 shares costing about $4,000, they together would own all the common shares of the company.

They could do that with only $10 a week, or a little more than the average half-day's pay, in seven years. Then they'd get all the "bloated profits" you hear so much about at union meetings.

But you don't need to own it all, — 51% gives control. That's 3½ years. Then you could fire all your bosses, including Ben, and put your own men, and you've got some good ones, in the front office. Then the union would be boss. No strikes. Everything sweet.

No labor trouble. Just trouble for labor. For the real boss ain't Ben. Your real boss is the consuming public; and if they don't like your products then your labor boss is out of business.

If your new president doesn't please the real boss, the business sags. Layoffs. No profits. Then what happens? You would surely do some fast leg work to find Ben.

Go see Ben. He came up the hard way and will pitch it straight. He'd tell your new president about the problems of management. He knows what they are.

Jailed for Contempt

New York, March 11 (AP)—Julio Pinto Gandia, a Puerto Rican Nationalist leader, was jailed for contempt today for refusing to answer questions before a grand jury investigating the shooting of five congressmen. Gandia heads the New York branch of the party. Authorities contend the plot to spray Congress with bullets last week was hatched here. Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard found Gandia in contempt and ordered him confined in the Federal House of Detention until he purges himself of the charge.

Eight-year-old James Francis Coffey, Jr., hands letter from draft board to his postman father in Malden, Mass., for return to where it started. Jimmy was notified to tell board why he didn't register for draft within 30 days after he was "discharged from service" last month. His father didn't deliver notice, he has another route. Letter was not intended for him, either, he has never been in the service. (AP Wirephoto).

Secret Committee Declares . . .

blacklist them from work on the docks.

The seven members said the group had been elected by votes conducted in 35 ILA locals without participation by the regular officers of the locals.

The strike, which has crippled a major part of the New York city and New Jersey waterfront in the Port of New York, grew out of the fight between the ILA and the AFL-ILA for certification by the National Labor Relations Board.

The two unions have been fighting for certification since the AFL set up the AFL-ILA after ousting the ILA last September for failure to rid itself of racketeering elements.

The ILA strike, which has kept thousands of AFL-ILA members from working, is in defiance of a federal court injunction, a pending federal contempt of court proceeding, and back-to-work appeals by ILA President William V. Bradley.

The stoppage grew out of resentment among ILA members because an anti-strike, anti-boycott injunction issued against the ILA last Thursday was not aimed also at the AFL-ILA and the AFL International Brotherhod of Teamsters (IBT) which is backing the AFL-ILA.

The federal court injunction was issued after a dispute between the ILA on one hand and the AFL-ILA and IBT on the other had caused a partial tieup of waterfront activities for almost a week. The ILA men struck the day after the injunction was issued. The regional office of the NLRB, which had asked for the injunction, filed contempt of court charges on Tuesday against the ILA, eight of its locals and three local officers for alleged violation of the injunction.

Scores of incoming ships have been diverted to Boston, Philadelphia and other ports since the strike began. A number of sailings have been delayed. Some ship movements have been made with office help handling the lines and aiding passengers with their baggage.

Retired Colonel Gets Draft Questionnaire

Richmond, Va., March 11 (AP)—A Mathews county farmer received a selective service questionnaire recently from his Sullivan county, N. Y., draft board.

He reacted energetically. He won't duck the draft. "Far from it," he said. "If my number is up I'm anxious to go."

He wrote to Col. Thomas M. Tarpley Jr., chief of the Virginia military district here, asking assignment to VMD headquarters so he could continue to work his farm while in service. "Otherwise I'll have to sell," he said.

The farmer is Col. William Hones, 61, who retired Nov. 1, 1952 after 41 years in the army. Hones, formerly chief of the Virginia Military District and Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national service director, are personal friends.

up to date by the issuance of loose-leaf sheets as acceptable building standards are developed and appraised by the commission. Information concerning the development of new products, materials, assemblies, devices and methods of construction is furnished local officials, and may be accepted with absolute assurance of safety, after the Building Code Commission recommends them.

Research facilities are provided and each municipality operating under this code, including a staff of trained architects, engineeers and specialists; hence research problems need never concern the municipality operating under the code.

The statement said that after the discussion "a resolution was duly passed by the City Planning Board, recommending that the N. Y. State Building Code be accepted by the City of Kingston."

Lawrence J. MacAvery, local realtor, is chairman of the planning board. The other members are: Augustus S. Brinnier, professional engineer; John A. McCullough, architect; James J. Abernethy, corporation counsel, and A. F. Hallinan, city engineer.

Esopus

Esopus, March 11—The Rev. Fenton C. St. John will conduct services at 10 a. m. in the Methodist Church. Sunday school at 9:15 and Christian teaching on Wednesday at 2:30 for children.

Sunday Masses at Sacred Heart Church are at 8 and 10 a. m. Confessions before each Mass. Each morning of Lent, Mass is offered at 6 a. m., except Saturday when the Mass is at 8 a. m. Novena to Our Lady of Perpetual Help every Wednesday at 8 p. m., followed by Benediction.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lindermann and family spent Sunday in Rhinebeck visiting Mr. and Mrs. Otto Tater and family.

The regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary will be held Tuesday, March 16, at 7 p. m. in the firehouse. A potluck supper will be served.

Boy Scout Troop 82 of Esopus took its first hike last Sunday under supervision of Dave Riley, scoutmaster and Frank Kurtz, assistant scoutmaster.

Gruenther Discouts War . . .

power to stop Russia's might in the sattellite nations, Gruenther said, but U. S. air power is rapidly reaching maturity on an atomic basis.

Within the next three years, Gruenther said, "we will have the potential of launching atomic attack by long range and short range aircraft, by guided missiles, and by artillery."

The biggest threat, he added, is over-confidence — an overconfidence which overlooks the fact that Russia's military might is not standing still and that Russia's attitude has not changed.

Harold E. Stassen, chief of the Foreign Operations Administration, told the forum the U. S. has chosen the role of senior partner in a voluntary union of free peoples "with no military strings attached."

Stassen said this new role was first voiced in President Eisenhowers's offer to share U. S. atomic knowledge "for peaceful use."

This country now, Stassen said, is engaged in a "declared total war, not upon any human enemy, but the brute force of poverty and need."

That program will be carried forward, he said, by providing technical cooperation, economic development and military support with any or all of the 58 nations with which we have reached an understanding.

He reacted energetically. He won't duck the draft. "Far from it," he said. "If my number is up I'm anxious to go."

He wrote to Col. Thomas M. Tarpley Jr., chief of the Virginia military district here, asking assignment to VMD headquarters so he could continue to work his farm while in service. "Otherwise I'll have to sell," he said.

The farmer is Col. William Hones, 61, who retired Nov. 1, 1952 after 41 years in the army. Hones, formerly chief of the Virginia Military District and Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national service director, are personal friends.

Gruenther Discouts War . . .

power to stop Russia's might in the sattellite nations, Gruenther said, but U. S. air power is rapidly reaching maturity on an atomic basis.

Within the next three years, Gruenther said, "we will have the potential of launching atomic attack by long range and short range aircraft, by guided missiles, and by artillery."

The biggest threat, he added, is over-confidence — an overconfidence which overlooks the fact that Russia's military might is not standing still and that Russia's attitude has not changed.

Harold E. Stassen, chief of the Foreign Operations Administration, told the forum the U. S. has chosen the role of senior partner in a voluntary union of free peoples "with no military strings attached."

Stassen said this new role was first voiced in President Eisenhowers's offer to share U. S. atomic knowledge "for peaceful use."

This country now, Stassen said, is engaged in a "declared total war, not upon any human enemy, but the brute force of poverty and need."

That program will be carried forward, he said, by providing technical cooperation, economic development and military support with any or all of the 58 nations with which we have reached an understanding.

Two Sisters Charged

New York, March 11 (AP)—Two sisters have been charged with a $10,00 jewelry theft, allegedly committed while they were on bail as members of a million dollar burglary ring. The charges were lodged against them yesterday for a burglary on Jan. 29. "We wanted to have some ready cash when we got out of jail," a detective quoted one of them as saying. The women, Mary Lou Harris, 29, and Mrs. Grace Harris Jones, 25, of Brooklyn, had been arrested last October as part of an 11-member ring that allegedly committed a series of jewel burglaries in midtown Manhattan luxury apartments. On Tuesday they pleaded guilty to the October charges.

TAKING GUESTS OUT TO DINE

A reader asks: "Is it improper, when one has a house in which one can have people in to dinner, to take guests out to a restaurant to dine? I have no help and when I have to prepare a meal, set the table, serve it, etc., so much of my time is taken up I cannot really enjoy my company, and it is so much easier for my husband and me to take them out, and then come back to the house later to play cards, or whatever else we wish to do. A friend of mine says this kind of dinner-giving is quite all right when you don't have adequate dining space, but when you do, guests should be asked to the house. I would very much like to hear what you have to say about this."

To take your guests out to dinner is entirely proper, although I do think that dining in a private house is much more friendly.

A Shower Question

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to give a "personal trousseau shower" for a friend of mine who is soon to be maried. Before sending out the invitations, I would like to know what you think of including sizes at the bottom of the invitations. For example: "Slip—Size 24," "Stockings—Size 9½," etc. This would not only make it easier for the givers, but also would prevent a lot of exchanging afterwards for correct sizes. Does this plan have your approval?

Answer: I think your idea is very practical, and I do approve.

Thanks for Wedding Checks

Dear Mrs. Post: I received several checks from friends and relatives for wedding presents, and I am at a loss as to how to word my thank-you notes for these gifts. Do I mention the amount—or just how is such a note worded?

Answer: Just write "Thank you for your generous (or very welcomed) gift," and if you know what you are going to buy with it, it would be very nice to say so. For example: "I am going to buy the lovely chair I saw, with it."

Teachers Give Salary Report

The Freeman is printing in four parts the report of the salary revision committee of Kingston public school teachers. The report was presented to the board of education at its regular meeting last Thursday evening. The third part follows:

An examination of the records of service of Kingston teachers brings out the first point of difficulty. There are teachers in the system who have served as many as twenty, thirty, or forty years, all grouped together at the same point in the salary schedule. This is patently unfair but when the salary at this point (the 12th step) is considered—$4,300—does this seem the just reward even for the person who has given only 1/3 of his or her life to teaching in our community?

Allied to this problem, and putting its inequity in even sharper relief is the practice of hiring teachers, new to the system, at salaries which are higher than those paid to people already in the system, regardless of years of service. This practice is not pursued for any malicious reasons, nor is it intended to work hardships on teachers already in the system, although it does. The reason for its use is an obvious one—our salary schedule is not realistic enough to attract the type of teacher the board wishes to hire. To obtain the best personnel, the board must place many of these teachers on steps in the schedule which are:

(a) Above the step equivalent to the new teacher's teaching experience, and

(b) Above the steps occupied by teachers in the system who have equal experience or more.

Problems Listed

Aside from these inequities, which destroy the cohesion so necessary to an effective faculty, there are problems which beset all teachers. The most important of these is the change in school population and its corresponding impact on educational philosophy and practice. It is not the proper business of this report to discuss the metaphysical bases of our education law. Suffice it to say that the law requires that all children up to a certain age be educated and that other factors have combined to keep children in school through the ninth grade and beyond. The chart on the following page illustrates this change in our school population:

While you may legislate all children into school, you cannot legislate them to learn. If teaching is not to be a mockery of its real meaning, adjustments must be made for these children whose educational goals, career objectives, intellectual ability, and home environment differ so radically from high school students of past generations, and from each other.

Strain Is Cited

This means two things to the teacher:

(1) He is under a severe emotional strain which stems from his attempt to reconcile his own high standards with the abilities and interests of his students;

(2) He needs a more thorough, yet diversified type of training than teachers have had in the past.

(Tomorrow: Teacher desire to continue educational studies, financial handicaps and salary objectives are discussed in the final part of the series.)

Says Policy Is Being Completed

Saigon, Indochina, March 11 (AP) —Malcolm MacDonald, British high commissioner for Southeast Asia, said that Gen. Henri Navarre's plan for winning the Indochina war "is being successfully accomplished."

He added that "later this year the victories should begin."

Britain's top official in this corner of Asia expressing his optimistic views on the long and bloody war after a month of on-the-spot conversations with French and Indochinese leaders here, in northern Indochina and in the kingdoms of Laos and Cambodia.

He told a new conference that "no one in his senses would suggest that the Vietminh are not still a very potent danger to the whole of Indochina and to neighboring countries. But I am confident that by military, political and diplomatic action the French, Vientnamese, Cambodian and Laotian forces and the governments of France and the associated states. Firmly supported by America and Britain, can avert the threat, restore peace and ensure the freedom of the Indochinese peoples."

Police Sergeant Injured

New York, March 11 (AP) — A hand grenade exploded in the hands of a police munitions expert yesterday while he checked a vast supply of explosives seized last Friday from alleged Cuban revolutionaries. Taken to a hospital in serious condition was Sgt. Peter J. Dale, 50, head of the police bomb squad and specialist in taking apart bombs, shells and mines. Two detectives and an army captain working with Dale were also injured by the explosion at the outdoor proving ground of the Fort Tilden Anti-Aircraft Station. Dale, who lives in the Bronx, has seven children.

Glamorous Brenda Is Spared Ordeal

New York, March 11 (AP)—Glamorous Brenda Frazier Kelly, pictured on the verge of a "psychotic state," has been spared giving testimony in the assault trial of Pietro Francesco Mele, Italian movie director and society playboy.

The 30-year-old Mele is accused of battling and battering policemen who tried to escort him from Mrs. Kelly's Park avenue apartment last Nov. 10. Mele apparently had entered the apartment despite the objections of the dark-haired society belle, 1938's debutante of the year. The couple had spent the evening nightclubbing.

The trial opened yesterday in Special Sessions Court with testimony by Mrs. Kelly's chauffeur and three patrolmen.

The chauffeur, Gerald Kelly, said Mele wanted to go upstairs for a good-night drink but that Mrs. Kelly said "no." He said Mele went up anyway.

Patrolmen Duncan Christie and William Murray and Sgt. William Kelly all told of Mele's battle in the apartment and out into the street.

As a result of a kick in the groin, Christie said, he was hospitalized for seven days.

Police Sergeant Injured

New York, March 11 (AP)—A hand grenade exploded in the hands of a police munitions expert yesterday while he checked a vast supply of explosives seized last Friday from alleged Cuban revolutionaries. Taken to a hospital in serious condition was Sgt. Peter J. Dale, 50, head of the police bomb squad and specialist in taking apart bombs, shells and mines. Two detectives and an army captain working with Dale were also injured by the explosion at the outdoor proving ground of the Fort Tilden Anti-Aircraft Station. Dale, who lives in the Bronx, has seven children.

BOOK REVIEW

To further increase interest in the Kingston Library the following review by Mrs. G. Cramer Dodge is published.

THE GOLDEN AGE OF HOMESPUN

By Jared Van Wagenen, Jr.

The author, who has spent all of his long lifetime, except a few years at college, as a working farmer upon his ancestral acres in east central New York state, has, from his own experience and observation and from records of the past, written a glowing account of the courageous efforts, the ingenuity, the steady unremitting toil, the quaint manners and customs which made up the life of our pioneering forefathers in that period between the end of the Revolutionary and the beginning of the Civil wars, which he aptly calls the Golden Age of Homespun.

Many of us have a vague idea, more have never known about the grim struggle of those early settlers to clear the wilderness, build their rude shelters and somehow wrest from the virgin soil food for their simple needs. Mr. Van Wagenen has carefully collected detailed information about how, step by step, these hardy pioneers labored with only the crudest of implements to secure the blessing of a home of their own.

First he tells about the first step—clearing the land. His ox-team, his axe and his firebrand his only tools except his skill, his high courage and his acceptance of a life of toil, which together made success possible. Then he describes the building of the home. The first ones were crude, one-room log cabins, the chinks plugged with clay, having as its main feature a big open fire place for comfort, cooking and cheer.

Next step were the crops. The first ones planted between the stumps of the clearing. First the grains—wheat, oats, rye, barley, buckwheat and corn (the Indians' maize). Except for a few root vegetables and greens that was about all for the first years until the soil could be further tamed and the stumps uprooted—a back-breaking job. Contrary to popular belief, there was very little fish or game to be had near at hand. These first settlers nearly starved.

However the next years were better. More land was cleared and there were bigger crops of grain. Soon on every stream there were grist mills to grind flour for bread, cereals and the universally popular buckwheat pancakes. Maple trees were tapped and there was plenty of syrup and sugar and —when there was time — gay sugaring-off parties to relieve the tedium of lives that were mostly hard work. Vegetables were planted and grew well in the rich, loamy soil, fertilized by centuries of leaf mold. Livestock was gradually acquired—cows, pigs, chickens and later horses. Soon it could be said that the farmer produced everything needed for his family—food, shelter and clothing within his own fence lines.

Still later there were various artisans and craftsmen with special training and skills from whom the farmer obtained (mostly by barter) his various needs. There were coopers to make barrels for cider, vinegar, etc., sap buckets in great numbers, butter tubs, etc. Tanners to prepare hides from his cattle—one of the earliest and best of these was our local Zadoc Pratt of Prattsville, Greene county. Leather craftsmen and cobblers to make his harness and shoes. Saw mills to cut and plane his lumber. Wheelwrights to make and repair his wagons; blacksmiths to shoe his horses; charcoal burners; lime burners; brick makers; stonecutters; basket makers and a host of joiners, carpenters nd other woodworkers, who made our first plows, threshers, scythes, grain cradles, reapers and many other farm implements.

Butchering was done on the tarm, so were threshing, sheep-shearing and many other difficult chores. And lest you think the farm women had nothing to do, there was the grisly job of cleaning, salting, packing and later cooking pounds and pounds of freshly-killed pigs, cows, sheep, lambs, chickens, etc., and in between carding the wool, combing the flax and, for relaxation, spinning and weaving woolens and linens and making them into clothing, sheets, tablecloths, blankets, etc.

It is only natural for us to take for granted the many, many luxuries and conveniences which the machine age makes our living so much easier. However it is good to have such an authentic record of the past to remind us that these marvels did not come without effort. They were evolved from the sweat of our forefathers' brows.

Just, for instance, compare our network of thruways for easy motoring with the old tollroads built by these pioneers. In this connection the author tells the meaning of the phrase, "To mill or meeting." In the days of toll roads it was commonly agreed that the payment of toll must be waived if the traveler could show that he was on his way to either gristmill or church. Tell that to your State Trooper.

The book contains many sketches of old-time utensils, most of them based on actual objects in the Farmers' Museum in Cooperstown, N. Y.

When washing flannels, add a teaspoon of powdered borax to each quart of rinse water to keep the material soft.

Mayor Stang Buys First Box of Girl Scout Cookies

Mayor Frederick H. Stang is the first purchaser of the popular Girl Scout Cookies which will be sold all this week by scout members. He is buying the initial box from Lorraine Nessel of Troop 43 while Mrs. Richard Holbrook, adviser of this troop and Ruth Ann Stephens, of Troop No. 72 look on. On March 19 and 20 the cookies will be sold in local stores, in a continuation of the drive to raise funds to stretch the budget for an extra six months. The date of the annual drive has been changed from March to October. (Freeman photo)

VFW to Sponsor Cub Scout Pack

Papers were filed today with the local office of Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, for the formation of a new Cub Scout Pack and Boy Scout Troop by Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

This announcement was made by Scout Executive George V. Dennis, who revealed that the application for the organization of the pack and troop has been turned over to the Organization and Extension Committee of the scout council.

Hubert A. Richter, commander of Joyce-Schirick Post, VFW, said that the work with youth of the community is a basic principle of the VFW and that the formation of the scout units was in line with the organization's policies. He further revealed that W. Sherrill Keyser would be the Institutional Representative of the VFW for the scout units.

Active organization of the new Cub Pack has already begun, said the VFW commander, and experienced personnel for the operation of the cub pack will soon be announced.

Wild Cotton

Cotton grew wild in many of the world's nations at one time and the Greeks called it "tree wool."

Mt. Tremper

Mt. Tremper, March 10—Members of the Onteora Hose Company held their first work party on the new firehouse in two months Sunday morning. They set several rafters on the roof.

Clyde Smith is putting the finishing touches on the stock car he has built during the winter months. He plans to enter and drive the car in the future stock car races.

Mrs. Francis Lane returned Sunday from an extended visit to her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Woodworth in Scottsburg, Ind. Her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lane, drove to Scottsburg to bring Mrs. Lane home by car. On the way home they visited Chicago, St. Louis and Canada.

The Town of Shandaken Blood Bank will hold its annual donation night March 24 at the parish hall, Phoenicia. The blood mobile unit will be stationed at the hall from 7 to 10 p. m. on that date. The Blood Bank functions exclusively for the residents of the Township of Shandaken and is not associated with the Red Cross. Prospective donors in the Mt. Tremper-Mt. Pleasant area are asked to call Mrs. Howard Umhey at Phoenicia 3509 for further details. Those unable to give blood may assist this worthy cause by donating sandwiches, cake, coffee or tea, which will be served to the donors that night.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hirschberg of New York and Mt. Tremper spent the weekend at their home on the Wittenberg road.

Vernon Barnhart, Ulster County Grange deputy master, paid his annual visit to Mt. Tremper Grange 1468 Monday night. He was accompanied by Mrs. Barnhart. In his address to the members, Deputy Barnhart praised the local Grange for its community service work. He particularly cited the fire escape which Grange members voluntarily built onto the church hall. He also commended the order for its work on behalf of various charities.

Mrs. R. Carlton Hoyt returned early this week from Brooklyn where she had the cast removed from her arm. Mrs. Hoyt injured her wrist several weeks ago in Brooklyn while she was visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Hoyt at their Flatbush home.

Two Times

The modern world uses two kinds of time: sidereal time, which is absolutely correct, and solar time, which is not entirely accurate except on or about March 21 of each year. This latter time scale is the one in common usage.

Wheelwrights to make and repair his wagons; blacksmiths to shoe his horses; charcoal burners; lime burners; brick makers; stonecutters; basket makers and a host of joiners, carpenters nd other woodworkers, who made our first plows, threshers, scythes, grain cradles, reapers and many other farm implements.

Butchering was done on the farm, so were threshing, sheep-shearing and many other difficult chores. And lest you think the farm women had nothing to do, there was the grisly job of cleaning, salting, packing and later cooking pounds and pounds of freshly-killed pigs, cows, sheep, lambs, chickens, etc., and in between carding the wool, combing the flax and, for relaxation, spinning and weaving woolens and linens and making them into clothing, sheets, tablecloths, blankets, etc.

It is only natural for us to take for granted the many, many luxuries and conveniences which the machine age makes our living so much easier. However it is good to have such an authentic record of the past to remind us that these marvels did not come without effort. They were evolved from the sweat of our forefathers' brows.

Just, for instance, compare our network of thruways for easy motoring with the old tollroads built by these pioneers. In this connection the author tells the meaning of the phrase, "To mill or meeting." In the days of toll roads it was commonly agreed that the payment of toll must be waived if the traveler could show that he was on his way to either gristmill or church. Tell that to your State Trooper.

The book contains many sketches of old-time utensils, most of them based on actual objects in the Farmers' Museum in Cooperstown, N. Y.

Wild Cotton

When washing flannels, add a teaspoon of powdered borax to each quart of rinse water to keep the material soft.

Mayor Stang Buys First Box of Girl Scout Cookies

Mayor Frederick H. Stang is the first purchaser of the popular Girl Scout Cookies which will be sold all this week by scout members. He is buying the initial box from Lorraine Nessel of Troop 43 while Mrs. Richard Holbrook, adviser of this troop and Ruth Ann Stephens, of Troop No. 72 look on. On March 19 and 20 the cookies will be sold in local stores, in a continuation of the drive to raise funds to stretch the budget for an extra six months. The date of the annual drive has been changed from March to October. (Freeman photo)

VFW to Sponsor Cub Scout Pack

Papers were filed today with the local office of Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, for the formation of a new Cub Scout Pack and Boy Scout Troop by Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

This announcement was made by Scout Executive George V. Dennis, who revealed that the application for the organization of the pack and troop has been turned over to the Organization and Extension Committee of the scout council.

Hubert A. Richter, commander of Joyce-Schirick Post, VFW, said that the work with youth of the community is a basic principle of the VFW and that the formation of the scout units was in line with the organization's policies. He further revealed that W. Sherrill Keyser would be the Institutional Representative of the VFW for the scout units.

Active organization of the new Cub Pack has already begun, said the VFW commander, and experienced personnel for the operation of the cub pack will soon be announced.

Mt. Tremper

Mt. Tremper, March 10—Members of the Onteora Hose Company held their first work party on the new firehouse in two months Sunday morning. They set several rafters on the roof.

Clyde Smith is putting the finishing touches on the stock car he has built during the winter months. He plans to enter and drive the car in the future stock car races.

Mrs. Francis Lane returned Sunday from an extended visit to her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Woodworth in Scottsburg, Ind. Her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lane, drove to Scottsburg to bring Mrs. Lane home by car. On the way home they visited Chicago, St. Louis and Canada.

The Town of Shandaken Blood Bank will hold its annual donation night March 24 at the parish hall, Phoenicia. The blood mobile unit will be stationed at the hall from 7 to 10 p. m. on that date. The Blood Bank functions exclusively for the residents of the Township of Shandaken and is not associated with the Red Cross. Prospective donors in the Mt. Tremper-Mt. Pleasant area are asked to call Mrs. Howard Umhey at Phoenicia 3509 for further details. Those unable to give blood may assist this worthy cause by donating sandwiches, cake, coffee or tea, which will be served to the donors that night.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hirschberg of New York and Mt. Tremper spent the weekend at their home on the Wittenberg road.

Vernon Barnhart, Ulster County Grange deputy master, paid his annual visit to Mt. Tremper Grange 1468 Monday night. He was accompanied by Mrs. Barnhart. In his address to the members, Deputy Barnhart praised the local Grange for its community service work. He particularly cited the fire escape which Grange members voluntarily built onto the church hall. He also commended the order for its work on behalf of various charities.

Mrs. R. Carlton Hoyt returned early this week from Brooklyn where she had the cast removed from her arm. Mrs. Hoyt injured her wrist several weeks ago in Brooklyn while she was visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Hoyt at their Flatbush home.

Two Times

The modern world uses two kinds of time: sidereal time, which is absolutely correct, and solar time, which is not entirely accurate except on or about March 21 of each year. This latter time scale is the one in common usage.

McCarthy to Give terview today he interpreted the President's words as indicating concern that his legislative program might be lost sight of in wrangling over McCarthy and his controversal investigations.

Ferguson said that without disparaging McCarthy's activities, he and other leaders feel the Eisenhower program will be the "big issue" of this year's campaign for control of Congress.

"The leadership is trying to keep the big issues before the people, the issues that affect their welfare and livelihood," Ferguson said.

Similarly, Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, said last night he fears that continued controversy over McCarthy within the party "would be dangerous to our legislative program." He added, in an NBC radio interview, that "I would certainly hope this running discussion will not be continued on the floor."

Knowland Comment

Asked to comment on Eisenhower's handling of the McCarthy furor, Knowland said: "There is no power in the presidency under which a President can purge a senator. The President understands that. In past administrations that was tried without notable success."

McCarthy, perhaps taking the line he may employ in any reply he makes tonight to Flanders, told newsmen:

"There's a tremendous, concerted effort to cut down the investigation of Communists. A very few Republicans are joining in it. It's so easy for a Republican to be a hero in the eyes of the left wing press by interfering in the investigation of communism—I'm happy they are so few."

Asked to list the "few Republicans" he had in mind, McCarthy grinned and said "no comment."

He described Flanders as "one of the finest old gentlemen I know."

McCarthy and Eisenhower met last night at a dinner honoring Senate Republican leaders and Sen. Bridges (R.-N.H.) reported, shook hands "in a friendly fashion." Other senators who attended said the two greeted one another cordially.

Stays With Members

When the party broke up, McCarthy stayed behind with GOP members of his investigating subcommittee and with Knowland and Sen. Bricker (R.-Ohio). There was no indication what they discussed at a hour-long huddle.

Flanders, who told his Senate colleagues Tuesday that McCarthy was "doing his best to shatter" the GOP got what he termed a "nice letter" from Eisenhower, but declined to make it public. At his news conference, Eisenhower voiced endorsement of key portions of Flanders' speech.

As did Ferguson, Flanders said in an interview he thinks more emphasis should be placed on the legislative program.

"The President's program is being overlooked in all of this hullabaloo and McCarthy has engineered a lot of the overlooking," he said. "We've got to get back to the program and because it is not going to be easy to sell we've got to get at selling it."

Deluge of Mail

Flanders said he had received a deluge of mail and telegrams since his speech criticizing McCarthy.

Saying that the letters range from "'drop dead' to hero worship," he added: "They are plus and minus. Some of the minus are very minus and some of the plus are very plus."

By contrast, an overwhelmingly favorable reaction was reported by CBS in New York to a TV show put on Tuesday night by commentator Edward R. Murrow, who said McCarthy repeatedly has overstepped the boundary between investigating and persecuting.

The network last night said that with reaction still coming in, the breakdown was:

Telephone calls: Favoring the program, 8,841; protesting, 697.

Telegrams: Favoring the program, 2,764; protesting, 86.

The total telephone calls included a Los Angeles tabulation of 805 favorable and 23 protesting. CBS said it did not have figures from its outlets in other cities.

Murrow used films and recordings and said they showed that McCarthy employed half-truths as a staple item. He also accused the senator of confusing the public.

Offers Opportunity

He offered McCarthy opportunity to reply on the same program sometime later. McCarthy said he was considering the offer, but wanted some information on what role Murrow would play.

In any event, he declared, his appearance on the Mutual program tonight would be no substitute for the free time he has demanded from NBC and CBS to reply to Stevenson. The Democrats' titular head had labeled the GOP "half McCarthy, half Eisenhower."

The networks, granting time to the National Committee for Nixon's speech Saturday night, refused McCarthy's bid.

McCarthy and Flanders exchanged handshakes and engaged in some horseplay in the capitol yesterday. When flanders offered his hand, McCarthy grasped it, threw an arm around the Vermonter's shoulders and told him:

"You vote less for the Republicans than any other member of the party so quit advising me how to be a good Republican."

While Flanders was sitting in his Senate seat, McCarthy walked up behind him and playfully put his hands around Flanders' neck in a choking motion. Startled, Flanders sprang to his feet, saw who it was and they both laughed.

McCarthy also had a luncheon talk with Secretary of Defense Wilson, who last week described as "damn tommyrot" any contention that the army has been coddling Communists. The senator had vowed with Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens in the wake of an inquiry into the case of a New York dentist whom McCarthy called a "Fifth Amendment Communist."

After the luncheon, McCarthy said he and Wilson had no argument, and he added that the secretary "has been active a lot longer than I have in getting rid of Communists."

Vessels Are Used

officials at air defense command headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo., have indicated that plans are being made to extend the seagoing warning network to the Great Lakes within the next month.

The test was described this way:

Selected ships and smaller craft equipped with radio-telephone report aircraft seen or heard, day or night, by ship-to-shore call to certain air force filter centers. Filter centers participating in the recent test were at Trenton, N. J.; Baltimore, Md., and Richmond, Va.

Receive Reports

Such centers receive reports from all ground observer posts, plot the reports on a large map board and call the aircraft tracks to radar stations. These radar stations, evaluating all available intelligence, can alert jet fighters to intercept unidentified aircraft in a matter of minutes.

Offers of cooperation were received by the air force as word of the aircraft spotting test spread among ship owners, officers and crews. The Coast Guard sent information to maritime circles, and asked for cooperation with the air force. The Sun Oil Co., for instance, volunteered the services of 15 of its coastal tankers.

The Ground Observer Corps, now organized in 36 states, is made up on volunteer civilian air spotters. The filter centers also are manned by volunteers, trained and supervised by air force personnel.

More than 325,000 volunteers are enrolled in the nation, in 12,000 observation posts and 49 filter centers. The air defense command is seeking an additional 200,000 volunteers.

Adult Classes Have Window Displays

Store windows throughout uptown Kingston this week are displaying the work of students in the adult education classes sponsored by the Kingston Board of Education.

Exhibits include products of classes in dress making and sewing, hooked rug making, ceramics, metal craft and machine shop, painting, working.

Classes meet once or twice weekly at the Vocational School. Hubert Hoderath is director of the adult education program.

The current exhibit, third annual display to be arranged, will remain on public view through the end of this week and in some stores for part or all of next week.

Participating stores include the House of Flowers, Leventhal's, Dederick's Drugs, Wonderly's, J. C. Penney Co., Herzog's, The Paris, Union-Fern, Shults Paint Company, Montgomery Ward, and the J. J. Newberry Company.

Most Poisonous

Mushrooms of the Amanita group cause more deaths than all other poisonous mushrooms combined. No antidote is known for their poison, the chemical action of which is not understood.

Omaha, largest city in Nebraska, is the world's second largest livestock market.

Completed works from two adult education classes in art, the Monday-Wednesday and the Tuesday-Thursday groups, of Kingston High School are on display this week in the window of Shults Paint Store, North Front street. Oils, charcoal drawings and pastels which have been done by the beginner and intermediate pupils of Richard Jeffery of Woodstock, were taken from still-life setups in the three-hour class. Rotary Hears Report On District Meeting

Robert L. Sabin, manager of television station WKNY-TV, which is nearing completion, addressed the Rotary Club Wednesday at its weekly-luncheon meeting at the Hotel Stuyvesant.

Advantages of a local station, network affiliations, programming and installation were discussed by the speaker.

President Larry V. Bogert reported on the recent district convention held at Troy. This was the final district meeting of the 255th. The large district has been split up and Kingston Rotary becomes a member of the 257th district, which embraces the territory from Westchester county to Albany.

The program for participation in charitable, educational and civic endeavors was unanimously passed by the club.

The sales were held from the American Legion rooms. Mrs. Jesse Alexander is general chairman.

Miss Rowena Harcourt entertains the UD Society Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Seaman returned Friday from a trip to New Orleans, La., and various points in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Krischer are parents of a daughter born March 8 at State College, Pa. The baby has been named Karen Lynn. Mrs. Krischer is the former Miss Patricia Coy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Coy.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Blakely and Mr. and Mrs. John Blakely, Jr., Poughkeepsie, visited Mrs. Jesse Alexander Sunday.

The annual rummage sale held by the WSCS will be May 13 and 14 with Mrs. Lorin E. Osterhoudt as chairman. This was arranged at the meeting of the society Friday afternoon in the Methodist Church parlor when Mrs. Luther Filkins presided at a short business meeting before attending the World Day of Prayer service. Mrs. Charles L. DuBois will act as greeting committee for this month and Mrs. Philip Wilklow and Mrs. Gordon Wilcox as housekeepers. The society is having choir robes cleaned and has also made plans for the fourth quarterly conference this week. The April meeting will be held in a home on an evening when the speaker will come from Sydney speaking on the general topic, Who Are Guilty? He will be one of the state police who speak before groups.

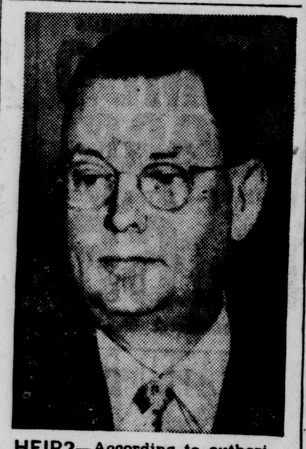
At a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held in the town hall, Meredith Turner serving with Philip Messina, Peter Burdash, Alfred Haefeli and Vincent Rizzi, submitted a slate of candidates to be voted upon March 23: President, James R. Sleight; vice-president, Leo Rizzo, Peter Roumelis; secretary, Guy Torsone; treasurer, Miss Katherine Tantillo, Vincent Rizzi; two directors for three-year term, John Weisgerber, Dr. Leo Silvern, David Tinacci, Henry Robinson, Natt Gadaleto. The questionnaires sent out earlier in the winter are asked to be returned by March 15.

Danny Canora will be in charge of costumes; Anthony DeMare, town decorations; W. H. Haviland, a display of products; Alfred and Louis LaFalce and Albert Roberts, rodeo. Suggestions for a fitting name for the four days is to be sent to David Murphy this week.

A dessert lunch was served Thursday preceding the meeting of Chapter APEO at the home of Mrs. Robert Cole, Marlborough. At the election of officers which followed those already serving were reelected and installed as follows: Mrs. E. L. Dalby, president; Mrs. Perry Wilson, vice president; Mrs. Mildred Percy, recording secretary; Mrs. Henry Swift, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Louis E. Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Edgar Boyce, chaplain; Mrs. Meredith Turner, guard. The Great River of the Mountains is the subject of the program for March 18 in charge of Mrs. Arthur Clarke.

Sea Is Avoided

Birds avoid the Dead Sea because it contains no fish, and little plant life can grow because of the saltiness of the water.



HEIR?—According to authoritative sources, Robert B. Anderson will succeed Roger M. Kyes as deputy defense secretary on May 1. Anderson, 43, is the youngest member of C. E. Wilson's defense team.

AMERICAN MENU

Fish Mousse Is Year-Round Favorite With Texas Men

TEXAS FISH MOUSSE is a year-round favorite in the Lone Star state.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Nea Food and Markets Editor

There is more to Texas eating than barbecues and chili. We asked a mother of three boys in Dallas about this, Mrs. Douglas Ridley. She told us her fish mousse is a year-round favorite with her menfolks, both in winter and during the hot Texas summer. So let's see how it tastes.

Fish Mousse
(Makes 6 to 8 servings)

One package of frozen fish fillets, 2 cups light cream, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 cups soft bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 medium onion, minced, 4 egg whites, pimiento.

Put raw fish fillets through food chopper, using fine blade. Heat cream to boiling point but do not boil. Add butter or margarine. Remove from heat and stir in bread crumbs, salt and minced onion. Stir in fish and blend well. Let mixture cool to lukewarm. Beat egg whites until very stiff and fold into fish mixture. Pour into greased 8-inch ring mold. Place mold in a pan of hot water and bake at 350 degrees F. (moderate oven) 30 minutes. Turn mold out onto platter. Garnish top with pimiento strips. Fill center with peas or other vegetable.

Another family favorite is shrimp. Combining it with bread and tomatoes in this shrimp scallop not only stretches 1½ pounds of shrimp to feed a family of five, but also provides a one-dish meal which includes everything a main course should provide: sea food, vegetables and bread.

Shrimp Scallop
(Makes 4 servings)

One and one-half pound shrimp, fresh or frozen; 6 slices bread, 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 No. 2 can stewed tomatoes.

Clean and cook shrimp. Stacking 3 slices of bread at a time, cut off crusts and cube bread to make 6 pieces out of each slice. Melt butter or margarine in a frying pan. Add bread cubes and toss in butter until well coated.

Turn heat down and continue cooking, stirring frequently until bread is brown and crisp. Put a layer of bread cubes in the bottom of a 1½-quart baking dish. Add stewed tomatoes and shrimp. Top with remaining bread cubes. Bake at 400 degrees F. (hot oven) until tomatoes are bubbly and hot, about 10 minutes.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Grapefruit juice, hot fish mousse with buttered peas, baked potatoes, buttered carrots, crusty bread, butter or margarine, canned fruit, oatmeal and nut cookies, tea, coffee, milk.

Danny Canora will be in charge of costumes; Anthony DeMare, town decorations; W. H. Haviland, a display of products; Alfred and Louis LaFalce and Albert Roberts, rodeo. Suggestions for a fitting name for the four days is to be sent to David Murphy this week.

A dessert lunch was served Thursday preceding the meeting of Chapter APEO at the home of Mrs. Robert Cole, Marlborough. At the election of officers which followed those already serving were reelected and installed as follows: Mrs. E. L. Dalby, president; Mrs. Perry Wilson, vice president; Mrs. Mildred Percy, recording secretary; Mrs. Henry Swift, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Louis E. Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Edgar Boyce, chaplain; Mrs. Meredith Turner, guard. The Great River of the Mountains is the subject of the program for March 18 in charge of Mrs. Arthur Clarke.

Sea Is Avoided

Birds avoid the Dead Sea because it contains no fish, and little plant life can grow because of the saltiness of the water.

HEIR?—According to authoritative sources, Robert B. Anderson will succeed Roger M. Kyes as deputy defense secretary on May 1. Anderson, 43, is the youngest member of C. E. Wilson's defense team.

AMERICAN MENU

Fish Mousse Is Year-Round Favorite With Texas Men

TEXAS FISH MOUSSE is a year-round favorite in the Lone Star state.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Nea Food and Markets Editor

There is more to Texas eating than barbecues and chili. We asked a mother of three boys in Dallas about this, Mrs. Douglas Ridley. She told us her fish mousse is a year-round favorite with her menfolks, both in winter and during the hot Texas summer. So let's see how it tastes.

Fish Mousse
(Makes 6 to 8 servings)

One package of frozen fish fillets, 2 cups light cream, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 cups soft bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 medium onion, minced, 4 egg whites, pimiento.

Put raw fish fillets through food chopper, using fine blade. Heat cream to boiling point but do not boil. Add butter or margarine. Remove from heat and stir in bread crumbs, salt and minced onion. Stir in fish and blend well. Let mixture cool to lukewarm. Beat egg whites until very stiff and fold into fish mixture. Pour into greased 8-inch ring mold. Place mold in a pan of hot water and bake at 350 degrees F. (moderate oven) 30 minutes. Turn mold out onto platter. Garnish top with pimiento strips. Fill center with peas or other vegetable.

Another family favorite is shrimp. Combining it with bread and tomatoes in this shrimp scallop not only stretches 1½ pounds of shrimp to feed a family of five, but also provides a one-dish meal which includes everything a main course should provide: sea food, vegetables and bread.

Shrimp Scallop
(Makes 4 servings)

One and one-half pound shrimp, fresh or frozen; 6 slices bread, 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 No. 2 can stewed tomatoes.

Clean and cook shrimp. Stacking 3 slices of bread at a time, cut off crusts and cube bread to make 6 pieces out of each slice. Melt butter or margarine in a frying pan. Add bread cubes and toss in butter until well coated.

Turn heat down and continue cooking, stirring frequently until bread is brown and crisp. Put a layer of bread cubes in the bottom of a 1½-quart baking dish. Add stewed tomatoes and shrimp. Top with remaining bread cubes. Bake at 400 degrees F. (hot oven) until tomatoes are bubbly and hot, about 10 minutes.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Timing Is Vital For Good Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

It is often necessary to hold up even when you have two stoppers in the enemy's suit at no-trump. As a general rule, the right time to hold up is at the very first trick. In today's hand, however, more careful timing is necessary.

West opens the five of spades, and East plays the king. If South refuses this trick, as George Coffin points out, he will lose his contract. East shifts to a heart instead of continuing spades.

South must develop tricks in both minor suits in order to make his contract. The defenders get in once in diamonds to knock out declarer's second stopper in hearts, and they get in again with the king of clubs to run the hearts. They take two hearts and one trick in each of the other suits.

South must win the first trick with the ace of spades and must immediately knock out the ace of diamonds. If West continues with the spades, South refuses the second trick in that suit.

Now South is safe from harm. If the defenders continue with the spades, South can win and take the club finesse. East cannot lead another spade after taking the king of clubs, and the defenders can therefore take only one club, one diamond, and one spade.

If the defenders switch to hearts after being allowed to hold the second round of spades, they are too late to bring the hearts in. South can take the ace of hearts and knock out the king of clubs. He will then regain the lead with the king of hearts in time to run the rest of the tricks.

The Clintondale Community Youth Fellowship, a program sponsored cooperatively by members of the Clintondale Friends and Methodist Churches, under the leadership of Mark Peery and John E. Swords, ministers, had its first meeting Sunday night at Clintondale Methodist Church. After a period of recreational singing the young people settled down for study in two groups, one for junior high school students, one for high school youth. The worship program, led by youth, was followed by a business meeting and election of officers as follows: Art Miller, secretary and publicity chairman; Junior DeGroadt, treasurer; Nicholas Eichler and Ralph Harcourt, refreshment committee; Gordon Harcourt and Frank Onita, recreation committee. The election of president and vice-president was deferred to a later date. A recreation period and serving of refreshments concluded the evening's program. The group decided to meet weekly on Tuesday evenings at 7 the next one being Tuesday, March 16, at the Clintondale Methodist Church.

To Speak at Columbia

Washington, March 11 (AP)—President Eisenhower goes back to the scene of his other presidency to speak May 31. The occasion is a pre-convocation dinner sponsored by Columbia University, which he headed before going to the White House. Another presidential engagement announced yesterday was for the annual dinner of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., New York, April 22.

Takes Fight to Court

New York, March 11 (AP)—The producer of "Strike It Rich," a radio and TV quiz show, has taken to court his fight against a city demand that the show be licensed as a fund-raising organization. A complaint and summons, returnable in State Supreme Court today, have been served on City Welfare Commissioner Henry L. McCarthy, Producer Walt Framer announced yesterday. McCarthy has demanded that the show get a welfare department license because it raises funds for chance to tell about their troubles contestants, who are given a or those of someone they want to help.

Party Will Close Program of 42nd Girl Scout Week

Woodstock, Marc 10—As the climax of the celebration this week of the 42nd birthday of Girl Scouting, the Girl Scouts and Brownies of this village will hold a party Friday, March 12, at the Woodstock School, at 3:30 p. m. Mrs. Leo Herbert, community chairman of the Woodstock Community Council, which met Tuesday night at the school, announced that there will also be an investiture of three girls.

The party will be highlighted by the presentation of an original play by the members of Troop 74, under the direction of Mrs. Theodore Lee. The cast for the play is as follows: Little Girl, Lynne Herbert; Her Mother, Roseanne Stolpinski; Doctor, Sharon DeLisio; Choral Readers, Dawn Effner, Joan Effner, Candy Locke, Ann Russell, Doris Mellin, Elsie Ross, Ellen Ross; Pantomime Actors, Libby Lee, Hannah Barth and Bonnie Wilbur.

It was reported by Mrs. Charles King and Mrs. Donald Jackson, co-chairmen of the Girl Scout cookie sale, which was launched Monday afternoon, that the sale is going exceedingly well. In connection with the sale, the Woodstock Branch of the Bank of Orange County has made available its window for an exhibit which was arranged by Mrs. John Wolven. The models and outfits used in the exhibit were loaned by London's, which is the official Girl Scout equipment center for this area.

Mrs. Herbert also announced the following nominating committee for this council: Mrs. Theodore Lee, chairman, Mrs. Thomas Dendy and Mrs. Robert Gordon. A resolution was passed that the committee for troop organization be formed of officers of the community council plus one leader from each troop.

Mrs. Charles Rapp, who has just completed four years as a board member of the Ulster County Girl Scout Council, reported on the meeting held last Friday in Kingston. She gave a detailed account of the actions taken by the board, the budget presented and the policies scheduled for consideration at the annual meeting. She spoke of the fine work which had been done by Mrs. Gordon Anderson, member of this council, who has served for the past two years as county treasurer.

Announcement was made by Mrs. Rapp that a training program, provided by the county council will be held in Woodstock in April, for the purpose of instructing leaders, assistant leaders and potential leaders. Dates for this important program will be announced later. It was also announced that on May 8, there will be an outdoor basic training program at Camp Wendy.

A report will be made in April by Mrs. Gordon Anderson, who was appointed chairman of the budget committee for this council, on funds to be allotted for programs, organization and training.

The secretary's report was read by Mrs. C. J. Van Rijn and the treasurer's by Mrs. Hans Cohn.

The next meeting of the Girl Scout Community Council will be held at the school on Monday, April 5, at 8:30 p. m.

Crafts Sale

Woodstock, March 10 — Each year Crafts Co-operative makes available to its clientele a small selection of "seconds." These items have imperfections of some kind — some slight — some quite noticeable—and are therefore sold at a fraction of the price of the perfect piece. One counter in the shop will be given over to these seconds for 10 days beginning March 15. The ship is still on its winter schedule, open daily, except Wednesday and Sunday, from 1 to 5 p. m.

Health Luncheon

Woodstock, March 10—A spaghetti luncheon for the benefit of the Woodstock Health Nursing Committee, will be held Thursday, March 18, from 12 noon to 1:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Victor Busch in Bearsville. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Busch, Woodstock 9403. Proceeds will go towards the committee's fund to maintain its various projects including the dental clinic for children, the recreation program for girls, and others.

Art on Display

Woodstock, March 10—A water color, titled Woodstock, by Russell F. Rypsam, artist of Bearsville and New York, and also art editor of Quick magazine, is included in the annual exhibition of water colors which opened March 6, at the Salmagundi Club, 47 Fifth avenue, New York. The show will remain on view through March 26.

Mrs. Schoonmaker Resigns as President

Woodstock, March 10 — Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker tended her resignation as president of the Woodstock Township Democratic Club at the regular monthly meeting last Monday night held at her home. The membership accepted her resignation with regret and offered her a vote of thanks for her efforts and interest in the organization.

Mrs. Roland d'Albis, the present vice president, will serve out the unexpired term.

The next meeting will be held April 12, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Funk. All members will be notified of this meeting through the mail and by a chain telephone system. Mrs. d'Albis wishes to urge all those Democrats in the township who haven't joined the club, but who wish to do so, to attend this meeting.

Riding Meeting

Woodstock, March 10 — There will be a special meeting of the Woodstock Riding Club in the basement of the Dutch Reformed Church, Thursday, March 18, at 8 p. m.

Son Born

Woodstock, March 10—Mr. and Mrs. Allan Nissen, of Delhi, are the parents of a son, Terry Nissen, born March 4, weighing nine pounds. Mrs. Nissen is the daughter of Mrs. Dorthy Cantway, formerly of Woodstock.

Meeting in Willow

Woodstock, March 11 — The Southern District convention of the Champlain Conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church will be held in Willow, Friday. Services will be at 10:30 a. m., 1:30 p. m., and 7:30 p. m. The evening speaker will be the Rev. Reginald Hewitt, president of the conference.

Target Practice

Woodstock, March 11 — The members of the Woodstock Rifle and Pistol Club will meet at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium, March 12, at 7 p. m., for an evening of target practice. Members should bring their own weapons and ammunition.

Home Bureau Discusses Plan for New Classes

Woodstock, March 11—A St. Patrick's Day theme and decorations provided a colorful background for the regular monthly meeting of the Woodstock unit of the Home Bureau, Tuesday afternoon in the basement of the Dutch Reformed Church. In addition to the 35 members who attended there was one guest present.

Discussion took place on a number of new classes being planned by the unit, the first of which will be a class in basketry, under the leadership of Miss Therese Kessel, to begin the first week in April.

Bowling Results

Woodstock, March 11—Peper's Garage won two games out of three bowling Tuesday night in the Saugerties A League. Peper's scored 906-796-770 and American Legion 810-787-814, with handicaps of 28-28-10.

Individual scores for Peper's were: K. Harder 185-142-142; A. Peper 174-136-121; J. Holdridge, Jr. 212-169-178; C. Nicponski 166-161-140; V. Busch 169-189-190. Motor Club Meeting

Woodstock, March 11 — The Woodstock Motor club will meet Sunday, March 14, at the Woodstock Recreation Field, at 7 p. m.

Legion Ladies Meet

Woodstock, March 11 — Two films on Mexico, shown in connection with the Pan-American program of the American Legion Auxiliary, Post 1026, were featured at the meeting of the organization last Monday night at the Legion Hall. A memorial service was held during the meeting for their late member, Mrs. John D. Groves of West Hurley. The group has been collecting material for the Rosary Hill Cancer Hospital. Anyone wishing to contribute old shirts, blankets and sheets is requested to call Mrs. Fennell Franckling, chairman of the cancer committee. Hostesses for the meeting were Miss Florence Peper, Mrs. Clayton Harder. The next meeting will be April 12 at the Legion Hall.

Village Notes

Woodstock, March 11 — Mrs. James Winter and Mrs. Ella Stoloff came to their home here Tuesday to spend the day.

Sgt. and Mrs. Ludwig Baumgarten were here on Saturday from Fort Wadsworth.

Mrs. Vera Kimche is expected to return to this village Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Beer spent the weekend at their home in Byrdcliffe.

Mrs. Leo Herbert, community chairman of the Woodstock Community Council, which met Tuesday night at the school, announced that there will also be an investiture of three girls.

The party will be highlighted by the presentation of an original play by the members of Troop 74, under the direction of Mrs. Theodore Lee. The cast for the play is as follows: Little Girl, Lynne Herbert; Her Mother, Roseanne Stolpinski; Doctor, Sharon DeLisio; Choral Readers, Dawn Effner, Joan Effner, Candy Locke, Ann Russell, Doris Mellin, Elsie Ross, Ellen Ross; Pantomime Actors, Libby Lee, Hannah Barth and Bonnie Wilbur.

It was reported by Mrs. Charles King and Mrs. Donald Jackson, co-chairmen of the Girl Scout cookie sale, which was launched Monday afternoon, that the sale is going exceedingly well. In connection with the sale, the Woodstock Branch of the Bank of Orange County has made available its window for an exhibit which was arranged by Mrs. John Wolven. The models and outfits used in the exhibit were loaned by London's, which is the official Girl Scout equipment center for this area.

Mrs. Herbert also announced the following nominating committee for this council: Mrs. Theodore Lee, chairman, Mrs. Thomas Dendy and Mrs. Robert Gordon. A resolution was passed that the committee for troop organization be formed of officers of the community council plus one leader from each troop.

Mrs. Charles Rapp, who has just completed four years as a board member of the Ulster County Girl Scout Council, reported on the meeting held last Friday in Kingston. She gave a detailed account of the actions taken by the board, the budget presented and the policies scheduled for consideration at the annual meeting. She spoke of the fine work which had been done by Mrs. Gordon Anderson, member of this council, who has served for the past two years as county treasurer.

Announcement was made by Mrs. Rapp that a training program, provided by the county council will be held in Woodstock in April, for the purpose of instructing leaders, assistant leaders and potential leaders. Dates for this important program will be announced later. It was also announced that on May 8, there will be an outdoor basic training program at Camp Wendy.

A report will be made in April by Mrs. Gordon Anderson, who was appointed chairman of the budget committee for this council, on funds to be allotted for programs, organization and training.

The secretary's report was read by Mrs. C. J. Van Rijn and the treasurer's by Mrs. Hans Cohn.

The next meeting of the Girl Scout Community Council will be held at the school on Monday, April 5, at 8:30 p. m.

Crafts Sale

Woodstock, March 10 — Each year Crafts Co-operative makes available to its clientele a small selection of "seconds." These items have imperfections of some kind — some slight — some quite noticeable—and are therefore sold at a fraction of the price of the perfect piece. One counter in the shop will be given over to these seconds for 10 days beginning March 15. The ship is still on its winter schedule, open daily, except Wednesday and Sunday, from 1 to 5 p. m.

Health Luncheon

Woodstock, March 10—A spaghetti luncheon for the benefit of the Woodstock Health Nursing Committee, will be held Thursday, March 18, from 12 noon to 1:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Victor Busch in Bearsville. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Busch, Woodstock 9403. Proceeds will go towards the committee's fund to maintain its various projects including the dental clinic for children, the recreation program for girls, and others.

Art on Display

Woodstock, March 10—A water color, titled Woodstock, by Russell F. Rypsam, artist of Bearsville and New York, and also art editor of Quick magazine, is included in the annual exhibition of water colors which opened March 6, at the Salmagundi Club, 47 Fifth avenue, New York. The show will remain on view through March 26.

Mrs. Schoonmaker Resigns as President

Woodstock, March 10 — Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker tended her resignation as president of the Woodstock Township Democratic Club at the regular monthly meeting last Monday night held at her home. The membership accepted her resignation with regret and offered her a vote of thanks for her efforts and interest in the organization.

Mrs. Roland d'Albis, the present vice president, will serve out the unexpired term.

The next meeting will be held April 12, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Funk. All members will be notified of this meeting through the mail and by a chain telephone system. Mrs. d'Albis wishes to urge all those Democrats in the township who haven't joined the club, but who wish to do so, to attend this meeting.

Riding Meeting

Woodstock, March 10 — There will be a special meeting of the Woodstock Riding Club in the basement of the Dutch Reformed Church, Thursday, March 18, at 8 p. m.

Son Born

Woodstock, March 10—Mr. and Mrs. Allan Nissen, of Delhi, are the parents of a son, Terry Nissen, born March 4, weighing nine pounds. Mrs. Nissen is the daughter of Mrs. Dorthy Cantway, formerly of Woodstock.

Meeting in Willow

Woodstock, March 11 — The Southern District convention of the Champlain Conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church will be held in Willow, Friday. Services will be at 10:30 a. m., 1:30 p. m., and 7:30 p. m. The evening speaker will be the Rev. Reginald Hewitt, president of the conference.

Target Practice

Woodstock, March 11 — The members of the Woodstock Rifle and Pistol Club will meet at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium, March 12, at 7 p. m., for an evening of target practice. Members should bring their own weapons and ammunition.

Home Bureau Discusses Plan for New Classes

Woodstock, March 11—A St. Patrick's Day theme and decorations provided a colorful background for the regular monthly meeting of the Woodstock unit of the Home Bureau, Tuesday afternoon in the basement of the Dutch Reformed Church. In addition to the 35 members who attended there was one guest present.

Discussion took place on a number of new classes being planned by the unit, the first of which will be a class in basketry, under the leadership of Miss Therese Kessel, to begin the first week in April.

Bowling Results

Woodstock, March 11—Peper's Garage won two games out of three bowling Tuesday night in the Saugerties A League. Peper's scored 906-796-770 and American Legion 810-787-814, with handicaps of 28-28-10.

Individual scores for Peper's were: K. Harder 185-142-142; A. Peper 174-136-121; J. Holdridge, Jr. 212-169-178; C. Nicponski 166-161-140; V. Busch 169-189-190. Individual scores for American Legion were Swart 158-189; Simmons 172-167-151; Emerick 132-176; Bond 140-128; Dixon 155-139-161; Farrell 183-167-127.

Motor Club Meeting

Woodstock, March 11 — The Woodstock Motor club will meet Sunday, March 14, at the Woodstock Recreation Field, at 7 p. m.

Legion Ladies Meet

Woodstock, March 11 — Two films on Mexico, shown in connection with the Pan-American program of the American Legion Auxiliary, Post 1026, were featured at the meeting of the organization last Monday night at the Legion Hall. A memorial service was held during the meeting for their late member, Mrs. John D. Groves of West Hurley. The group has been collecting material for the Rosary Hill Cancer Hospital. Anyone wishing to contribute old shirts, blankets and sheets is requested to call Mrs. Fennell Franckling, chairman of the cancer committee. Hostesses for the meeting were Miss Florence Peper, Mrs. Clayton Harder. The next meeting will be April 12 at the Legion Hall.

Village Notes

Woodstock, March 11 — Mrs. James Winter and Mrs. Ella Stoloff came to their home here Tuesday to spend the day.

Sgt. and Mrs. Ludwig Baumgarten were here on Saturday from Fort Wadsworth.

Mrs. Vera Kimche is expected to return to this village Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Beer spent the weekend at their home in Byrdcliffe.

Martin Blazy was the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Blazy.

Dr. Laczslo Sima is expected to return to his home here this weekend after three weeks at the Kingston Hospital.

Mrs. William Shirey writes from Fort Sill, Oklahoma, where her husband Major Shirey is now stationed, that she recently watched him lead his battalion in a large artillery military review parade at the post.

The thing to do when your back's against the wall is put your shoulder to the wheel.

Here is a question that all applicants for jobs in the York Fire Department are asked:

"What piece of fire apparatus won't go up a one-way street?"

No applicant has ever answered it correctly.

The answer is: "A fireboat."

Juliette—There's nothing like cheerfulness. I admire anyone who sings at his work.

Ralph—How you must love a mosquito!

Mother Nature does it better. A bird doesn't need a parachute, and he can land on a barbed wire fence in a high wind.

Wife—Mrs. Rasp invited us to her musicale, and I think we ought to do something to reciprocate.

Husband—You mean retaliate, don't you?

A party of young men were camping, and to avert annoying questions they made it a rule that the one who asked a question that he could not answer himself had to do the cooking.

One evening, while setting around the fire, one of the boys asked:

One boy—Why is it that a ground-squirrel never leaves any dirt at the mouth of its burrow?

They all guessed and missed. So he was asked to answer it himself.

One boy—Why because it always begins to dig at the other end of the hole.

Other boy—But how does it get to the other end of the hole?

One boy — Well, that's your question.

Thomas J. Curran, Secretary of New York State and Republican leader of New York county, arrives to testify at his own request before the Moreland Act Commission in New York, March 10. Curran told the commission which is investigating harness racing tracks in the state, that he netted only $2,000 of the $10,000 received by his law firm in 1949 in connection with the acquisition by harness track interests of Yonkers Raceway. Jones and Kelly Welcome Trials on Polio in County

Addison Jones, campaign director of the 1954 March of Dimes, and Attorney William A. Kelly, chairman of Ulster County Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said today that the selection of Ulster county as a polio vaccine trial area marked the culmination of "everything we have been striving for in our 16-year fight against this disease."

"Dr. Hargrave's announcement," they said, "means that our school children will have the opportunity to help establish the validity of a trial vaccine which we hope will provide the long-sought control of infantile paralysis. It also means that the citizens of our community, as volunteers, can assst in many ways, as plans for the trials progress."

To Complete Details

Plans are under way for recruitment of volunteers through the local chapter, said Jones, but the full details are not available at this time. National Foundation officials will meet soon with state and local health officers to settle details of local organization. Until the final plan is drawn, precise duties for volunteers cannot be outlined, he added.

Work on the vaccine test will be added to the Chapter's regular services of patient aid and public education, according to Attorney Kelly, chapter chairman.

"This will mean increased work but of the sort we have been looking forward to for years," he declared.

Hopeful New Front

"The Polio Prevention Program, of which the vaccine trials are a part, is a dramatic and hopeful new front in the National Foundation's dynamic program. We must continue to pay for hospitalization, treatment, nursing care, physical therapy, iron lungs, braces and other indispensables for the stricken as long as they are needed. But the goal of polio prevention is our inspiration.

"We, who have worked so closely with those damaged by polio, pray fervently that the vaccine trials in our area will help open the road to polio protection for all mankind."

Sisterhood Announces Annual Service to Be At Temple Emanuel

The Sisterhood of Temple Emanuel will hold its annual service Friday evening at 7:45 p. m. in the Temple. This date has been chosen to commemorate the birthday of the late Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, in recognition of his great leadership.

Mrs. Leone Gross, president, will deliver the message, Why Sisterhood. The following members will participate in the service: Mmes. Herbert I. Bloom, Arthur B. Ewig, Harry Gold, Warren Goldman, Harry S. Jacobs, Richard Kalish, Bernhardt Kramer, Julian Lohre, Sam N. Mann, Alfred D. Ronder, and Daniel Weisberg and Miss Rhoda Mollott.

After the service, refreshments will be served in the social hall by Mrs. Nathan Friedman and Mrs. Julian Lohre, hospitality chairman.

Ladies' Auxiliary Ulster Hose Company No. 5 is holding a card party Friday at 8 p. m. at the firehouse, Albany avenue extension. There will be refreshments available.

State Charities Aid Association Secretary Addresses Meeting

At the meeting held Friday, March 5 at the home of Mrs. Gifford Beal in Flatbush, Miss Helen Kerr, executive secretary of State Charities Aid Association, spoke on the founding of the organization.

Miss Kerr stated that it is a voluntary organization supported entirely by private funds. The name stems from the fact that it was organized 82 years ago by Miss Louisa Lee Schuyler as a group of distinguished citizens to aid the State Board of Charities, a forerunner of our State Department of Social Welfare, hence the name State Charities Aid.

The organization is dedicated that welfare depends upon the people taking an energetic interest in their government. It will continue to be a pioneer in demonstrating specifically how social and physical ills may be prevented, and seeking out causes of distress as well as ways of relieving distress.

The SCAA reaches its objectives by way of organized state and local citizens' groups concerned with health and welfare. This structure brings the broadest perspectives and resources to bear upon the problems requiring concern, concluded Miss Kerr.

Mrs. Albert Milliken was appointed chairman of the Foster parents Committee, at the business portion of the meeting. Mrs. Jerome Hurd, it was announced, is now making plans for open meetings for discussing problems of old age.

The next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. Everett Fessenden on Friday, April 2.

Spring Parade of Fashions Presented by Women's Club

Daytime and Evening Fashions Featured in Showing

three strand cultured pearl collar with a diamond and platinum clasp, and diamond earrings, designed by Marianne Ostier, from Safford and Scudder.

Stunning Jewelry Designs

Throughout the showing, the models returned to allow a better view of the exquisite jewels from Ostier, including a platinum and diamond necklace, clips, earrings and bracelets, shown by Mrs. Sylvia Leventhal, emeralds set in gold for dress clips, and earclips and pin of corals and diamonds, shown by Mrs. Vincent Connelly. To safeguard the precious stones in these and other stunning designs in jewelry, plainclothesmen were among the more than 600 persons viewing the show.

To complete the luxury picture, furs from Leventhal were shown, featuring a brief jacket with raglan sleeves in pastel mink, starlight mink stoles, blue Norweigan fox triple tiered stole and one of jewel blue with depth in the sweep of the back. A bolero of Persian lamb with Alaskan seal trim was shown, and Mrs. Leventhal modeled a fingertip length jacket of natural mink with a large shawl collar. A full length coat of natural silver mink completed the showing of furs, worn by Mrs. Pat Pierson.

The Bride's Shop of Hurley avenue, presented a wedding scene featuring Margaret Danford, as maid of honor, in a ballerina length gown of yellow, along fitted lines with a fichu neckline. The bride, Miss Elizabeth Ann Bruck, wore a gown of rose-white lace and nylon tulle, V-neckline, and a full skirt paneled in lace. Rosendale Florist supplied the bouquets for the showing.

Small Hats Popular

Special mention must be made of the Teresa Rose Shop which completed the fashion picture with hats appropriate to each costume shown. White straw and navy trimmed with red are again popular, and the small hat seems destined to be with the fashion story for some time. Adler's Shop, which showed delicate party dresses and washable play dresses for youngsters, topped the tiny tots with flowered hats and bandeaus, a grown-up touch for the young Misses.

Mrs. William Ochs, president of the Women's Club, welcomed everyone to the well-decorated rooms of the showing. Mrs. Parker Brinnier, chairman of the fashion show for the 11th consecutive year, was introduced to the audience following the showing. Mrs. Mary Becker acted as her assistant. Committee chairman were named, including Mrs. Vincent Connelly; Mrs. Carlyn Gross, decorations; Mrs. Clarence Dumm, publicity; and Mrs. Richard Holbrook, Mrs. Richard Morse and Mrs. Ralph Harper, tickets.

James Sweeney provided organ music as a background to this 18th annual fashion parade which vied with New York in fashions and smoothness of presenting each design.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. John L. MacKinnon of 181 North Manor avenue have returned from a vacation in Arizona and California.

Helen Davenport Models Original Design in Show

Mrs. George Davenport modeled a dress of black and yellow batik from Africa of her original design. With it she carried a large black straw hat from Italy, which takes to travel well, bouncing back into its original shape after packing. Both the fabric and the hat were brought back by Mrs. Davenport from her recent Caribbean cruise.

Princess Silhouette, Cottons for Evening Featured in Showing

The fashion forecast for spring, as seen in the Spring Parade of Fashions sponsored by the Women's Club of the YWCA at the Governor Clinton Hotel last night, features the figure-flattering princess silhouette in cottons and silks, for daytime and cocktail wear; and full skirts vying with the sheath line to suit every taste and figure. The new material, pellon, turned up as a lining for full skirts and coats, said Mrs. George Davenport, as commentator, doing away with underskirts and conventional linings.

Fabrics in the news included pure wools for coats and suits, and coats of nylon that are guaranteed washable. Summer favorites, linen and the rayon mixtures, appeared as casual dresses, suits, and jackets over silk.

The scoop neckline and short sleeve assure maximum comfort in summer dresses, or for a change, on cooler days, higher necklines but with the same sleeveles effect.

To be more specific, a fad that's rapidly spread is that of the shirt-tail dress, shown in two models by the Barbizon Shop, worn by Mrs. Eve Wulff and Miss Dolores Misove. Mrs. George Rifenbary and her daughter, Debbie, showed mother-daughter dresses, from Adler's, in the princess style, in blue and white print with attractive yellow trim.

Modified Suit Lines

Suits have modified lines this year, as shown by the grey slim-skirted suit from Regina's, modeled by Mrs. Rifenbary. Navy blue for a slim flared skirt and white in a boucle jacket, suit combination, was attractive from the Town Shoppe, shown by Mrs. Lillian Schechter. Suits for the younger set from London's featured a box jocket fitted over a slim skirt, and a very brief jacketed cadet blue suit, again with a straight skirt.

Laura DeCicco, modeling for Helen Davenport, wore a becoming suit along traditional lines in grey flannel. Her white imported straw hat featured a complexion shade veil, replacing the black or white veils of last year.

Coats are in enticing shrimp and pink or pale blue for a bright spring picture. Fullness was shown in all, with pure wool a favorite fabric. Mrs. Jean Baer showed a Helen Davenport model in pure silk, coachman style, for an elegant coat which could be worn as a coat-dress on occasion. Mrs. Vincent Connelly showed a loose-fitting coat of wool jersey, a wearable fabric, in two tone grey, pellon lined, from Goldman's Style Shop.

Uupressed Pleats New

Wonderly's, with Mrs. Kay Gilligan modeling, showed a very attractive navy princess-style dress, scoop cut neckline, with a white shrug jacket completing the ensemble. Miss Joan Erena, showing for Junior Deb Shop, wore a blue and white rayon acetate dress with unpressed pleats, rapidly becoming more popular in styling. Miss Jane Argulewitz, for the Cricket Shop, showed a gingham dress with white inserts at the neckline, as worn by Rosemary Clooney in the film, Red Garters.

The tunic effect cropped up in a black model with white trim, peplum-skirted sheath dress, worn by Miss Arlene Margolis for Gertrude Weyte.

Cocktail dresses and formals will be interchangeable this year with only an accessory switch, is the good news from the second half of the showing last night. Egyptian cotton was used in many for both cocktail and formal wear, with full skirts in nearly every model shown. A silk organza in midnight blue with a tiny jacket, worn by Mrs. Pat Pierson for Rae Barth, was a more traditional evening fabric. With it was worn a

Miss Frances Martin, Cpl. Justin Pearson Married in Saugerties

The wedding of Miss Frances Kathleen Martin, daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. John A. Martin of 351 Main street, Saugerties, and Cpl. Justin W. Pearson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Pearson of Ulster Landing, took place Sunday at 2 p. m. in Trinity Church, Saugerties. The Rev. Peter W. O. Hill pastor of this church officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Marylin Winne, soloist, sang The Lord's Prayer and Oh, Perfect Love. W. W. Smith of Kingston was organist. The church was decorated with pink gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon illusion net over white satin fashioned with a lace bodice with long pointed sleeves, keyhole neckline and boned Peter Pan collar. The net skirt was ballerina length with three bouffant tiers embroidered with lace medallions. Her veil was of antique Chantilly lace and was secured to a cap embroidered with seed pearls. Her bouquet was of white camellias.

Miss Violet Cook, cousin of the bride, of Palenville, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of pale orchid with a full net skirt, ballerina length with a matching lace jacket. A headpiece of purple iris and of nylon net completed her ensemble. She carried a bouquet of jonquils and purple iris.

Miss Patricia Martin, sister of the bride, and Miss Virginia Matregrano of Astoria, L. I., were bridesmaids. They wore gowns of sea foam green illusion net in ballerina length with matching lace jackets. Headpieces of illusion net and deep purple iris completed their ensembles. Their bouquets were of spring flowers, yellow jonquils, and purple iris.

The bride's mother wore a gown of mauve tissue faille and a corsage of spring flowers. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a gown of navy blue crepe and had a corsage of pink camellias.

Robert Pearson, brother of the bridegroom, of Ulster Landing, was best man at the ceremony. Richard and Charles Pearson, brothers of the bridegroom, of Kingston, served as ushers.

A reception was held for the immediate families of the bride and bridegroom at the Cloverleaf Inn, Saugerties. The couple left on a wedding trip to New York city following the reception For traveling, the bride chose a charcoal grey dress, black straw hat, a burnt orange coat and a corsage of white camellias. Upon their return, they will make their home in Chicago, Ill., until Cpl. Pearson is released from army duty.

The bride is a graduate of Saugerties High School and Moran-Spencerian School of Business, and was employed as secretary to Dr. A. W. Harder.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Saugerties High School and received the BFA degree from Syracuse University. Prior to entering the army last February, he was employed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as a map draftsman. He is stationed at Ft. Sheridan, Ill.

Vanderlyn Council Announces Program

Vanderlyn Council, Daughters of America, have announced the musical program which was presented at their 50th anniversary dinner, February 23.

Auto Abandoned After Fence Crash

Woodstock, March 11—Authorities here are attempting to establish the ownership of a black 1941 Mercury automobile that was abandoned sometime Tuesday night after it crashed through a board fence on the Virgil Van Wagonen property at Bearsville.

The license plate had been removed from the vehicle, and the ignition key was found on the ground where it apparently had been dropped by the unknown driver when he removed the plate, according to State Police Corporal Ray Dunn.

The automobile was taken to the Woodstock Garage while the case is under investigation by Cpl. Dunn and Constable Clarence Snyder. VanWagonen estimated damage to his fence at about $50. Police said damage to the automobile apparently was minor.

I NEED CASH BY MARCH 15

You'd think a "Smart" Business Man like Me would Have Enough Cash in the bank at March 15th to pay his Income Tax - - - but not me - - - I don't trust banks — I'd rather have my money tied up in merchandise.

I know a lot of you are in the same embarrassing position, but I believe I am a little better off. I have a lot of merchandise to sell to convert into that "green stuff" - - - I can't understand how I can buy so much and sell so little . . . . a lot of this merchandise is the result of a salesman talking quicker than my thinking - - - a lot is here because I thought it would sell and didn't . . . . Anyway — it's here and it's your good fortune . . . . Take advantage of me . . . I'm not perfect . . . . Most items are below cost . . . . some of the manufacturers specials are at the regular price. . . . . But there are wonderful buys in their own right. . . . . After all I have to make a little money on something to help pay for this ad.

LIP STICKS EVERY SHADE BUT YELLOW

They change the fashion colors on lip sticks so often and fast they always leave you holding the bag. And keepin' up with the new shades is diving me crazy. I know without looking I have every shade, but yellow. Priced at $1.00 but I'll take 35c or 3 for a dollar. One for me, one for you and one for sister Annie. You won't make me mad if you take a handful 'cause I got 132 to sell at this price. You can't fool me much on lip sticks 'cause I've been smeared too often, or you can't fool me much 'cause I'm too ignorant. You buy a new shade and sell out at $1.20. Wire for some more of the same and by the time you get 'em, there's a brand new shade out that everyone is asking for, so it's a vicious circle, as this goes on and on and some of the damdest names, but they're all red, just different shades, purty red, purty cheap and all shades guaranteed Kissable.

KEEN BARGAIN LIMITED SUPPLY

When you tell people you only have a few then your merchandise moves, but I can't lie very good 'cause I got tons of this junk. I have the world's worst razor blades, even though the manufacturer says they are the world's best — and believe it or not some men buy them and like 'em — These blades are not HONED gentlemen, but STRONED, if you know what that means. If you have shaved before you're SHARP enough to know this is a bargain at these cutting low prices. Look STRONED, BE HONED, with the sharpest BARGAIN you ever OWNED, not 5c a blade but 12 for 31c.

GEE, IF I ONLY HAD SOME HAIR!

I've got a terrific batch of Nylon Hair Brushes in stock. Made to sell for $3.50. I sold a few for $1.98 and they're all yours for $1.59. If you had a head of hair like mine, you can buy a brush for every strand of hair.

I DON'T WANT TO GET ALL THE BUSINESS IN TOWN — ALL I WANT TO GET IS YOURS

PLENTY OF ALCOHOL BUT NOT A DROP TO DRINK—

You sure can get drunk by just the thought of all the Alcohol I have in stock — but the only thing you can get from drinking it is sick - - - - I have 70% PURE GRAIN Alcohol that's made for rubbing and is supposed to sell for 39c — you can have all you want for 17c.

POWDER? FACE — BUG — GUN

We got a stock of this stuff. Mostly Talcum and Body Powder. No difference only it makes you carry two items instead of one. Just shows how a guy's slogan, "We have it, we will get it or it isn't made" will get him in dutch.

How any one drug store or any one guy in his right mind could accumulate so many is beyond me. Anyway many of them are nationally advertised. SNEEK in and get a couple 'cause they'll sure make you smell purty when you don't have time to take a bath. Not good as gifts but good for you and priced as low as 2 bits.

SVIRSKY HAS A LOT OF COMPANY

Yes, even manufacturers get overstocked or "under cashed." They have various means of "getting rid" of their merchandise and turning it into cash. Here are a few real live bargains that cosmetic firms are offering: $2.00 G. Gray Blustery Weather Lotion, $1.00 — $1.00 Daggett & Ramsdell Cold Cream 79c—$1.75 Tussy Skin Freshener $1.00 — $1.00 Seaforth Special After Shave Lotion, 2 for $1.00 — $1.00 Peggy Sage Nail Polish, 39c. Values to $5.00—DeVilbies Perfume and Cologne Atomizers, $1.29 — $1.00 H. H. Ayer Custom Cologne, 59c — $5.00 D. Grey Remoldine, $2.50 — $6.00 Helena Rubenstein Estrogenic Hormone Twins, $3.50—$1.00 Tussy Wind and Weather Lotion, 50c.

WHITE OR GREEN???

No, I'm not talking about St. Patrick's Day, but Tooth Paste. I certainly don't know which one to use — Do you??? And the manufacturers don't know which to make - - - which ever you use — I have a manufacturer's special — all great bargains — and if you buy 4 of these combinations I will give you one free - - - you can't miss on this deal - - - 63c Squibb Tooth Paste, 2 for 98c — 45c Listerine Tooth Paste, 2 for 59c — 47c Ammident Tooth Paste, 2 for 59c — 59c Kolynos Tooth Paste, 2 for 69c — 47c Forhand Tooth Paste, 2 for 69c — And now the piece de resistance — if you buy 3 - 63c Tubes of Colgate Tooth Paste I will give you a 27c Tube, Absolutely Free.

OH BABY, . IT'S COLD OUTSIDE

And we have just the thing to keep footsies warm these sub-zero winter nights. Regular $3.50 Electric Heating Pads $2.19. These pads are guaranteed and I only have 7—so only one to a customer.

BOMBS AWAY!

Shaving bombs that is - - - and every manufacturer has one — and we have a million — here's a dandy made to sell for 79c and we are giving them away for 39c.

NO BARGAINS HERE

Please note that we have no bargains on internal or children's remedies. We don't believe you can find cheap medicine for you and your dear ones.

I promise that if any of these internal remedies go bad, I'll throw them away and replace same with fresh merchandise. Nothing will stand in my way to maintain the finest pharmacy in the Hudson Valley for our community.

DO IT IN KINGSTON TRADE IN KINGSTON

Some people we know just seem to radiate with friendship and personality. No one really gets to know cold indifferent people. All Kingston merchants are very much concerned with both types of people, in making them friends, improving their own service and creating a warmer, more friendly attitude. You'd be surprised of all the advantages Kingston merchants offer to shoppers, and the wide selection of merchandise. It's easy to shop in Kingston too, because the stores are closer together. All we merchants want to help you whenever possible to find and satisfy your wants and make Kingston a better shopping area. Your shopping with us means a lot, and helps us have the best and newest when you need it.

Besides you always see your friends, you can ask about the children, who's getting married, who has a new baby, who's doin what to who, and who you can help in time of need.

When you tell people you only have a few then your merchandise moves, but I can't lie very good 'cause I got tons of this junk. I have the world's worst razor blades, even though the manufacturer says they are the world's best — and believe it or not some men buy them and like 'em — These blades are not HONED gentlemen, but STRONED, if you know what that means. If you have shaved before you're SHARP enough to know this is a bargain at these cutting low prices. Look STRONED, BE HONED, with the sharpest BARGAIN you ever OWNED, not 5c a blade but 12 for 31c.

GEE, IF I ONLY HAD SOME HAIR!

I've got a terrific batch of Nylon Hair Brushes in stock. Made to sell for $3.50. I sold a few for $1.98 and they're all yours for $1.59. If you had a head of hair like mine, you can buy a brush for every strand of hair.

I DON'T WANT TO GET ALL THE BUSINESS IN TOWN — ALL I WANT TO GET IS YOURS

PLENTY OF ALCOHOL BUT NOT A DROP TO DRINK—

You sure can get drunk by just the thought of all the Alcohol I have in stock — but the only thing you can get from drinking it is sick - - - - I have 70% PURE GRAIN Alcohol that's made for rubbing and is supposed to sell for 39c — you can have all you want for 17c.

POWDER? FACE — BUG — GUN

We got a stock of this stuff. Mostly Talcum and Body Powder. No difference only it makes you carry two items instead of one. Just shows how a guy's slogan, "We have it, we will get it or it isn't made" will get him in dutch.

How any one drug store or any one guy in his right mind could accumulate so many is beyond me. Anyway many of them are nationally advertised. SNEEK in and get a couple 'cause they'll sure make you smell purty when you don't have time to take a bath. Not good as gifts but good for you and priced as low as 2 bits.

SVIRSKY HAS A LOT OF COMPANY

Yes, even manufacturers get overstocked or "under cashed." They have various means of "getting rid" of their merchandise and turning it into cash. Here are a few real live bargains that cosmetic firms are offering: $2.00 G. Gray Blustery Weather Lotion, $1.00 — $1.00 Daggett & Ramsdell Cold Cream 79c—$1.75 Tussy Skin Freshener $1.00 — $1.00 Seaforth Special After Shave Lotion, 2 for $1.00 — $1.00 Peggy Sage Nail Polish, 39c. Values to $5.00—DeVilbies Perfume and Cologne Atomizers, $1.29 — $1.00 H. H. Ayer Custom Cologne, 59c — $5.00 D. Grey Remoldine, $2.50 — $6.00 Helena Rubenstein Estrogenic Hormone Twins, $3.50—$1.00 Tussy Wind and Weather Lotion, 50c.

WHITE OR GREEN???

No, I'm not talking about St. Patrick's Day, but Tooth Paste. I certainly don't know which one to use — Do you??? And the manufacturers don't know which to make - - - which ever you use — I have a manufacturer's special — all great bargains — and if you buy 4 of these combinations I will give you one free - - - you can't miss on this deal - - - 63c Squibb Tooth Paste, 2 for 98c — 45c Listerine Tooth Paste, 2 for 59c — 47c Ammident Tooth Paste, 2 for 59c — 59c Kolynos Tooth Paste, 2 for 69c — 47c Forhand Tooth Paste, 2 for 69c — And now the piece de resistance — if you buy 3 - 63c Tubes of Colgate Tooth Paste I will give you a 27c Tube, Absolutely Free.

OH BABY, . IT'S COLD OUTSIDE

And we have just the thing to keep footsies warm these sub-zero winter nights. Regular $3.50 Electric Heating Pads $2.19. These pads are guaranteed and I only have 7—so only one to a customer.

BOMBS AWAY!

Shaving bombs that is - - - and every manufacturer has one — and we have a million — here's a dandy made to sell for 79c and we are giving them away for 39c.

NO BARGAINS HERE

Please note that we have no bargains on internal or children's remedies. We don't believe you can find cheap medicine for you and your dear ones.

I promise that if any of these internal remedies go bad, I'll throw them away and replace same with fresh merchandise. Nothing will stand in my way to maintain the finest pharmacy in the Hudson Valley for our community.

Back Cedaraps Win by 79 to 70; to Meet J & E in YMCA Playoff

Winners to Play Off First Round Tie Tuesday Night

Burris High Scorer In 50 Club Defeat

Back Cedaraps turned the trick again at the YMCA last night and defeated 50 Club 79 to 70 to tie J & E Milk Bar for the second round playoff in the "B" Division of the Winter League. Both teams finished the second round with 6 and 1 records.

The score was tied 14-all at the end of the first quarter but Backs moved out in front 40 to 29 at the half time intermission. Backs was never closely pressed after that, playing 50 Club even in the third quarter and being outscored by only two points in the fourth quarter. Jerry Kaplan and Bruce Hinkley with 20 points each were the high scorers for Backs. For the 50 Club, John Burris chipped in with 25 to take game honors and Joe Schneider and Denny Lenahan had 14 each.

Playoff Situation

At the present time the plans for the playoffs are as follows: Back Cedaraps will play off their first round tie with Rapp's Express Tuesday night. Backs will come back and play off their second round tie with J & E Milk Bar. If Backs wins both games, they are the "B" Division champs. If they win only one, the winner of the first round playoffs will meet the winner of the second round playoffs in a best two out of three series.

Jones Is Awarded Split Decision Over Gil Turner

Philadelphia, March 11 (AP)—To paraphrase a popular ditty the whole fight mob's talking about the Jones boys.

Monday night, Ralph (Tiger) Jones kayoed the fifth ranking middleweight, Bobby Dykes. And last night, Bobby Jones, unranked and a decided underdog, licked the fourth ranking middleweight, Gil Turner of Philadelphia.

Bobby, of Oakland, Calif., did such a workmanlike job that the 23-year-old Turner and his manager have decided to forsake the middleweight division and go back to the welterweight class.

Underdog at Start

Jones was a 3-1 underdog when he entered the ring for the nationally televised (CBS) 10 rounder with the flurry punching Turner. But he took command from the outset with a stiff left jab and a combination of rights and lefts in close that befuddled the aggressive Turner.

In fact, Jones, 29-year-old veteran of nine years of professional fighting, beat Turner at his own game, toe to toe machine gun punching. Unlike most of the Turner opponents, Jones refused to give ground in the many furious exchanges. He outfought his younger opponent in this savage give and take.

36th for Jones

The decision was split with the two judges favoring Jones, 5-4-1 and 6-3-1, and the referee, Dave Beloff, voting Turner the winner 5-3-2. The Associated Press carded Jones a 5-4-1 victor. In scoring his 36th victory against 19 defeats and 8 draws, Jones staggered Turner several times and opened a bad cut under his left eye. Jones weigher 155 and Turner 151. Turner has lost five of 47 bouts.

The promoters refused to announce the crowd or the financial figures, probably because they were embarrassed by the meager turnout of some 2,000 fans.

Raschi Gives Up Two Hits in Four Innings During Debut With Cards

Dukes Favored In NIT Action Over Niagara

New York, March 11 (AP)—The National Invitation Tournament takes the center of the stage tonight in college basketball's most important week of the season as the 16 teams remaining in the national collegiate championships await their Friday games.

Semi-finals were on tap in the NIT with top-seeded Duquesne favored over fourth-seeded Niagara and second-seeded Western Kentucky expected to topple third-seeded Holy Cross. The final, and a consolation final for tonight's losers, is scheduled Saturday in New York.

Some of the NCAA entries for the four regional tourney sites—Philadelphia, Iowa City, Stillwater, Okla., and Corvallis, Ore.—and those already on hand got in their final practice licks.

NCAA Lineup

Here's how they'll line up for the NCAA tilts tomorrow night:

At Philadelphia—Navy vs. Cornell and La Salle vs. North Carolina State.

At Iowa City—Penn State vs. Louisiana State and Notre Dame vs. Indiana.

At Stillwater—Bradley vs. Colorado and Rice vs. Oklahoma A & M.

At Corvallis—Southern California vs. Idaho State and Santa Clara vs. Colorado A & M.

The week-long NAIA tournament for smaller schools enters the quarterfinal round with Springfield (Mo.) State, the defending champions, still in the running.

Bevo's Team Upset

Bevo Francis, Rio Grande's sensational scorer, made only 27 points as his team was upset by Southeastern Louisiana 78-65 in a second round game last night.

The NCAA field finally was completed yesterday with the selection of Colorado to represent the Big Seven Conference. The Buffaloes gained a tie with Kansas in the conference race when the Jayhawkers were upset by Missouri, then won the berth on a lucky draw by Conference Commissioner Reaves Peters. Kansas won the NCAA title in 1952, and lost out in the finals to Indiana last year 69-68.

Is Norwich Captain

Northfield, Vt., March 11 (AP)—Edward Meehan, a junior from Syoset, N. Y., last night was elected captain of next year's Norwich University basketball team. The 6-foot, 4-inch center, who quarterbacks the football team and plays first base on the baseball squad, has scored 807 points in three years of basketball play.

Ulster County Saddle Pals Club announced in a press release that the date of its next horse show is Sunday, June 13, at Stone Ridge. In case of bad weather, the show will be held on the 20th.

Ex-Yankee Sees More Work in '54

(By The Associated Press)

Chalk one up for Vic Raschi—and the St. Louis Cardinals, too.

"I think I can help them a lot," Raschi repeatedly has said since the Redbirds purchased him from the New York Yankees in a surprise deal last month.

Yesterday, Vic showed he wasn't kidding. Making his debut for the National Leaguers, the 35-year-old righthander limited the Chicago White Sox to two hits in the four innings he worked as the Cardinals eked out a 7-5 victory.

Using his fast ball sparingly, but effectively mixing up curves and changes of pace, Raschi yielded a home run to Eddie Stewart and a double to Bob Boyd in the first inning, then held the Chisox hitless in the next three frames.

Vic is Confident

"I'm myself again for the first time in four years," he said afterwards. "I believe I can work more often than I did last season."

Because Raschi needed four and sometimes five days rest between starts in 1953, many observers felt that the Cardinals paid too much (reportedly $80,000) for a "once a week" pitcher.

Plagued by an ailing knee, Vic won only 13 games for the Yankees last year after compiling 16 victories in 1952 and 21 in '51.

The Cardinals combined one hit, four walks and two stolen bases to score three runs in the eighth inning for their second straight win over Chicago. Virgil Trucks, the Sox' 20-game winner last season, gave up one hit in three frames.

Shantz Pounded

Bobby Shantz, another question mark pitcher, also made his spring debut yesterday, but he wasn't as successful as Raschi.

Sidelined most of last season with a sore arm, the pint-sized Philadelphia Athletics' lefthander gave up three Cincinnati runs in three innings. Philadelphia won the game 4-3 on a ninth-inning squeeze bunt by rookie Forrest Jacobs.

Pinch-hitter Billy Goodman's single in the seventh drove in two runs as the Boston Red Sox topped the Milwaukee Braves 3-2 for the fourth straight triumph.

Outfielder Jim Fridley hit a ninth inning home run to give the unbeaten Baltimore Orioles a 2-1 decision over the Cleveland Indians.

The Pittsburgh Pirates exploded for five homers as they defeated the Detroit Tigers 8-1. Sid Gordon, Frank Thomas, Jerry Lynch, Jack Shepard and Bob Skinner were the home run hitters.

Roberts Foils Brooks

Shutout until the eighth, the Brooklyn Dodgers scored six times to tie the score then pushed over a run in the 11th to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies 7-6 in a night game. Robin Roberts, the Phillies' big winner, blanked the Brooks for five innings.

Pinch-hitter Lew Berberet's sacrifice fly in the ninth drove in the winning run as the Yankees edged the Washington Senators 4-3. Negro catcher Elston Howard tripled home two of the Yankees three runs in the fourth.

Ralph Kiner hit two home runs, one with the bases loaded, to lead the Chicago Cubs to a 10-7 victory over the New York Giants. Hank Sauer, Randy Jackson, Gene Baker and Luis Marquis also connected for the Cubs.

Paddleball Results

In the Business Men's paddleball tournament Monday night, Bill Sheehan and Gene Persico defeated Jack Ostrander and Al Townsend by 21-10 and 21-7. Persico was subbing for Dr. Saul Goldfarb while Townsend was filling in for Jack Doyle. In the other match, Don Riehl and Steve Nekos reached the finals by defeating Chet Dolson and Ed Coughlin by 21-14 and 21-14.

Knicks Need One To Clinch Crown

(By The Associated Press)

The New York Knickerbockers are within one game of clinching the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division title for the second straight year. The Knicks clinched at least a tie by defeating the Minneapolis Lakers 85-76 last night. It was the first time in 19 games the Knicks have beaten the Lakers in Minneapolis auditorium.

The Knick victory maintained their two and one-half margin over the Syracuse Nationals, who turned back Baltimore 85-77, and increased their lead over the idle Boston Celtics.

Syracuse has three more games to play. The Nats tangle tonight with the Celtics, who have four more left. The Knicks conclude the season by playing a home and home series this weekend with Syracuse.

The Rochester Royals tightened their second-place hold in the Western Division by defeating Milwaukee 84-89 last night while Fort Wayne trounced Philadelphia 88-70.

Connie Simmons with 27 points sparked the Knick scoring.

Surprises Await Bruins Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

Only one point behind fourth-place Boston in their battle for the last playoff berth in the National Hockey League, the New York Rangers will meet the Bruins in the Hub tonight with "some surprises" up their sleeves.

"Yes. I think we're going to show them something new," coach Muzz Patrick said last night after the Rangers had defeated the Chicago Black Hawks 4-2.

"This one against Boston is the big one, of course," he said. "I've been concentrating on improving our power play. I think the Bruins have caught onto it, so we've been working on new patterns. Maybe they won't be able to figure them out so easily."

Roberts Foils Brooks

Shutout until the eighth, the Brooklyn Dodgers scored six times to tie the score then pushed over a run in the 11th to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies 7-6 in a night game. Robin Roberts, the Phillies' big winner, blanked the Brooks for five innings.

Pinch-hitter Lew Berberet's sacrifice fly in the ninth drove in the winning run as the Yankees edged the Washington Senators 4-3. Negro catcher Elston Howard tripled home two of the Yankees three runs in the fourth.

Ralph Kiner hit two home runs, one with the bases loaded, to lead the Chicago Cubs to a 10-7 victory over the New York Giants. Hank Sauer, Randy Jackson, Gene Baker and Luis Marquis also connected for the Cubs.

Paddleball Results

In the Business Men's paddleball tournament Monday night, Bill Sheehan and Gene Persico defeated Jack Ostrander and Al Townsend by 21-10 and 21-7. Persico was subbing for Dr. Saul Goldfarb while Townsend was filling in for Jack Doyle. In the other match, Don Riehl and Steve Nekos reached the finals by defeating Chet Dolson and Ed Coughlin by 21-14 and 21-14.

Knicks Need One To Clinch Crown

(By The Associated Press)

The New York Knickerbockers are within one game of clinching the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division title for the second straight year. The Knicks clinched at least a tie by defeating the Minneapolis Lakers 85-76 last night. It was the first time in 19 games the Knicks have beaten the Lakers in Minneapolis auditorium.

The Knick victory maintained their two and one-half margin over the Syracuse Nationals, who turned back Baltimore 85-77, and increased their lead over the idle Boston Celtics.

Syracuse has three more games to play. The Nats tangle tonight with the Celtics, who have four more left. The Knicks conclude the season by playing a home and home series this weekend with Syracuse.

The Rochester Royals tightened their second-place hold in the Western Division by defeating Milwaukee 84-89 last night while Fort Wayne trounced Philadelphia 88-70.

Connie Simmons with 27 points sparked the Knick scoring.

Surprises Await Bruins Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

Only one point behind fourth-place Boston in their battle for the last playoff berth in the National Hockey League, the New York Rangers will meet the Bruins in the Hub tonight with "some surprises" up their sleeves.

"Yes. I think we're going to show them something new," coach Muzz Patrick said last night after the Rangers had defeated the Chicago Black Hawks 4-2.

"This one against Boston is the big one, of course," he said. "I've been concentrating on improving our power play. I think the Bruins have caught onto it, so we've been working on new patterns. Maybe they won't be able to figure them out so easily."

Davis Shoots 255-648 In Central Rec Major

Bruce Davis, the young member of the recently crowned KBA doubles champions, led Wednesday night's tenpin action with a 648 blast in the Central Rec Major League.

Davis opened with 192 and came back strong with a 255 blast in his midddle game and wound up with 201 to complete the No. 1 triple of the night.

Williams Raps 639

Veteran Ken Williams, anchorman on the Pontiac squad, of which Bruce Davis also is a member, was runnerup to his teammate with a nifty 639 three-timer on sticks of 205-208-226.

Elsewhere last night these were the league-leaders:

John Zeeh rapped 607 in the CYO Holy Name League while John Sweeney and Andy Gilday tied for single honors with 224.

Virginia Cave was a newcomer to the limelight in the Friendship League as she packed a strong 226 solo and 564 series.

George Hoornbeek toppled the maples for 180-166-216 for 562 in the Central Hudson wheel.

M. Esposito's 203 and Helen Sutton with 488 led the Chalet Pioneers.

Faye Horne cracked 194 and Mildred Buddington hit 480 to pace the Pioneer Women's circuit at the Bowlodrome.

With Davis and Williams posting the only two 600s in last night's Central Rec Major League firing, Frank "Boots" Leskie topped the 500 circle with 203-202 for 596.

Harold Broskie fired 226-591; Herb Van Deusen shot 247-590, Randy Kelder 208-201-594 and Vern Van Deusen 213-591.

Rocca Wins Main Bout; Next Mat Card March 18

Plenty of Action Features Program

As more than 1,000 enthusiastic wrestling fans cheered, Antonino Rocca won the feature exhibition at municipal auditorium, Wednesday night, in two straight falls, winding up a card that farely rocked the hall with action.

When the crowd quieted, Dick McCarthy announced another show for Thursday, March 18, featuring Tarzan Kowalski against Sky High Lee, two of wrestling tallest giants.

The first fall in the main event was won by Rocca, the Argentine star, in 12:12. He used a scissors on Don Larsen, good-looking grappler from Hamilton, Ontario, who succumbed to Rocca's strong leg hold after stinging clouts and tosses.

The powerful man from Buenos Aires went on to take the second fall in 7:32 on a spin and slam, with Larsen on the floor unable to move, and complaining of a sprained back.

Weights were Rocca, 228; Larsen, 225.

Christie Wins Semi-Final

Joe Christie, 235, Detroit, won th first fall of the semi-final with a body press and slam at 14:08. Harry Kasaboskie, 222, Ontario, took the second fall in 10 minutes flat with a press and slam. Christie won the third fall in 7:03 with an arm stretch.

In the opening match scheduled for 30 minutes, Sandor Kovacs 224, Quincy, Mass., defeated Harry Lewis, 226, Boston, Mass., in 14:59, using a back-breaker to score the victory.

Officials were Joe Vozdik, Saugerties, referee; John McCarthy and Willie Glickman, Albany, judges; Fred Eisler, timekeeper; Dick McCarthy, announcer.

Murray Raps 643 High; R. Schatzel Hits 623

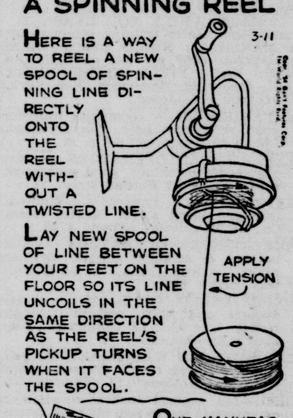
PUTTING LINE ON A SPINNING REEL



Sweeny Wins Opener

Palm Beach, Fla., March 11—Robert Sweeny, former British amateur champion now living in Palm Beach, was the only one of three co-medalists left in the South Florida golf championship today as second round play began. Sweeny was four under par over the 6,000-yard golf club course to win his first round match over George R. Guy of Virginia Beach, Va. He had tied with W. B. Merry, West Palm Beach, and Jack Waddell, Florida State University student from Lake Worth, with 69's in the qualifying round. Both lost first round matches.

Out of Derby Run

Arcadia, Calif., March 11 (AP)—Big hope in the Kentucky Derby, Duke's Lea, won't be in the run for the roses at Churchill Downs, May 1. The promising colt, who came along rapidly this winter at Santa Anita, suffered a quarter crack recently, probably in the running of the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby, and will be on the shelf indefinitely.

Speedy Brave Gets Base

Celtics Win By 73 to 72 In Playoffs

The Celtics broke the Maines Sport Shop myth in the Recreation Junior Division playoffs Wednesday night with a 73 to 72 squeaker victory to go one up in the best two out of three series.

The Celts, led by Bill Fitzgerald, who netted 36 points, were out in front all the way until the last few minutes when some sparkling shots by Frank Turck put the Sportsmen into the lead for the first time in the game.

With a minute and 45 seconds to play, the Celts were down three points but on successive baskets by Fitzgerald and Joe Pino, they went into a one-point lead with 25 seconds left. Pino fouled Clebba Burns who dropped in both shots to give the Sportsmen a one-point margin. With eight seconds left, Fitzgerald was fouled and converted the two shots to give the Celtics the ball game.

Ron Marks and Frank Turck were high for the losers with 21 and 19 respectively. Pino bucketed 16 for the winners.

Rest of Slate Is Picked Wednesday

George "Stooge" Robinson, veteran Kingston bowler who has held various league offices as well as having past experience as a board member, was nominated for president of the Kingston Bowling Association for the 1954-55 season Wednesday night at the KBA Headquarters, 277 Fair street.

Robinson won the nomination over Jack Blinder, present member of the board, by a split 5 to 3 vote. Robinson also is currently serving on the board in the capacity of second vice-president.

Last night's nominating action reflected in a flock of new names to be placed in nomination before the annual board of directors meeting scheduled early in May.

Auchmoody on Committee

Elting "Pop" Auchmoody, longtime treasurer of the KBA, was nominated as one of four executive committeemen. Auchmoody began his service with the KBA board in the 1941-42 season as executive committeeman and then served as third vice-president during the 1944-45 season.

He was elected to the post of KBA treasurer in 1945-46 and served several more years.

Two of the present KBA board members—Hy Arlensky and Dr. Saul Goldfarb—were retained on the board in the posts of first and second vice-presidents respectively.

Other newcomers on the board as nominees are Randy Kelder, veteran Kingston trundler, who was nominated as third vice-president and Bill Lawrence, former Rosendale Kegler, who was named as fourth vice-president. Harry Hines and Tom Orr were named with Bill Murray, present KBA president, to fill out the executive committeemen's posts. Hines defeated Ed Auclair by a 5 to 4 vote. Irwin J. Thomas, incumbent secretary-treasurer, was re-named as a candidate for both jobs.

Former Vice-President

The experience of George Robinson was a paramount factor in his election last night. Several board members who supported his candidacy referred to his vast experience in the bowling field and went on record as believing he was the strongest possible candidate to represent the KBA on the May ticket.

Robinson served as fourth vice-president with Gil Sampson as president in the 1948-49 season. Prior to that time he served three straight years as executive committeeman on the 1944-45, 1945-46 and 1947-48 boards.

The KBA nominee is currently a member of the Ferraro Major League, Central Rec Major and Hudson Valley Bowling Leagues.

The full KBA slate as nominated follows:

President, George Robinson.

First Vice-Preisdent, Hy Arlensky.

Second Vice-President, Dr. Saul Goldfarb.

Third Vice-President, Randy Kelder.

Fourth Vice-President, Bill Lawrence.

Rocca Wins Main Bout; Next Mat Card March 18

Plenty of Action Features Program

As more than 1,000 enthusiastic wrestling fans cheered, Antonino Rocca won the feature exhibition at municipal auditorium, Wednesday night, in two straight falls, winding up a card that farely rocked the hall with action.

When the crowd quieted, Dick McCarthy announced another show for Thursday, March 18, featuring Tarzan Kowalski against Sky High Lee, two of wrestling tallest giants.

The first fall in the main event was won by Rocca, the Argentine star, in 12:12. He used a scissors on Don Larsen, good-looking grappler from Hamilton, Ontario, who succumbed to Rocca's strong leg hold after stinging clouts and tosses.

The powerful man from Buenos Aires went on to take the second fall in 7:32 on a spin and slam, with Larsen on the floor unable to move, and complaining of a sprained back.

Weights were Rocca, 228; Larsen, 225.

Christie Wins Semi-Final

Joe Christie, 235, Detroit, won th first fall of the semi-final with a body press and slam at 14:08. Harry Kasaboskie, 222, Ontario, took the second fall in 10 minutes flat with a press and slam. Christie won the third fall in 7:03 with an arm stretch.

In the opening match scheduled for 30 minutes, Sandor Kovacs 224, Quincy, Mass., defeated Harry Lewis, 226, Boston, Mass., in 14:59, using a back-breaker to score the victory.

Officials were Joe Vozdik, Saugerties, referee; John McCarthy and Willie Glickman, Albany, judges; Fred Eisler, timekeeper; Dick McCarthy, announcer.

Murray Raps 643 High; R. Schatzel Hits 623

A couple of seasoned veterans —Bill Murray, KBA president and Rose Schatzel—led the Monday night keglers this week with 643 and 623 triples.

Murray paced the City Minor League at the Bowlodrome with a string of 233-174-236 for his 643 while Mrs. Schatzel cracked 210-193-220 for 623 in the Women's Major at the Cornell street drives.

Ed Dasher tied Murray's 236 solo for high of the night in the City Minor. Dasher wound up with a hefty 574 series.

Trailing Murray in the top echelon in the CM circuit were Vince Noble with 216-202-606; John Zeeh 207-587; Ed Smedes 203-576; Ed Dasher 236-574; Jake "Scribe" Chichelsky 201-566; Pete Nagy 214-561; Tom Parker 219-557; Joe Dufin 202-552; Dick Whalen 227-552; Pete Fabiano 200-547; Elvin Rose 208-547; Joe Mannello 545; George Brown 202-545; Ray Herrick 214-544; Nick Savino 543.

Also of note were Jack Blinder with 533; Jim Kennedy 533; Mike Levy 533; Ralph Garofalo 212-532; Mannie Colao 532 and John Berardi 531.

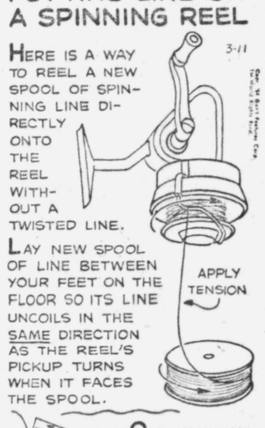
PUTTING LINE ON A SPINNING REEL



Sweeny Wins Opener

Palm Beach, Fla., March 11—Robert Sweeny, former British amateur champion now living in Palm Beach, was the only one of three co-medalists left in the South Florida golf championship today as second round play began. Sweeny was four under par over the 6,008-yard golf club course to win his first round match over George R. Guy of Virginia Beach, Va. He had tied with W. B. Merry, West Palm Beach, and Jack Waddell, Florida State University student from Lake Worth, with 69's in the qualifying round. Both lost first round matches.

Out of Derby Run

Arcadia, Calif., March 11 (AP)—Big hope in the Kentucky Derby, Duke's Lea, won't be in the run for the roses at Churchill Downs, May 1. The promising colt, who came along rapidly this winter at Santa Anita, suffered a quarter crack recently, probably in the running of the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby, and will be on the shelf indefinitely.

Speedy Brave Gets Base

Celtics Win By 73 to 72 In Playoffs

The Celtics broke the Maines Sport Shop myth in the Recreation Junior Division playoffs Wednesday night with a 73 to 72 squeaker victory to go one up in the best two out of three series.

The Celts, led by Bill Fitzgerald, who netted 36 points, were out in front all the way until the last few minutes when some sparkling shots by Frank Turck put the Sportsmen into the lead for the first time in the game.

With a minute and 45 seconds to play, the Celts were down three points but on successive baskets by Fitzgerald and Joe Pino, they went into a one-point lead with 25 seconds left. Pino fouled Clebba Burns who dropped in both shots to give the Sportsmen a one-point margin. With eight seconds left, Fitzgerald was fouled and converted the two shots to give the Celtics the ball game.

Ron Marks and Frank Turck were high for the losers with 21 and 19 respectively. Pino bucketed 16 for the winners.

Rest of Slate Is Picked Wednesday

George "Stooge" Robinson, veteran Kingston bowler who has held various league offices as well as having past experience as a board member, was nominated for president of the Kingston Bowling Association for the 1954-55 season Wednesday night at the KBA Headquarters, 277 Fair street.

Robinson won the nomination over Jack Blinder, present member of the board, by a split 5 to 3 vote. Robinson also is currently serving on the board in the capacity of second vice-president.

Last night's nominating action reflected in a flock of new names to be placed in nomination before the annual board of directors meeting scheduled early in May.

Auchmoody on Committee

Elting "Pop" Auchmoody, longtime treasurer of the KBA, was nominated as one of four executive committeemen. Auchmoody began his service with the KBA board in the 1941-42 season as executive committeeman and then served as third vice-president during the 1944-45 season.

He was elected to the post of KBA treasurer in 1945-46 and served several more years.

Two of the present KBA board members—Hy Arlensky and Dr. Saul Goldfarb—were retained on the board in the posts of first and second vice-presidents respectively.

Other newcomers on the board as nominees are Randy Kelder, veteran Kingston trundler, who was nominated as third vice-president and Bill Lawrence, former Rosendale Kegler, who was named as fourth vice-president. Harry Hines and Tom Orr were named with Bill Murray, present KBA president, to fill out the executive committeemen's posts. Hines defeated Ed Auclair by a 5 to 4 vote. Irwin J. Thomas, incumbent secretary-treasurer, was re-named as a candidate for both jobs.

Former Vice-President

The experience of George Robinson was a paramount factor in his election last night. Several board members who supported his candidacy referred to his vast experience in the bowling field and went on record as believing he was the strongest possible candidate to represent the KBA on the May ticket.

Robinson served as fourth vice-president with Gil Sampson as president in the 1948-49 season. Prior to that time he served three straight years as executive committeeman on the 1944-45, 1945-46 and 1947-48 boards.

The KBA nominee is currently a member of the Ferraro Major League, Central Rec Major and Hudson Valley Bowling Leagues.

Durfing the recent annual city tournament, Robinson was a key worker, assisting with the scheduling of teams.

The full KBA slate as nominated follows:

President, George Robinson.
First Vice-President, Hy Arlensky.
Second Vice-President, Dr. Saul Goldfarb.
Third Vice-President, Randy Kelder.
Fourth Vice-President, Bill Lawrence.
Secretary, Irwin J. Thomas.
Treasurer, Irwin J. Thomas.
Executive committeemen: Bill Murray, Pop Auchmoody, Tom Orr, Harry Hines.

Fair Premiums Greater for This Year at Forsyth

The premium list of award money available to exhibitors at the Ulster County Fair was revised upward at a meeting of the Ulster County Agricultural Society board of directors and department superintendents held at the Farm Bureau office Wednesday night.

Total premium money available—if every class is filled—this year will be nearly $9,000, according to C. C. DuMond, Jr., president. Usually a part of the available premium money goes unclaimed because of insufficient entries in certain classes of competition.

Largest increase for a single department was voted for the 4-H Club department, with the premium list increasing $500 from approximately $4,700 to $5,200. Smaller increases were approved for the Grange and homemaking departments.

This year's county fair will be held at Forsyth Park, Kingston, August 18 and 19.

Longest Covered Span

Old Blenheim bridge, across Schoharie creek, at North Blenheim, N. Y., is said to be the world's longest covered single-span wooden bridge, and is 232 feet long.

Storing Lettuce

When you're storing lettuce in the refrigerator, use a paper towel rather than a cloth bag. Then the leaves won't turn rusty looking.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

In pursuance of an order of Hon. JOHN B. STERLEY, Surrogate of Ulster County, notice is hereby given, according to law, to all persons having claims against James H. Rowe, late of the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, deceased, in testate, to present the same with the vouchers in support thereof, to the undersigned Kingston Trust Company, the Administrator of the estate of said deceased, at 27 Main Street in the said City of Kingston, New York, on or before the 20th day of July, 1954.

Dated January 13, 1954.

STATE OF NEW YORK SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF ULSTER—SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF KINGSTON, Plaintiff, against CHARLES A. KLEM and KATHERINE S. KLEM, his wife, ANGELA ALTIERI, MURRAY H. ZABER and RUTH ZABER, his wife, and MONTGOMERY WARD & CO., INCORPORATED, Defendants.

TO THE ABOVE NAMED DEFENDANTS:

YOU ARE HEREBY SUMMONED to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer, or, if the complaint is not served with this summons, to serve a notice of appearance on the Plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Dated, November 30th, 1953.

TO: MURRAY H. ZABER and RUTH ZABER, his wife:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of the Hon. Harry E. Schirick, a justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, dated 16th day of February, 1954, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster, at the Ulster County Clerk's Office, City of Kingston, Ulster County, New York.

The object of this action is to foreclose a mortgage upon the premises described below, executed to Savings and Loan Association of Kingston by Charles A. Klem and Katherine S. Klem, his wife, dated August 25, 1949, for $7000.00 with interest from August 25, 1949, which mortgage was recorded in the Office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster on the 25th day of August, 1949, in Liber 565 of Mortgages, page 258, and which said mortgage was thereafter assumed by the said Murray H. Zaber and Ruth Zaber, his wife.

The property in question is briefly described as being on the northerly side of the public highway leading from Stone Ridge to Rochester (near Krippiebush) in the Town of Marbletown, Ulster County, New York.

Dated February 16th, 1954.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 11 (AP)—Strength in the railroads today pulled the stock market up to around the best average levels of the past 24 years.

The advance was small and selective, and there were many minus signs scattered throughout the list.

Ahead with the railroads were the utilities and steels. The remainder of the market was narrowly mixed with no selling pressure apparent any place.

Among other higher stocks were New York Central, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, Southern California Edison, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Studebaker, Texas Co., Douglas Aircraft, Pepsi-Cola, and York Corp.

Dittus Awarded First for Lamps

Ronald Dittus was awarded first prize in local eliminations of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation's lamp making contest on Saturday.

Robert Shelightner received second prize and John Robinson, third. Honorable mentions went to Peter Kearney, Richard Dittus and Daniel Callahan. All are Kingston High School students.

Similar eliminations are held in each of the 35 high schools in Central Hudson's territory, and top winners in each school compete for the final grand prize.

Judges for the local elimination contest were Charles Fabiano, Mrs. Joseph Marr and Mrs. Spencer Ennist. More than 30 entries were judged for originality, execution and lighting excellence.

Work was done with the cooperation of the high school's vocational department of which Hubert Hoderath is director and William Oskay the instructor responsible for supervision.

Fair Premiums Greater for This Year at Forsyth

The premium list of award money available to exhibitors at the Ulster County Fair was revised upward at a meeting of the Ulster County Agricultural Society board of directors and department superintendents held at the Farm Bureau office Wednesday night.

Total premium money available—if every class is filled—this year will be nearly $9,000, according to C. C. DuMond, Jr., president. Usually a part of the available premium money goes unclaimed because of insufficient entries in certain classes of competition.

Largest increase for a single department was voted for the 4-H Club department, with the premium list increasing $500 from approximately $4,700 to $5,200. Smaller increases were approved for the Grange and homemaking departments.

This year's county fair will be held at Forsyth Park, Kingston, August 18 and 19.

Longest Covered Span

TO: MURRAY H. ZABER and RUTH ZABER, his wife:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of the Hon. Harry E. Schirick, a justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, dated 16th day of February, 1954, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster, at the Ulster County Clerk's Office, City of Kingston, Ulster County, New York.

The object of this action is to foreclose a mortgage upon the premises described below, executed to Savings and Loan Association of Kingston by Charles A. Klem and Katherine S. Klem, his wife, dated August 25, 1949, for $7000.00 with interest from August 25, 1949, which mortgage was recorded in the Office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster on the 25th day of August, 1949, in Liber 565 of Mortgages, page 258, and which said mortgage was thereafter assumed by the said Murray H. Zaber and Ruth Zaber, his wife.

The property in question is briefly described as being on the northerly side of the public highway leading from Stone Ridge to Rochester (near Krinplebush) in the Town of Marbletown, Ulster County, New York.

Dated February 16th, 1954.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 11 (AP)—Strength in the railroads today pulled the stock market up to around the best average levels of the past 24 years.

The advance was small and selective, and there were many minus signs scattered throughout the list.

Ahead with the railroads were the utilities and steels. The remainder of the market was narrowly mixed with no selling pressure apparent any place.

Among other higher stocks were New York Central, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, Southern California Edison, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Studebaker, Texas Co., Douglas Aircraft, Pepsi-Cola, and York Corp.

Glenn Martin, which advertised for help to staff a new atomic energy unit, opened on a block of 8,000 shares up ⅜ to 20⅞.

Dittus Awarded First for Lamps

Ronald Dittus was awarded first prize in local eliminations of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation's lamp making contest on Saturday.

Robert Shelightner received second prize and John Robinson, third. Honorable mentions went to Peter Kearney, Richard Dittus and Daniel Callahan. All are Kingston High School students.

Similar eliminations are held in each of the 35 high schools in Central Hudson's territory, and top winners in each school compete for the final grand prize.

Judges for the local elimination contest were Charles Fabiano, Mrs. Joseph Marr and Mrs. Spencer Ennist. More than 30 entries were judged for originality, execution and lighting excellence.

Work was done with the cooperation of the high school's vocational department of which Hubert Hoderath is director and William Oskay the instructor responsible for supervision.

BEFORE YOU REROOF YOUR HOME, DO YOU KNOW THE FOLLOWING:
1. Is the firm you are dealing with reliable?
2. Do you know just what you will be getting?
3. Is the money you are going to spend going to stay in town?
4. Are skilled roofers going to do the work?

Just ask yourself the above questions and then come in to see us about your roofing job. We have the material and the men to do the work for you. You just pay for the material and labor, no high salesman's commissions are added to the bill.
